What's new about New Total English?

What makes New Total English different from – and better than – the first edition? Firstly, don't worry – we haven't thrown the baby out with the bathwater! We haven't changed everything. We've listened to what you said you liked about the first edition and have kept the most popular features. You'll certainly recognise the look, the format and some integral features from the first edition: the Lead-in pages, the easy-to-use lessons, the comprehensive Reference and Review and practice sections, the popular video clips. Changing to the new edition won't mean that you have to get to grips with a completely new course.

Real solutions to real needs

Some things are different, however. We've looked at every aspect of the course and tried to find solutions for some of your real needs. We've improved the flow of many of the lessons in the Students' Book, integrating more Can do statements and making sure that they all have clear 'outcomes'. We've also given more space to important aspects of language learning such as vocabulary, writing and listening. There's a free online Vocabulary Trainer with each level to help learners memorise new words and phrases; a complete Writing bank at the back of the Students' Book, covering different text types and writing sub-skills, as well as new semi-authentic listening extracts to help students gain confidence in dealing with features such as redundancy, hesitation and ungrammatical speech. And, as you'd expect with a new edition, we've given the grammar, vocabulary and pronunciation syllabus a complete overhaul as well as updating much of the content.

New digital components

We've also included new digital components in the course package. The ActiveBook component features the Students' Book pages in digital format and includes integrated audio and video as well as interactive exercises for students to do in class or at home. The ActiveTeach component will help you get the most out of the course with its range of interactive whiteboard software tools and MyEnglishLab (Elementary–Upper Intermediate levels) will help students get better results with its range of interactive practice exercises, progress tests and automatic gradebook.

To sum up, we've kept all the best ingredients of the first edition, improved other features and added exciting new digital components to make New Total English an even better package. We hope you and your students will continue to enjoy using it.

Grammar

New Total English places a lot of emphasis on providing learners with the grammar 'building blocks' they need to communicate confidently. It aims to give learners a thorough foundation in grammar and, at the same time, provides plenty of structured and free practice. Each unit deals with grammar in a broadly similar way:

• Clear presentation and analysis

Each lesson has a clear grammar aim which is stated at the top of the page. Lessons are double-page at lower levels and triple-page at Intermediate and above. New language items are presented in context via reading and/or listening texts and grammar rules are then analysed and explained via the Active grammar boxes, which are a key feature of each lesson. New Total English takes a 'guided discovery' approach to grammar and learners are actively invited to think about grammar and work out the rules for themselves.

Active grammar

a/an

a	book	_____	apple
	camera	_____	iPod

Noun plurals

1 Regular

one pen	two pen_____
one passport	two passport_____

2 Nouns ending in -s, -sh, or -ch

one brush	two brush_____
one watch	two watch_____

• Varied, regular practice

Once learners have grasped the important rules, all new language is then practised in a variety of different ways so that learners are able to use the grammar with confidence. Practice activities include form-based exercises designed to help learners manipulate the new structures as well as more meaningful, personalised practice. Additional grammar practice exercises can be found in the Review and practice sections at the end of each unit as well as in the Workbooks and MyEnglishLab (Elementary–Upper Intermediate levels). This component, which features the Workbook exercises in digital format, also provides learners with extra guidance, tips and feedback. The Teacher's Book provides a lot of guidance on how to deal with tricky grammar points. It also contains a Resource Disc with an extensive bank of printable and photocopyable classroom grammar activities which are designed to practise the language in freer, more communicative contexts.

• Easily accessible reference material

In addition to the explanations contained in the Active grammar boxes, there is a Reference section at the end of each unit which provides a summary of the grammar rules as well as extra language notes and examples. Audio recordings of the rules and examples are available on the ActiveBook and ActiveTeach components.

Vocabulary

New Total English recognises the central role that vocabulary plays in successful communication. The emphasis is on providing learners with high-frequency, useful vocabulary which is regularly practised and revised. New vocabulary is presented and practised in a variety of different ways.

• Lead-in pages

Each unit starts with a Lead-in page which provides a springboard into the topic of each unit. Featuring a variety of attractive picture prompts and related exercises, the Lead-in pages are designed to help teachers elicit vocabulary that learners already know as well as pre-teach essential vocabulary for the rest of the unit.

• Topic-based vocabulary

Each unit focuses on useful vocabulary relating to the topic of the lessons as well as vocabulary arising from the listening and reading texts. Items are generally presented in context and practised through a variety of exercises.

Vocabulary | prepositions of place

3 Match the prepositions in the box with the pictures (a–g).

in <input type="checkbox"/>	in front of <input type="checkbox"/>	near <input type="checkbox"/>	next to <input type="checkbox"/>

Additional vocabulary practice is provided in the Review and practice sections of the Students' Book and in the practice exercises in the Workbook. Photocopiable vocabulary activities are also available on the ActiveTeach and on the Resource Disc which accompanies the Teacher's Book.

• Vocabulary pages (Intermediate and above)

At the lower levels there is a lot of emphasis on building learners' knowledge of high-frequency words and phrases as well as common lexical sets. Learners are introduced to collocation work at a very early stage and from Intermediate level onwards, there is a greater emphasis on vocabulary systems and word-building.

• Vocabulary Trainer

Each level of New Total English is accompanied by a Vocabulary Trainer. This unique online learning tool focuses on the key vocabulary in each unit and helps learners memorise new words and phrases.

Speaking

The key aim for most learners is spoken fluency. However, most learners find it difficult to talk about topics which hold no interest for them and many cannot express themselves easily without support. New Total English develops spoken fluency in a number of ways – by giving learners discussion topics they want to talk about; by setting up situations where they are motivated to communicate in order to complete a specific task; by providing clear models and examples of how to structure discourse and by encouraging them, wherever possible, to express their own ideas and opinions.

- Fresh angles on familiar topics

Topics in New Total English have been chosen for their intrinsic interest and relevance. Obscure topics, i.e. those which are only likely to appeal to a minority audience, have been avoided and discussion questions have been deliberately chosen to encourage learners to draw on their own lives and experience. Inevitably, many of the topics have been covered in other ELT coursebooks but wherever possible, we have tried to find a fresh angle on them.

- Structured speaking activities

Many of the lessons in New Total English culminate in a structured final speaking activity in the form of a survey, roleplay etc. Learners are given time to prepare what they are going to say and prompts to help them. The activities often involve pair and group work to maximise learners' opportunities to speak in class. Many of the structured speaking activities are linked to the CEFR Can do statements.

- How to... boxes

There are regular How to... boxes throughout the course which focus on the words and expressions learners need to carry out specific functions, e.g. ordering food in a restaurant.

How to... start and continue a conversation

- | | | |
|---|---|---|
| 1 | Ask a general question
OR make a comment | • Is the food nice?
• How do you know Paul?
• I like your bag. |
| 2 | THEN introduce yourself | • My name is Katashi, by the way. |
| 3 | THEN ask about work or free time | • Where do you work?
• Do you play any sports?
• _____
• _____ |

- Communication pages

Communication pages feature at the end of each unit and engage learners in a variety of problem-solving tasks and activities. These give learners practice in a number of different skills including speaking.

- Photocopiable class activities

The photocopiable activities on the ActiveTeach and on the Resource Disc are also specifically designed to promote speaking practice.

Pronunciation

New Total English pays particular attention to pronunciation, which is integrated into lessons which present new language. The pronunciation syllabus includes word and sentence stress, intonation and connected speech. The Pronunciation bank at the back of the Students' Books provides a summary of all pronunciation points in the book as well as a list of English phonemes, guidance on intonation and weak forms. The ActiveTeach includes audio to accompany the Pronunciation bank. There is additional pronunciation practice in the Workbooks and Workbook Audio CD.

Listening

Listening is one of the most difficult skills to master and New Total English places particular emphasis on developing learners' confidence in this area. Listening texts include short scripted dialogues as well as longer, unscripted semi-authentic listenings. There is additional listening practice in the Workbooks and the video clips on the ActiveBook and ActiveTeach components further enhance learners' confidence in understanding the spoken word.

- Scripted listening activities

Scripted listening activities include short dialogues as well as longer extracts including conversations, interviews and stories. There are lots of simple 'Listen and check your answer' exercises as well as longer, more challenging extracts where learners have to listen for specific information.

- Semi-authentic listening activities

As well as the more traditional scripted listening activities, New Total English also includes a range of semi-authentic listening texts, i.e. recordings of one or more people speaking in an unprepared, unscripted way, although they are aware of the relevant level and therefore have adapted their own language to a certain extent accordingly. Learners benefit from listening to a semi-authentic recording because the spontaneity of spoken English means that it is full of false starts, hesitations, redundancy and 'ungrammatical' sentences. Learners need to be aware of these features and they need to develop confidence in dealing with them in order to cope with listening in the 'real world'.

- Video clips

New Total English provides a video clip to accompany each unit of the Students' Book. The videos feature a range of authentic material from a variety of different sources including short films and clips from TV documentaries and drama. The video clips expose learners to real English and are designed to motivate learners to 'raise their game' in terms of developing their listening skills.

To make the material more accessible to learners, photocopiable activities for each video clip are available on the ActiveTeach and on the Resource Disc. There are additional interactive video exercises on the ActiveBook and ActiveTeach which students can complete in class or at home.

The video clips are available on the ActiveBook which accompanies each Students' Book and on the ActiveTeach. You can select the video clips when you use the discs in your computer, or you can play them in a DVD player.

Reading

Many learners need to be able to read texts in English – for their studies, for work or simply for pleasure – and New Total English recognises that reading is an extremely important skill that can have a beneficial effect on all aspects of language learning including vocabulary, spelling and writing.

New Total English encourages learners to read as much as possible – in most units there are at least two substantial reading texts – and care has been taken to introduce students to as wide a range of text types as possible, from simple forms and advertisements to short texts from newspapers and magazines.

Reading texts are accompanied by a range of activities that are designed to check comprehension as well as develop key reading skills such as reading for gist, reading for specific information, guessing the meaning of words from the context and so on.

• Choice of texts

As with the listening material in New Total English, texts have been chosen for their intrinsic interest as well as for their usefulness in providing a vehicle for the particular grammar and vocabulary points in focus. Many of the texts have been adapted from authentic, real-life sources such as magazines and websites, and where texts have been adapted or graded, every effort has been made to remain faithful to the original text type in terms of content and style.

• Exploitation of texts

Each reading text in New Total English is accompanied by a number of exploitation exercises that have been carefully selected to develop learners' reading skills. Activities include comprehension and vocabulary work as well as practice in dealing with different reading sub-skills such as reading for gist. There are also a number of jigsaw readings where learners work together and share information.

Unit 10 Lesson 3 Exercise 2a

Student B

Giving presents around the world

When to open the present

Chinese people usually say no three times when you give a gift. Then they say yes, but they open the gift in private. In South America people usually open the present immediately. In Morocco people open the gift later. In Hong Kong, people give the gift with two hands.

What to give

In South Korea a person's first birthday and sixtieth birthday

• Length and complexity

The length and complexity of the reading texts in New Total English get more challenging as the course progresses. At lower levels, the texts are very short and the emphasis is on training learners to read for specific information. At higher levels, learners are introduced to a greater range and variety of text types and more emphasis is placed on textual analysis.

Writing

In these days of electronic media, it is easy to forget that writing is not simply speech written down – effective writing has all sorts of conventions that differ from speech and that are necessary to learn in one's own language as well as in a foreign language.

New Total English pays particular attention to the important skill of writing. One of the most important new features of the revised edition is the Writing bank at the back of each Students' Book which contains 10–12 lessons that focus on different types of writing – emails, blogs, formal and informal letters and so on. Each lesson also provides additional advice and guidance on different writing sub-skills such as formality, connotation and paragraph construction.

• Model text types

Each Writing bank lesson has a Can do statement which refers to the written output that students complete at the end of the lesson. The lesson usually starts with a warmer that engages students in the topic. Learners then go on to focus on a model of the text type and in most cases, there is some comprehension work to ensure that students are familiar with the content before they start working on the format and related sub-skills. The lesson always finishes with a contextualised written output.

• Writing sub-skills

One of the most important aspects of the Writing bank is that it examines the sub-skills of writing in detail. This is important as it helps learners to build on and develop their writing skills, rather than simply providing practice in writing. Among the sub-skills covered are punctuation, grammatical cohesion, paragraphing and features such as varying the vocabulary used to both enhance interest and ensure lexical cohesion.

• How to... boxes

How to... boxes are a particular feature of the Writing bank. They usually focus on a particular sub-skill of writing and in some cases on written conventions, such as email or letter layout, appropriate formality of language for the text type or order of presentation of the content (such as in a review).

How to... use common email phrases

To start an email	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> How are things? I hope you're well.
To invite a friend to do something	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Are you free next/on Saturday? Why don't we [hire a car]? Let's go [to the beach].
End an email	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Let me know. Love, All the best,

Learner training

New Total English places a strong emphasis on learner training and good study habits are encouraged and developed via the Lifelong learning boxes which are featured in many lessons. The Lifelong learning boxes provide useful tips and suggestions on how to continue learning outside the classroom.

Revision and testing

There are plenty of opportunities for revision in New Total English and language is constantly recycled throughout the course. At the end of every unit, there are special Review and practice pages which take the form of mini-progress checks, enabling learners to identify areas where they might need further practice. Interactive versions of the activities on these pages are available on the ActiveBook and ActiveTeach. The Workbook and accompanying Audio CD provide further practice in grammar, vocabulary and skills covered in the corresponding Students' Book. The Workbook is available in with key and without key versions.

For learners at Elementary to Upper Intermediate levels who are really serious about making rapid progress in English, MyEnglishLab provides the perfect solution. This exciting component features the Workbook exercises in digital format as well as tips and feedback on common errors.

Regular progress and achievement tests are provided on the ActiveTeach, Resource Disc and MyEnglishLab. MyEnglishLab also includes automatic marking and a gradebook.

New Total English and exams

The table below shows how the different levels of New Total English relate to the University of Cambridge ESOL main suite examinations in terms of the language taught and the topics covered.

Starter	Builds foundation for KET
Elementary	Useful for KET
Pre-Intermediate	Useful for PET
Intermediate	Useful for FCE
Upper Intermediate	Useful for FCE
Advanced	Useful for CAE

While New Total English is not an examination preparation course, a student who has, for example, completed the Upper Intermediate level would have sufficient language to attempt the Cambridge ESOL FCE (First Certificate in English) examination. Many of the exercises in the New Total English Students' Books and other components are similar in format to those found in the Cambridge ESOL main suite examinations, but specific training is required for all EFL examinations and we would strongly recommend this.

New Total English and the CEFR

New Total English is correlated to the CEFR (Common European Framework of Reference). Please see the New Total English website:

www.pearsonELT.com/newtotalenglish for details of CEFR Can do statements for each level of the course.

Classroom language

In this lesson, Ss practise key classroom language that they will need throughout the course. This will help them feel more comfortable in their learning environment.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Before the class starts, write Welcome to the English course on the board or prepare an OHT. Greet the Ss by saying Good morning/afternoon/evening, and introduce yourself by saying Hello, I'm... Arrange the class in a U-shape so that everyone can see each other and walk round the class introducing yourself to each student. They might just give their names, or even reply Hello, I'm... Ss then introduce themselves to each other in a mingling activity. Some false beginner Ss may want to say more. Encourage this but do not correct mistakes. At this stage, use your full name (first and last name). Check pronunciation and intonation right from the start of the course, as it is very difficult for Ss to un-learn mistakes later. You can correct Ss' mistakes at the end.

1 ► 1.01 Focus Ss' attention on the nine pictures. Play recording 1.01. After each word, Ss repeat; first as a class and then individually.

► Read out one of the words and mime it. Then ask individual Ss to mime each word to show that they have understood the meaning. If Ss are all of the same nationality, you could ask for the translation of each word.

2 ► 1.02 Play recording 1.02. After each phrase, Ss repeat; first as a class and then individually. Play the recording again and ask Ss to identify any phrases that contain the words from ex. 1 (e.g. 4 goes with the bottom right picture).

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Elicit any responses Ss they might know to the phrases. If they cannot think of any, put one for each question on the board and ask Ss to match them, e.g. 1 – Of course; 2 – Hello; 3 – OK I'll repeat it; 4 – Complete means finish; 5 – Of course; 6 – The answer is X. Ss can then say and respond to the phrases in pairs.

► At the end of the lesson, teach Goodbye, See you next week/lesson by going round the class and addressing each student directly: Goodbye, Toni. See you next week/lesson. Ss will be impressed if you remember all their names!

Lead-in

OPTIONAL WARMER

Ask Ss to say Hello, I'm... which they learnt in the last lesson. Check that Ss remember the name of their colleagues in the class. With strong Ss you can teach He's.../She's.... Elicit any phrases that Ss remember from the previous lesson. Ss then look at page 8 and check. Elicit responses to the phrases.

1a ► Ss read the words and tick the words they know. Give Ss about two minutes for this. Ss then check their answers in pairs.

b ►  1.03 Play recording 1.03. After each word, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. Make sure Ss understand why parts of the words are underlined (to indicate word stress).

2 ► Focus Ss' attention on the photos. Model the task with a student in the class, e.g. point at the computer and elicit the word. Put Ss in pairs (A and B). A points at the pictures and B says the words.

Check the answers with the whole class and write any new words that are not in the box on the board. Ask Ss to discuss the photos with a partner and decide where they are or what they represent. Get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

- A Internet
- B bus
- C taxi, coffee
- D restaurant, telephone

3 ► Check that Ss understand the categories in the table. Ss first work individually to add words to the table. Ss compare their lists with a partner. Encourage them to use the classroom language from page 8 and learn all the words that their partners know. Draw the table on the board and then ask Ss to come up and write words in the table. Then check the meaning and pronunciation of the words with the whole class.

Suggested Answers

Places – house, school, station
Food – hamburger, toast, cake
Sport – swimming, volleyball, basketball
Other – teacher, book, car

EXTEND THE LEAD-IN

Ss mime or give the meanings of the words in the table and the rest of the class have to guess the answer.

1.1 Nice to meet you!

Speaking

In this lesson, Ss learn how to greet each other, use to be: I and you and practise the /aɪ/ sound and numbers 0–10.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Write Hi. I'm X on the board. Ss should know this by now. Elicit other ways of greeting people.

1a ►  1.04 Ss look at the pictures. Ask them if they know where the photos are from (Ss should be able to say party, doctor/hospital, hotel).

Play recording 1.04. Ss listen and read. Read out some important phrases from each dialogue and elicit which picture the phrases go with, e.g. 1: I'm Kate, 2: Hello Mr Smith, 3: Welcome to Hotel Panorama.

b ► Play the recording again. After each dialogue, get Ss to repeat them, first as a class and then individually.

2 ► Ask Ss to practise the three dialogues in pairs. Go round the class monitoring their dialogues, taking note of any errors for discussion in the class feedback.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Write some different locations on the board, e.g. street, house, restaurant, hospital, business meeting, sports centre. Choose two Ss and give them a location. The pair then acts out the most suitable dialogue from ex. 1, making any necessary changes. Alternatively, Ss can do this in pairs before doing it in front of the class.

3 ► Model the two phrases: I'm... and My name's.... Then, go round the whole class, allowing all of the Ss to say the phrases. Elicit any corrections from the class.

Pronunciation | /aɪ/

4a ►  1.05 Play recording 1.05. After each word, Ss repeat, first as a whole class and then individually. Write /aɪ/ on the board and get Ss to repeat the sound. Then elicit the words in the task again, without playing the recording.

b ►  1.06 Play recording 1.06 and get Ss to repeat each phrase, first as a class and then individually.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Elicit more words Ss may know with the /aɪ/ sound, e.g. ice-cream, five, size, buy, guy etc.

Grammar | to be: I and you

5 ▶ Focus Ss' attention on the dialogues on page 10. Ask them to find all examples of I and you. Then tell Ss to work individually to complete the sentences in the Active grammar box. Ss then check their answers in pairs. Check the answers with the whole class and write them on the board.

Active grammar

I'm = I am

You're = you are

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Say: I'm (your name). Choose a student and say: You're (student's name). Then ask Ss to do the same thing with themselves and a partner. Continue until all Ss have made both sentences.

6a ▶ Ss work individually to complete the activity. They then check their answers with a partner by practising the dialogues. When checking as a whole class, choose pairs to practise the dialogues.

Answers

- 1 I'm, I'm
- 2 I'm, You're

b ▶ Elicit from the whole class where each dialogue takes place (in a café, in a hotel) and elicit any words Ss know from the pictures (e.g. café, motorbike, glass, chair etc).

Ss then work individually to complete the activity. They then check their answers with a partner by practising the dialogues. When checking as a whole class, choose pairs to practise the dialogues.

Answers

- 1 A I'm
B I'm
- 2 B I'm
A You're

Vocabulary | numbers 0–10

7a ▶  1.07 Begin by writing the numbers on the board as on page 11. Ss keep their books closed. Elicit the numbers from Ss but do not confirm any answers. Then, get students to open their books and play recording 1.07. After each number, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually.

Ss close their books. Return to the numbers on the board and randomly pick the numbers for Ss to say. Finally, nominate Ss to come to the board and write the numbers.

b ▶ Model the activity with a student. Then, in pairs, Ss take it in turns to be Student A and Student B.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Get Ss to write down the third number, rather than saying it.

Speaking

8 ▶  1.08 Play recording 1.08 phrase by phrase. At the end of each phrase, elicit possible responses from the Ss. Then, put Ss into pairs to practise the mini-dialogues themselves.

9 ▶ Model the example with a student. Then remodel the example with another student, this time using real names. Then get Ss to mingle round the class, recreating the mini dialogue. Go round the class monitoring as Ss do this, taking note of any errors to check during the feedback session.

1.2 Faces and names

The people in the fashion quiz all work in the fashion industry. In the UK alone, the fashion industry is worth more than 21 billion dollars and covers all types of fashion from haute couture (the most expensive and traditional) to retail fashion, which you see on every High Street. Top fashion houses include Chanel, Yves Saint Laurent, Armani, Valentino, Versace, Ralph Lauren, Calvin Klein, Halston and Christian Dior. The top fashion centres are New York, Hong Kong, London, Paris and Los Angeles.

In this lesson, Ss do a fashion quiz and listen to other people's answers. They learn how to ask where someone is from, look at the grammar of the third person singular form of to be and practise contractions.

OPTIONAL WARMER

This is the best time to use Hangman as the Ss have very little vocabulary that needs to be consolidated. Divide the class into six teams (as few as two Ss per team if necessary). Each team chooses five words from lesson 1 (this can include numbers). Give out paper and pair up the teams so that one team plays against another. Teams then play each other at Hangman by one team writing the blanks to represent the letters of a word and the other team guessing the letters that make up the word. Each time a team gets a word right, they get two points. Each time they get it wrong, they lose a point. At the end, the team with the most points is the winner. Finally, check with the whole class which words were used and confirm their meanings.

Listening

1 ► Put the Ss in pairs and ask them to take it in turns to read out the questions and attempt to answer them. Get feedback from the whole class but do not confirm the answers.

2a ►  1.09 Play recording 1.09 for Ss to check their answers. Then get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

- 1 b, b
- 2 a, a
- 3 a, b

b ►  1.09 Play the recording again and ask Ss how many questions Nora got right.

Answer
5 out of 6

Vocabulary | Countries

3a ►  1.10 Play recording 1.10 and after each country, Ss repeat the name of the country; first as a whole class and then individually.

b ► Put Ss in pairs (A and B). A covers the country words and then points to a flag for B to guess. Ss then swap roles and repeat the activity. Go round the class monitoring as Ss do this, taking note of any errors to go over during feedback.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Instead of Ss saying the name of the country, they could write it down. This would practise spelling as well as pronunciation.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

In pairs, Ss try to think of a famous person for each country. They should have a total of fourteen names. Then put the pairs into groups of four. Each pair reads out their names and the other pair guesses the name of the country they are from. The pair that gets the most right is the winner.

4a ►  1.11 Before listening, read through the How to... box and see if Ss can complete the gaps themselves. Then play recording 1.11 and get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

- 1 the USA
- 2 the USA
- 3 New York

b ►  1.11 Play the recording again. After each phrase, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. You may want to drill the phrases with the whole class.

5 ► Get Ss to mingle round the class, recreating the dialogue. Go round the class monitoring, taking note of any errors to go over during feedback.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Rather than using their own names, Ss may choose one of the famous people they used in the earlier optional activity.

Grammar | to be: he, she and it

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Write the name Giorgio Armani on the board and the question words Who...? and Where...? Elicit Who's he? and Where's he from? and write the questions on the board. Then write Lady Ga-Ga and repeat the activity. Elicit the questions and then write them on the board, explaining that 's = is.

6a ► Ss first read the dialogue and underline 's, is and isn't. They then check their answers in pairs. Get feedback from the whole class.

b ► Ss use the dialogue to complete the Active grammar box with is or isn't. They then check their answers in pairs. Get feedback from the whole class. Then, keeping Ss in pairs, ask Ss to practise the dialogue, using Calvin Klein and Giorgio Armani. Monitor for any errors or mistakes to cover in feedback.

Tell Ss to turn to the Reference on page 17 and look at the box in blue. Ask different Ss to read out each part. You may like to drill some of these. Make sure Ss pay special attention to the difference between full forms and contractions and also the information in the Remember box.

Get Ss to read the information about Wh-questions. Go through this section as a listen and repeat. You can then ask Ss individual questions about themselves, using the model in the Reference.

Active grammar

Is
isn't

7 ► Ss first complete the dialogues individually. Then put Ss into pairs (A and B) and ask them to act out the dialogues to check the answers. Then get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

- 1 c
- 2 b
- 3 c
- 4 b
- 5 b, c
- 6 c

8 ► Model the dialogue with one other student. Then put Ss into pairs to ask and answer questions about other Ss in the class. Go round and monitor and take note of any errors for the feedback session.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

This can be made more fun by Ss receiving slips of paper with the names of famous people and their nationalities on. First, Ss mingle and find out about as many people as possible. Then they get back together in pairs and, using the dialogue, identify as many famous people (and their nationality) as they can.

Pronunciation | contractions

9a ►  1.12 Play recording 1.12 and after each contraction, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. Then repeat the pronoun without the contraction, and elicit the contraction, e.g. I, I'm. You, you're.

b ►  1.13 Play recording 1.13 and after each sentence, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Once 9b is completed, drill the sentences, e.g. I'm from Spain and she's from China... etc.

Speaking

10a ► Put Ss in pairs (A and B). Give Ss two or three minutes to ask each other questions to find out about the people in the pictures.

b ► A turns to page 109 and checks their answers. B turns to page 112 and does the same. Give Ss about a minute to do this. Then get feedback from the whole class.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Ss continue this activity with pictures of other famous people you have or ones that Ss have brought in. Alternatively, this could be the warmer for the following lesson.

1.3 Favourite films

Sholay is an Indian action adventure film made in 1975. It has made more money than any other Indian film. Inception is an American science fiction film made in 2010. It was directed by Christopher Nolan and starred Leonardo Di Caprio. It had 8 Oscar nominations. Amores Perros is a Mexican film made in 2000. It was nominated for the Best Foreign Language Film Oscar. Central Station is a Brazilian film made in 1998. It was nominated for Best Foreign Language Film and Best Actress Oscars.

In this lesson, Ss read about and then talk about famous films, analyse possessive adjectives, learn nationalities and are introduced to syllable stress.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Write the following on the board:

- | | |
|---------------------|--------------------|
| 1 naymgre (Germany) | 7 najap (Japan) |
| 2 latyi (Italy) | 8 zarbli (Brazil) |
| 3 asusri (Russia) | 9 achin (China) |
| 4 naldop (Poland) | 10 naisp (Spain) |
| 5 coxime (Mexico) | 11 efcarn (France) |
| 6 anidi (India) | |

In pairs, Ss unscramble the letters to make the countries and then think of someone from each country. When getting feedback from the class, Ss call out a name and the rest of the class must answer by saying He/she is from...

Reading

1 ► Model the sentence My favourite film is (Avatar). Ss listen and repeat the phrase. Ss then tell each other what their favourite film is in pairs. Get feedback from the whole class.

2a ► Ss read the texts and match the film posters to the people. They then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

Simon = Inception
Hiro = Amores Perros
Flavia = Central Station

b ► Ss individually read through the texts again and complete the table. Check the answers with the whole class.

Answers

	From	Favourite film from
Ashna	India	India
Simon	the UK	the USA
Hiro	Japan	Mexico
Flavia	Brazil	Brazil

Vocabulary | nationalities

3 ► Refer Ss back to the completed table from ex. 2. Say Ashna is... and write India on the board. Elicit the correction from Ss and underline -an at the end. Then do the same for British. Put Ss in pairs to complete the table. Get feedback from the rest of the class. Elicit any other nationalities that Ss might know.

Answers

- 2 Indian
- 3 Mexican
- 4 American
- 5 Spanish
- 6 Japanese

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Refer back to the pictures of famous people on pages 12–13 and elicit statements about their nationality.

Pronunciation | syllable stress

b ►  1.14 Focus Ss' attention on the model. Check they understand the meaning of syllable. Give other words as examples and elicit the number of syllables in each word. Focus back on the examples. Emphasise the underlined syllables as you say them. Check understanding of stress and give other words as examples and elicit the stressed syllables. Ss then listen again for the number of syllables. Get feedback from the whole class and then elicit the stressed syllable in each case.

5 ► Put the Ss in pairs (A and B). A chooses a country and B replies with the nationality. Once completed, Ss then swap roles and repeat the activity. Go round the class monitoring as Ss do this, taking note of any errors to go over during the feedback session.

6 ► Read through the Lifelong learning box with the whole class. Then get Ss to look at the countries in ex. 3 on page 12 and write the countries and nationalities. Check these as a whole class.

Grammar | possessive adjectives: my, your, his and her

7 ► Read through the three example sentences with the whole class. Get Ss to complete the Active Grammar box and then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class. Tell Ss to turn to the Reference on page 17 and look at the Possessive adjectives section. Read out the examples and get Ss to repeat as a whole class and then individually.

Active grammar

he – his you – your she – her

8 ► Ss do the task individually and then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class. Then encourage Ss to make sentences of their own, similar to each of the sentences in the exercise, e.g. Her name is Ela. Her favourite food is cheese.

Answers

- 1 He's, His
- 2 Her, Her
- 3 your, you
- 4 My, My

9 ► Ss first complete the dialogue individually. Then put Ss into pairs (A and B) and ask them to act out the dialogue to check the answers. Then get feedback from the whole class, with Ss playing the parts of A and B.

Answers

- 1 your
- 2 My
- 3 His
- 4 his
- 5 his
- 6 Her

Speaking

10a ► Get Ss to look at the survey on page 116. Give Ss some time to read and answer the questions for themselves.

b ► Model the two questions to check that Ss understand them. Put Ss into groups of three. Get Ss to finish the survey in their groups by asking and answering each other questions. Give Ss about three or four minutes to do this.

Go round the class monitoring, taking note of any errors to go over during feedback.

c ► Ask Ss at random to give feedback on one of the other Ss in their group. Elicit any corrections required from the rest of the class.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Tell the Ss that they have to find out about three more people's answers in the class. Then allow Ss to mingle and tell each other about another person, following the model given. As they mingle, monitor the Ss and take note of any errors for the feedback session. Finally, get feedback from different Ss.

1 Communication

In this lesson, Ss listen to people asking for and giving phone numbers. Ss read and exchange information about people, learn how to say phone numbers and how to ask for repetition.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Play number whispers. Put Ss into two lines of at least four Ss. Give the Ss at the head of the line a piece of paper with a sequence of 6 numbers on it, e.g. 246765. Give them about ten seconds to memorise the numbers and then take it away. Ss then whisper the sequence down the line. The final student then comes to the front and recites the sequence that they were told. Repeat this activity with other numbers. The team that gets the most numbers right are the winners.

1a ► 1.15 Get Ss to look at the numbers given in ex. 1. Elicit the phone numbers from the class. As phone numbers are given in different ways, you may get variations of how this is done. Do not confirm the answers at this stage. Play recording 1.15 and after each phone number, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually.

b ► 1.15 Elicit answers from the whole class for the two questions but do not confirm the answers. Listen to the recording again and then check as a whole class.

Answers

o – 'Oh'
55 – double five

2 ► 1.16 Play recording 1.16. Ss listen and correct the phone numbers and then check the answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class and play the recording again as a final check. Pay special attention to the 'o' and double numbers.

3a ► 1.17 Tell Ss to look at the three photos. Elicit any information that Ss can give about the pictures, e.g. In picture A, there is a boy and a girl. Play recording 1.17. Ss match the pictures to the dialogues. Get feedback from the whole class.

b ► 1.17 Get Ss to write down what they remember of each of the numbers and compare answers with a partner. Don't confirm any answers yet. Play the recording again for Ss to check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class, getting as many Ss to say at least one phone number as possible.

Dialogue 3: 0118 8873374

4a ► 1.18 Give Ss time to read the How to... box dialogue and elicit any possible answers for the blanks. Don't confirm any answers yet. Play recording 1.18. Get Ss to complete the gaps and then get feedback from the whole class. Check the spelling and the meaning of the words.

Answers

1 say
2 repeat

b ► Get Ss to work in pairs (A and B). Ss practise the dialogue, taking it in turns to be A and B.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Using their own phone numbers, Ss mingle round the class exchanging numbers, using the How to... dialogue as a model. If students feel uncomfortable giving their real numbers, they can make up an imaginary number instead. As they do this, go round the classroom monitoring and taking note of any errors for the feedback.

5 ► Put Ss into groups of three (A, B and C). Tell A to turn to page 118, B to turn to page 114 and C to turn to page 116. Give Ss a minute to read the information and think about the questions they are going to ask. Make sure Ss have taken note of the model dialogue below the table on page 16. Ss then question each other and complete their tables. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take notes of any issues for feedback.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Draw the family tree below on the board and read out the following short text. Then elicit the different names of people for the different blanked spaces on the family tree.

This is my family. There are five of us. There is my mother, Anne, and my father, Peter. I have one brother called Dan and a sister called Carol.

Ss then draw their own family trees to look like yours on separate pieces of paper. Check them and make sure Ss keep them for later. Keep your family tree on the board.

1a ► Ss look at the words in the box and tick the words they know. They then compare their results with a partner. Each student can help explain the meaning of any words that their partner doesn't know. Get feedback from the whole class and elicit meanings for all of the words.

b ► 1.19 Play recording 1.19. After each word, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. When the recording has finished, choose Ss to say different words from the list. Elicit why a part of some words is underlined (it shows the syllable stress).

OPTIONAL WARMER EXTENSION

Add more blanks to your family tree.

Then read out the following script and get Ss to fill in the remaining positions.

My grandma is called Rosa and my grandfather is called Ray. I have an aunt called Sarah and an uncle called Sam. My cousin is called Bob. My husband/wife is called Jan. My son is Pat and my daughter is Amanda.

Get feedback from the whole class and then allow Ss to extend their family trees in a similar way. Check their trees and make sure they don't lose them.

2 ► Ss look at the four photos. Ask how many people there are in each photo. Ss then work individually to match the dialogues to the photos. Ss check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class and elicit who each person is in the photo.

Answers

- 1 C
- 2 D
- 3 A
- 4 B

3 ► Check that Ss understand the meaning of male and female. This can be done by asking Ss to tell you how many males/females there are in the class and by asking, e.g. Is Andrzej male or female? Give Ss a few minutes to do the exercise individually and then let them check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

Male	Female	Male or female brother	sister	cousin
boyfriend	aunt	friend
father (dad)	daughter grandfather	girlfriend
(grandpa)	grandmother husband	(grandma)
son	mother
uncle	wife

4 ► Put Ss in pairs. Give them time to write the names of five people from their family. Model the dialogue with one student and then get Ss to swap their lists of names.

Ss then ask questions to find out who the people are. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors or problems for the feedback session. In the feedback session, elicit students' partner's relationships, e.g. Kerem is his brother.

OPTIONAL WARMER EXTENSION

Draw Ss' attention back to your family tree on the board. Elicit from Ss what you said about the family tree. Tell Ss that they will now work in pairs and give the same descriptions of their family trees. Go round the class monitoring as Ss do this, taking notes of any errors for feedback.

2.1 Family parties

Prince William is the Duke of Cambridge and is second in the line of succession to the throne of Great Britain. Harry (or Henry) is third in the line of succession.

Zara Phillips is the daughter of Princess Anne, daughter of Queen Elizabeth II. She does not hold a royal title, but is 13th in the line of succession.

Prince Edward, Earl of Wessex, is the youngest son of Queen Elizabeth II and is 7th in the line of succession. He is married to Sophie, the Countess of Wessex.

Queen Elizabeth II is the royal head of the Commonwealth (16 independent countries) and Great Britain. She has held this position since 1953. She is currently the second longest reigning royal leader in British history.

Prince Charles is the Prince of Wales and the oldest son of Queen Elizabeth II and first in the line of succession.

Princesses Beatrice and Eugenie are the daughters of Prince Andrew (Queen Elizabeth's second son) and are fifth and sixth in the line of succession.

In this lesson, Ss listen to people introducing each other at family parties and look at the plural forms of to be and plural possessive adjectives. Ss also learn the alphabet.

Vocabulary | the alphabet

1a ► Get Ss to work in pairs. Give Ss time to say the vowels. Choose a few Ss randomly to try and say the letters.

b ►  1.20 Play recording 1.20. After each letter, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. When the recording has finished, choose Ss to say the different vowels.

2a ►  1.21 Go round the class, asking each student to read a letter one by one. Don't worry if Ss get the letters wrong at this stage but try and elicit the correct answer from other Ss. Play recording 1.21 for Ss to listen to.

b ►  1.21 Play the recording again. After each letter, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. When the recording has finished, choose Ss to say different letters from the alphabet.

c ► As a class, Ss say the letters with the same colour. Elicit why they are similar (see below). Put Ss in pairs and get them to take it in turns to say the letters of the alphabet in order. Then repeat the activity with the whole class.

3a ► 1.22 Ask Ss to close their books. Play recording 1.22 and then elicit the spelling of the name Billy. Play the recording again while Ss read. Check Ss understand the meaning of double. Write a few double letters on the board and get Ss to say them (e.g. double e, double s). Model the dialogue with a student.

b ► Divide the class into pairs and get Ss to take it in turns to be A and B. Ss practise the dialogue with their own names. Get feedback from the whole class, with Ss spelling their partner's names.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

To give more spelling practice, do a spelling quiz on the key vocabulary from Unit 1 and the lead-in to Unit 2.

Listening

4a ► 1.23 Give Ss a couple of minutes to read the dialogues. Then elicit possible answers for all of the gaps. Play recording 1.23, then ask Ss to fill in the gaps for each dialogue. Randomly choose Ss to play the roles in the dialogue, adding their own answers. Elicit corrections to any wrong answers from the class.

Answers

- 1 Mum
- 2 girlfriend
- 3 Grandma and Grandpa

5a ► Model the dialogue in the How to... box with a student in the class. Put Ss into groups of three (A, B and C). Ss take it in turns to play each role and introduce their friends. As they do this, go round the class monitoring, taking notes of any issues or errors for the feedback session. During feedback, nominate some of the groups to perform for the rest of the class.

b ► In their groups, Ss introduce each other to their partners. During feedback, nominate some of the groups to introduce their partners to the rest of the class.

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Draw a table on the board with three columns. In the first column write I and in the third column write from England. Elicit am and 'm and write it in the second column. Then elicit the next two rows with you and he/she.

6a ► If Ss haven't identified 're, are and aren't in the lead-in activity, write them on the board. Get Ss to underline examples of these verbs in the dialogues and then check with a partner.

Get Feedback from the whole class. Elicit what comes before the verb (or after the verb in questions) in each example.

7a ► Go through the examples in the exercise. Drill them as a whole class and then individually.

Check Ss remember that we reverse the order of the verb and subject in questions. We also don't use contractions in questions and we answer with just subject + verb E.g. Yes, we are. Ss then do the activity individually. Do not check the answers at this stage.

b ► 1.24 Play recording 1.24 so that Ss can check their answers, then get feedback from the whole class. Play the recording again, sentence by sentence. After each sentence, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually.

Write the name of a country you are not from, the name of your country and your city of birth on the board, e.g. Turkey, England, London. Elicit I'm not from (Turkey), I'm from (England), I'm from (London). Then put Ss into pairs. Each student makes the same three sentences about themselves, e.g. I'm not Polish. I'm from Turkey. I'm from Istanbul. Get feedback from the whole class with Ss saying what their partner said, using the third person he/she. If there is more than one student with the same information, elicit the plural forms.

Grammar 2 | possessive adjectives: our, your and their

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Put a possession of yours on the table or in a bag, but make sure all the Ss see what it is. Then encourage every student to put something of theirs on the table or in the bag. Close your eyes, choose a possession and say It's your pen/It's my pen/It's his/her pen. If you are wrong, encourage Ss to correct you. Then continue choosing objects and choosing Ss to answer with the correct phrase. Check Ss know that these are called possessive adjectives. If you are planning to do the next optional activity, keep the possessions on the table.

8 ▶ Refer Ss to the dialogues from ex. 4a. Find my new girlfriend (dialogue 1) and tell Ss to underline it. Elicit the possessive adjective.

Give Ss a minute to find and underline more examples. Ss then check with their partner before filling in the gaps in the Active grammar box. Get feedback from the whole class but do not confirm the answers.

Tell Ss to turn to the Reference on page 27 to confirm their answers. Make sure Ss understand that these possessive adjectives are plural.

Active grammar

9a ▶ Ss work individually to complete the gaps in the dialogues. They then check their answers with a partner by acting out the dialogues. Go round the class monitoring but do not confirm any answers at this stage.

Answers

- 1 your
- 2 our
- 3 their, their
- 4 your

b ▶  1.25 Play recording 1.25 for Ss to check their answers. Then get a pair to act out the dialogues for feedback. If they make mistakes, elicit the correct answers from the rest of the class.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Repeat the activity from the Optional Grammar Lead-in, using two possessions at a time to get plural possessive adjective answers.

Speaking

10 ▶ Put Ss into pairs (A and B). Act out the model dialogue with a student and ask Ss to write down the verbs and the possessive adjectives, e.g. They're. She's their. A then asks questions and B answers.

Move all the As to a different pair and make sure As are all now Bs and Bs are now As. Repeat the activity. During both activities, walk around the class monitoring and take note of any issues or problems for the feedback session.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

For homework, Ss bring in photos of family and friends and prepare to describe them to the rest of the class.

2.2 What's in your bag?

In this lesson, Ss listen, read and speak about personal objects and what people keep in their bag. Ss analyse articles a/an and noun plurals.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Play object hangman with the Ss. Each student thinks of an object they either have or can see. Ss then come to the board and play hangman. When the answer is guessed, Ss should use possessive adjectives to describe it, e.g. (pointing) It is her pen.

Vocabulary | personal objects

b ▶ Ss work individually to match the words with the photos. They then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class.

- L iPod
- M (train) ticket
- N orange(s)
- O watch(es)
- P book(s)

2 ▶ Put Ss in pairs (A and B). A says one of the letters from ex. 1 and B has to say what the object is. Student A makes a note of how many Student B gets right. Ss then swap roles and repeat the activity. The student who gets the most right is the winner.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Student A uses letters A–H to test Student B. Student B tests Student A with letters I–P.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Encourage Ss to come to the board and draw pictures of other objects that might be in a bag. The rest of the class tries to guess what the object is.

Pronunciation | /æ/ and /e/

b ▶ Ss underline and circle the sounds in the sentences individually and then check their answers with a partner. Encourage Ss to say the sentences to each other and to listen for the sounds.

Answers

4 ▶ Read through the Lifelong learning box with the whole class. Check Ss understand. Give Ss two minutes to think of five words with /æ/ in them and five words with /e/ in them.

Ss then work in pairs to compare and check their lists. Then get feedback from the whole class. Divide the board into two columns, one for /æ/ and one for /e/. Ss come up and add their words in the correct column, with the sounds underlined. If there are any words on the board with both sounds, elicit them from the whole class.

Grammar | a/an; noun plurals

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Refer Ss back to the pictures of objects A–P. Ask Ss if they can see more than one of any object. Elicit how many for each, e.g. brush (2), pen (3). Elicit if Ss know how to say more than one pen by writing 1 pen, 2 ... on the board. Check spelling but at this stage do not confirm answers.

5a ▶ Ss read the texts and underline the parts of the text that are different to the photos on page 22. Ss check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class. Then try and elicit the answers with the plurals.

Answers

- Lily: two passports
one business card
- Jeff: two oranges

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Listen and repeat the parts of the text where plurals are mentioned, especially oranges.

b ▶ Ss complete the gaps in the Active grammar box using information from the texts. Get feedback from the whole class, drilling the plural endings. Tell Ss to turn to the Reference on page 27. Elicit from Ss when we use an instead of a (when the word begins with a vowel sound).

Active grammar

6 ▶  1.29 Play recording 1.29 of the two texts from ex. 5. Whenever there is a sentence with the article a, stop the recording and get Ss to repeat as a whole class. At the end of the recording, get individual Ss to make the correct sound for a /ə/.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Ask different Ss to name the objects A–P from page 22, using the correct article in the singular and then in the plural form.

7a ▶ Look at the two examples given with the whole class. Ss then label the other pictures. They check their answers with a partner. Do not confirm the answers yet.

Answers

- 3 an umbrella
- 4 a ticket
- 5 two keys
- 6 two buses
- 7 an orange
- 8 two passports
- 9 three watches

b ▶  1.30 Play recording 1.30 for Ss to check and then repeat after each answer; first as a whole class and then individually.

8 ▶ Ss read the text and identify four mistakes. Ss then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class. Elicit reasons for Ss' answers, e.g. there are two, there is one, etc.

Answers

Speaking

9 ▶ Put Ss into pairs. Tell Ss that they will have one minute to look at some photos and then, together, they will have to try and remember as many objects as possible.

Tell Ss to turn to page 115. After one minute, tell the Ss to close their books. Give them one minute to write down as many of the objects as they can remember. Before doing feedback, tell Ss that you will only accept correct pronunciation and correct use of plurals and articles. Get feedback from the whole class. The pair that remembers the most are the winners.

10a ▶ Ss make a list of what they have in their bag and include something that is NOT in their bag. Help Ss if they are not sure of any words in English. Model the dialogue with a student.

b ▶ Put Ss into pairs (A and B) and give each pair a number. Ss take it in turns to be A and B and guess what isn't in their partner's bag.

Then move the As to another pair, i.e. from Pair 1 to Pair 2 etc. and repeat the task. While Ss are doing this, go round the class monitoring and checking for any errors to cover in the feedback session. When completed, get feedback from the Ss.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Tell Ss they are going on a beach holiday. Get them to make a list of the things in their bag for the next lesson.

2.3 How old is she?

In this lesson, Ss read a text from a social network site and talk about friends. They learn numbers 11–101 and review to be.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Bring in some pictures of rooms, shop windows or any other scenes that have multiple objects in them. Put Ss into pairs and give each student a picture. They must not show the picture to their partner. Ss take it in turns to say what they can see in their pictures, using to be and singular and plural forms, e.g. There are two chairs, there is a clock. Ss take notes of what they hear. Collect all the pictures and then lay them face up on your desk or on the floor. Ss use their notes to identify the picture their partner described.

Reading

1 ► Ss read the text and complete the gaps with the names of the people. Ss check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class. Try and get reasons for the Ss' answers.

Answers

2 ► Elicit the meaning of married. Ss read the text again and answer the questions. They then check their answers with a partner before getting feedback from the whole class. For question 4, some Ss may not know how to say the number. If they are having problems, let them write the answer on the board.

Vocabulary | Numbers 11–101

OPTIONAL LEAD-IN

Start by numbering Ss. Make yourself number 1, then go round the class getting each student to say the next number. Continue until a student doesn't know or gets the number wrong and then start again with that student from 1. Do this as often as you think is necessary to get an idea of what the class knows of numbers 11–101.

3 ►  1.31 Play recording 1.31. After each number, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. When the recording has finished, put Ss in pairs and get them to point at a number for their partner to say.

4a ► In pairs, Ss say the numbers to each other.

Answers

b ►  1.32 Play recording 1.32 for Ss to check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class by making one student the board monitor and other Ss spelling out their answers. The board monitor writes the numbers to check that Ss have taken note of the spelling.

c ► Put Ss into pairs (A and B). B writes down the five numbers that A says, making sure the spelling is correct. A then checks. Ss then swap roles and do the activity again. As Ss do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors for feedback.

Pronunciation | saying numbers

5a ►  1.33 Play recording 1.33. Ss listen and decide which number they hear first. Get feedback from the whole class by doing a vote but do not confirm any answers at this stage.

b ►  1.33 Play the recording again. After each pair of numbers, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. When the recording has finished, check the answers with the whole class and make sure Ss can distinguish between -teen and -ty.

6 ► Give Ss a minute to read the How to... box and then model both the example and the How to... dialogue with a student. Elicit the meaning of secret.

Give Ss two or three minutes to work in pairs and ask as many questions as possible about the ages of members of their family. Get feedback from the whole class, with Ss reporting what their partner said, e.g. His sister is twenty-two.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Ss try and guess (although they may know) the age of other people in their class. You may also bring in pictures of famous people and ask Ss how old these people are.

Grammar | To be: review

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Elicit the meaning of same and different, e.g. I am a boy and Jorge is a boy. We are the same. I am a boy and Marta is a girl. We are different. Make examples using he and she and they. Write your examples on the board. Then elicit similar sentences from Ss.

7 ► Ss read the Active grammar box and complete the gaps. Ss check their answers with a partner before checking their answers with the reference on page 27. Get feedback from the whole class and check that Ss remember the rules about when and when not to use contractions.

Active grammar

8 ► Ss do the activity individually. They then check their answers with a partner by reading out the dialogues, with one student reading A and another student reading B. Go round the class monitoring and then get feedback from the whole class by asking different pairs to read each dialogue.

Speaking

9 ► Put Ss into pairs (A and B). Tell A to turn to page 112 and B to turn to page 117. Give Ss about two minutes to read the information and think about the questions they are going to ask. Ss then ask and answer each other's questions about their photos.

As Ss do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any issues or errors to go over in the feedback session. Get feedback from the whole class with A commenting on B's photos and vice-versa.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Ss prepare a small presentation about a person they know (can be famous or just a friend) with pictures.

2 Communication

In this lesson, Ss listen to people giving personal details, learn how to say email addresses and ask basic questions.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Divide the class into two teams. Give each student a slip of paper. On the paper, Ss should write four details about themselves. They should then order the information from most difficult to identify them by, to the easiest, e.g. My phone number is 01273 69642 will be more difficult to identify a student in the class than I am 26 or I am from Russia. If you think Ss will have difficulty with this, Ss can check with you on the order to use. Collect the slips from the two teams. Then, for each team, read out a slip of paper from the other team, sentence by sentence. Alternatively, you can get different students to read out the slips of paper. After each sentence, ask: Who is it? Give a few seconds to see if the team wishes to answer. If not, go on to the next sentence. If Ss correctly guess the name after one sentence, the team gets 4 points. If they answer incorrectly, they get -4 points. If they answer the second question they can get 3 or -3 points and so on. The team that gets the most points is the winner.

1a ► 1.34 Ask a student to come to the board and write his/her email address. Then get Ss to read it out loud. Do not correct the Ss at this stage. Then play recording 1.34 while Ss read the How to... box. Get Ss to listen and repeat the example in the How to... box as a whole class and then individually.

b ► In pairs, Ss tell each other their email addresses. Then move Ss around so that each student is with a different partner and repeat the activity. You can do this as many times as you like. Then get feedback from the whole class.

2a ► Check the meaning of postcode and spell. Ss complete the questions, then compare their answers with a partner.

4 ► Go through the questions from ex. 2a, practising both as a whole class and then individually.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

You may like to play the recording again and stop after each question before practising. This will allow you to focus more on the intonation of questions.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

As a quick drill, read out answers and get Ss to give you the question that matches it, e.g. John Smith – What is your name?

5a ► Tell Ss to look at the blank registration form and give them a few minutes to prepare their own information to fill in this form. Tell them NOT to fill in the form yet.

b ► Tell Ss that, in pairs, they will now ask questions and fill in the forms for their partners. Ask Ss to make a copy of the blank registration form on page 26. Tell Ss to look at the example and model this with a student.

With weak classes you may like to do this with every question. Ss then ask and answer their questions and fill in the forms. As they do this, go round the class and monitor, taking note of any issues or errors for the feedback session. In class feedback, Ss report information about their partners.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

For the next lesson, Ss fill in a copy of the form for a friend or relative and, at the beginning of the next lesson, go through the procedure in ex. 5b again.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Write the word town on the board and elicit the meaning. Elicit examples of towns. Then draw a house and say 'In a town there are houses and....' Elicit from Ss any other places they may know in a town, e.g. cinema, theatre, café. If you have a strong class, you might like to divide the class into teams to make up lists of places in a town. Then share these with the whole class. You may not be able to elicit meanings of these places at this time but they might be able to mime the places or draw them on the board.

- 1a ► 1.36 Check the meaning of stress. Play recording 1.36 for Ss to underline the stress. Get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

bank bus stop café car park cashpoint chemist cinema clothes shop deli park

- b ► 1.36 Play the recording again and, after each word or phrase, Ss repeat, first as a whole class and then individually.

- 2 ► Draw Ss' attention to the photos and symbols. Do bank (F) as an example by eliciting the answer. Ss then do the activity themselves and check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

 B deli
 C (train) station
 D chemist
 E supermarket
 F bank
 G car park
 H bus stop
 I restaurant
 J cashpoint
 K café
 L cinema
 M clothes shop
 N park
 O petrol station

3 ► Model the activity with a student. Ss then take it in turns to be Student A and Student B. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take notes of any issues for feedback.

EXTEND THE LEAD-IN

Encourage Ss to come up to the board and draw icons for any other places in town. The rest of the class can guess what the icons represent.

4 ► Check the meaning of find. Do not give or elicit the meaning of the other words in the activity. Let Ss attempt the activity themselves. Ss then check their answers with a partner before checking the answers with the whole class. Be prepared to accept some unusual answers (e.g. You can find shoes in a park).

If Ss are unable to answer some of the questions because they don't know the meanings of the words, then try and elicit the meaning. Put Ss in pairs to ask each other the questions, e.g. A: Where can you find cheese? B: In a deli. Go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems for feedback.

Answers

- 2 in a supermarket, restaurant or café

- 4 in a supermarket, restaurant, café, cinema or petrol station
- 5 in a chemist or supermarket
- 6 in a cinema or supermarket
- 7 in a car park or petrol station
- 8 in a shoe shop or supermarket

EXTEND THE LEAD-IN

Elicit other things that can be found in any of the places from ex. 2. Put any new ones on the board, e.g. cheese, petrol, a bus, a dog.

3.1 Café culture

Cairo is the capital city of Egypt and is the largest city in Africa. Seven million people live there. It is famous for the Pyramids.

Bangkok is the capital of Thailand. Nine million people live there. It is famous for the Grand Palace. It is one of the most expensive cities in Asia.

Melbourne is the capital city of the state of Victoria in Australia. It is the second largest city in Australia. Four million people live there.

Turkish coffee is a strong coffee in a small pot. It is made by adding very fine coffee and sugar to water and heating the water, stirring all the time. It is drunk without milk in small cups.

Prawn salad is salad with prawns (red shellfish from the sea) with celery, mayonnaise and lemon juice.

Reading

In this lesson, Ss read about different cafés in different cultures. Ss learn how to use possessive 's with singular and plural nouns, words for different snack and drinks and the pronunciation of the /ɒ/ sound. They also practise how to order food and drink.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Put Ss into pairs. Each pair chooses a place in town to mime. Each pair performs the mime and Ss have to guess where the place is. However, they must answer by saying In an X, you can find Y, e.g. In a deli you can find cheese. Try to finish with the pair who chooses to mime a café and then elicit as many possible things that you can find in a café.

1a ► Look at the photos with the whole class. Elicit what Ss can see in each photo. Get feedback from the whole class on which country each photo is of. Do not confirm the answers yet.

b ► Ss read the texts and check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class.

2a ► Check the meaning of stall, owner and snack. At this stage, do not check the meaning of any other words. Ss fill in the table and then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class. Then check the meaning of sugar, customer, prawn and spicy.

Favourite snack/drink	Turkish coffee	prawn salad and chocolate cake	spicy chicken

b ► Ss work in pairs and take it in turns to talk about one of the cafés. Make sure Ss take note of the structures provided. You may like to drill them first before Ss start doing the activity. As Ss do this, go round the class monitoring and take notes for the feedback session. Then randomly ask Ss to describe the cafés.

c ► Give Ss a few minutes to prepare and help with any vocabulary for their favourite snack/drink. Then put Ss into pairs. Make sure the Ss use the same structures from ex. 2b.

Now move Ss around so that each person is with a different partner and repeat the activity. As Ss share their information, go round the class monitoring and take notes of any problems to discuss in the feedback session. In the feedback sessions, get Ss to tell you what one of their partners said.

Grammar | possessive 's: singular and plural

3a ► Write 's on the board. Tell Ss to look at the text about Al Samadi café and underline any examples of 's and s'. Give Ss some time to do this and then get feedback from the whole class. Write the answers on the board.

Answers

b ► Ss complete the Active grammar box and then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class by getting Ss to read out the information in the grammar box. Do not confirm the answers at this stage.

Tell Ss to turn to the Reference on page 37 and check their answers. Highlight the positioning of the apostrophe in both the singular and plural forms. Also make sure Ss have understood the Remember! note.

4 ► Write Amun is his friend and Amun is Madu's friend on the board. Underline his in the first sentence and Madu's in the second and explain that Amun is the friend of Madu.

Ss do the activity and then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class. For question 7, you can either say nothing or explain that if the plural does not end in s, you put the apostrophe before the s.

- 8 It's the boys' favourite snack.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Collect objects from Ss in the class and put them on the table. Pick up the objects one by one and elicit from Ss, e.g. It's Bea's pen. Then do the same again but get them to write it down. This task highlights the difference between It is and possessive 's.

Vocabulary | snacks and drinks

5 ► 1.37 Tell Ss to look at the pictures and, in pairs, check which ones they already know. Then play recording 1.37 and, after each phrase, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually.

In pairs, Ss then brainstorm any other snacks and drinks they know. Get feedback from the whole class and write the new snacks and drinks on the board. Check the whole class understand the meaning of each item.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Ss take it in turns to come to the board and draw a snack or drink. Ss shout out what they think it is.

6a ► 1.38 Play recording 1.38. Ss check their answers with a partner. Get feedback but do not confirm the answers yet.

b ▶  1.40 Play recording 1.40. Ss check their answers and then get feedback from the whole class. Make sure Ss are aware that the letter doesn't have to be o to have the /ɒ/ sound. You may like to drill the sentences when feedback is completed.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

In pairs, Ss make a list of ten words with the /ɒ/ sound. They then compare their list with another pair. Get feedback from the whole class.

Speaking

9a ▶  1.41 Read through the How to... box and get two Ss to read the dialogue, but do not correct any errors. Then play recording 1.41 and, after each sentence, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually.

If Ss have trouble, you can use backchaining (say the last word in the sentence and get Ss to repeat. Then get them to say the last two words. Build up the sentence, adding an extra word until Ss are saying the whole sentence).

b ▶ Put Ss in pairs (A and B). Make sure books are closed and ask Ss to recreate the dialogue. Go round the class monitoring and take note of any issues for the feedback session. Then choose one or two pairs to do the dialogue in front of the class.

c ▶ Change the pairs. Ss take it in turns to be A and B and recreate the dialogue with different food and drink. Then change the pairs and repeat. Again, walk around the class monitoring and take note of any issues for the feedback session.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

In groups of three, Ss prepare their own café and menu. Then each group visits another group's café and orders their meal. One person from each group is the waiter.

3.2 Sorry, we're closed.

In this lesson, Ss look at shop signs and listen to dialogues about different everyday events. They learn about adjectives and their opposites and the position of adjectives in sentences.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Act out a dialogue similar to the one at the café from the previous lesson. Take the role of the waiter and choose a student to be the customer. After giving them their drink, encourage Ss to ask Is it good? Write good on the board and then write bad on the board. Check they understand the meaning and then encourage Ss to think of other adjectives and put them on board. Encourage Ss to say something with their adjective. Tell Ss that today we are looking at adjectives.

Vocabulary | adjectives

1 ▶ Ss do the activity and then check their answers in pairs. At the start of the feedback session, get Ss to read out the signs before giving their answer. Elicit other possible signs that Ss know, e.g. No entry, Silence please, Sale etc.

b ▶  1.42 Play the recording for Ss to check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class. You may like to drill the adjectives to make sure the pronunciation is correct. Then Ss close their books. Say an adjective and elicit the opposite from individual Ss.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Use the adjectives from ex. 2a to make sentences and elicit the correct opposite adjective, e.g. This dress is (expensive, cheap).

3 ▶ Give Ss a few minutes to find the only three adjectives that have not been used. Get feedback from the whole class and make sure Ss understand they do not have opposites.

Check the meaning of the three adjectives and encourage Ss to think of other signs that would use these adjectives.

Answers
fresh, free, nice

4 ▶ Read through the Lifelong learning box with the Ss. Elicit the opposite of the word hard. Then ask Ss to identify the pronunciation and the example sentence.

Now is a good time to mention that a starter monolingual dictionary is better than a bilingual dictionary as a bilingual dictionary will not give you the same amount of information for every word.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Providing you have enough starter monolingual dictionaries, put Ss into groups and allocate the same number of adjectives from ex. 2a to each group. Ss check if the information is correct. Then get Ss to read out each of the entries. Other Ss have to guess which adjective it is. If you do not have enough dictionaries, you could copy the entries and hand them out to the groups.

Pronunciation | /əʊ/

5a ▶  1.43 Play recording 1.43 while Ss read. Elicit the sound in blue. Give Ss a chance to pronounce the words but do not correct at this stage.

b ▶  1.43 Play the recording again and after each word, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

In pairs, Ss make a list of five words with the sound /əʊ/. They then compare their list with another pair. Get feedback from the whole class.

7a ▶ Make sure Ss understand they should only use adjectives from ex. 2a. Ss complete the activity and then compare their answers. Get feedback from the whole class but do not confirm the answers at this stage.

b ▶  1.45 Play recording 1.45 for Ss to check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class.

8 ▶ Ss practise the dialogues in pairs. Go round the class monitoring and check for any problems to discuss in the feedback session.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Give your Ss the chance, in pairs, to create dialogues similar to those in ex. 7a. They have to include two adjectives. Ss then act them out in front of the class.

Grammar | position of adjectives

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Make sure Ss' books are closed. Write one of the words below on different slips of paper and give one word to each student. Ss mingle and find the other students they need to make a sentence. When all the Ss have come together, elicit the sentences and ask the Ss where the adjective is in the sentence. With smaller classes you can do this more than once or give Ss more than one word.
The shop is closed. It's an expensive car. It's very fast. It's a big sale. The food is very good.

9 ▶ Read the Active grammar box with the whole class. Ss fill in the blanks with examples from ex. 7a. Ss check their answers with a partner and then check the Reference section on page 37. Then get feedback from the rest of the class.

Active grammar

Is this shop open?
I'm Pete's old girlfriend.
And it's very fast.

10 ▶ Ss do the activity individually and then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

3 My iPod is new.
4 The chemist isn't open.
5 Is he Jen's new husband?

11 ▶ Look at the cartoons one by one with the whole class. Elicit what they can see in each cartoon. Tell Ss they are going to write sentences for each cartoon using very and really and the adjective given. Look at the example and check they understand.

Ss complete the activity and then check their answers with a partner. Then get feedback from the whole class. Try and elicit more sentences using different adjectives.

Answers

- 1 b It's a very/really slow car.
- 2 a My hotel is very/really expensive.
b It's a very/really expensive hotel.
- 3 a Is it a very/really good book?
b Is your book really/very good?

Speaking

12a ▶ Ss look at the five objects and choose an adjective to describe them. It might be a good idea to write down these adjectives so you can check spelling. Go round and check Ss answers individually before moving on to the next exercise.

b ▶ Ss work in pairs and describe their objects, using their list of adjectives and the example sentence. Tell Ss to take notes as they will be telling other people later about what they heard. Then change the pairs and do the activity again. While they are doing this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems for the feedback session.

c ▶ Get feedback from the whole class by asking Ss to tell the class about the last person they spoke with. Make sure Ss change the information to match the example, i.e. Instead of saying the flat is big they should say Elena's flat is big. Pay particular attention to the use of possessive 's.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Ss tell each other about places in town using adjectives, e.g. The cinema is very old but very cheap.

3.3 How much is that?

In this lesson, Ss listen to a man and woman buying things and learn about prices. Ss learn how to use this, that, these and those, colours and how to ask for and give prices.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Before the class, cut out or print some pictures of things you could have bought. Try to find pictures that use as many adjectives as possible from ex. 2a in 3.2. In class, tell the Ss that you went shopping last week and bought some things. Show them the pictures and elicit sentences with adjectives that describe what you bought. When completed, keep the pictures as you may use them again later.

Vocabulary | prices

1a ▶ Before starting, you might like to revise numbers. Put up a variety of numbers between 1 and 1,000 on the board and elicit how to say them. Do not confirm any answers at this stage but leave them on the board. Then give Ss some time to complete the activity before checking their answers with a partner. Do not get feedback at this stage.

c ▶  1.46 Play the recording again and after each sentence, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Go back to the numbers that you wrote on the board and convert them into prices. Then elicit the prices from the whole class.

2 ▶  1.47 Play recording 1.47. Ss match what they hear with the prices. Ss check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class. Then make sure Ss understand when to say the currency and when to say the smaller denomination, e.g. seventeen pounds ninety-nine. Play the recording again and get Ss to repeat the prices; first as a whole class and then individually.

3 ► Put Ss into pairs. Each student writes down five prices. Ss take it in turns to read out their prices and their partner writes them down. Ss then check how many they got right and then repeat the activity with the roles reversed. As Ss do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems for discussion in the feedback session.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Ask Ss to use the pictures on the board (from the warmer) and give prices to each one. Ss then, in pairs, read out the prices for their partner to write down. The partner then guesses which object has which price.

Listening

4a ►  1.48 Play recording 1.48. Ss listen and write down what the people buy. Get feedback from the whole class. You should only play the listening again if it is clear that Ss are having difficulties.

Answers

- 1 a blue umbrella
- 2 Three yellow 'Birds of Paradise' flowers and a box of chocolates

b ►  1.48 Play the recording again. Ss listen and write the prices of things. Get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

- 1 a blue umbrella = £6.50
- 2 3 yellow 'Birds of Paradise' flowers = €20, box of chocolates = €4.99.

5a ► Check that Ss understand that the dialogues in the How to... box are about asking for prices and paying for things. Get Ss to act out the dialogues in pairs.

Then give each pair two prices from ex. 2. Ss then redo their dialogues with the new prices they have been given. In each activity, go round the class monitoring and checking for problems for the feedback session.

b ► Tell Ss to close their books. Get Ss to repeat the dialogues from memory. Again, go round the class monitoring and take notes and then, in the feedback session, ask different pairs to reenact the dialogues for the whole class. Alternatively, appoint one student to write the dialogues on the board while the rest of the class dictates the dialogues from memory to the board writer.

Grammar | this, that, these, those

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Put a pile of pens on the table and ask a student to come to the table and show the difference between this and that. Follow this up by asking the student the questions What's this/that? Then ask another student to show the difference between these and those and ask the questions What are these/those? Continue doing this with other objects in the class until you are sure the whole class has understood and can use the words.

6 ► The examples here are taken from the listening in ex. 4a. Ss look at the words in the box and then add them to sentences 1–4. Ss check answers with a partner and then check their answers in the audioscript on page 136. Get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

- 1 umbrella
- 2 that

7a ► Tell Ss to look at the Active grammar box and the pictures. Refer them to the example. Then ask them to complete the three blanks with these, that and those. Ss check their answers with a partner by checking the reference on page 37.

b ►  1.49 Play recording 1.49 for Ss to check their answers. Then get feedback from the whole class. You may also want to drill the sentences. Read through the note carefully and then drill the question form by pointing at the pictures, asking the questions and then eliciting the answers.

Vocabulary | colours

9a ▶  1.50 Play recording 1.50 and, after each colour, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Point at things in the room and ask Ss to tell you the colour of them. At this stage, do not use the question What colour is...? Ask just by pointing.

b ▶ Tell Ss to look at the example and get them to listen and repeat the question. Tell Ss they can also ask the shorter form What colour is this?/What colour is that? You can check this by getting Ss to ask such questions about things in the classroom. Ss then take it in turns to be A and B and ask questions about the two pictures in ex. 4.

Speaking

10a ▶ Put Ss into pairs (A and B). Tell A that they are customers and to read the instructions for A. Tell B they are shop assistants and to read the instructions for B and look at the flower shop on page 113.

Check the Ss understand. Make sure B knows they have to decide on prices before the dialogue begins. Model the dialogue with a student and then tell the pairs to do their dialogues themselves.

b ▶ Ss swap roles. B makes new prices and then repeats the task. As they do both tasks, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems to go over in the feedback session.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Rather than using the flower shop, Ss create a shop of their choice and make up a price list of what they sell. This makes the task more interesting and more challenging.

3 Communication

In this lesson, Ss listen to a short telephone conversation and learn how to have a short phone call with a friend.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Give each student a piece of paper with two telephone numbers on. Tell them that one is their own and one is somebody else's in the class. Ss mingle in the class, go up to another student and 'ring them' as in a phone call. They say Is that and say the number on the paper. If it is, the partner responds Yes it is. If it isn't, they say Sorry, wrong number. When Ss have found the right number, they write down the name of the student whose number it is.

1a ►  1.51 Ss cover the dialogue. Tell Ss to look at the photo. Ask them what they see in the photo. Ss then close their books and you write the questions on the board. Read through the questions with the class and then play recording 1.51. Get feedback from the whole class. Do not confirm the answers yet. Let Ss look at the dialogue and check their own answers. Check the meaning of iced coffee.

Answers

b ►  1.51 Give Ss time to read the dialogue and to fill in the gaps. Let Ss check with a partner but do not do class feedback at this stage. Play the recording again. Ss correct or confirm their gaps. Then do class feedback.

2a ►  1.52 Check the meaning of greet. Play recording 1.52 while Ss read the How to... box. After each sentence, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually.

b ► Model the example dialogue with a student. Then put Ss in pairs to greet each other. Get feedback from the whole class.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Rather than working in pairs, Ss can mingle as a whole class and greet different people.

3a ► In pairs, Ss take it in turns to be Nicklas and Magda and practise the dialogue. Go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems for the feedback session.

b ► Ss either cover the dialogue in 1a or close their books. Either write the prompts on the board or have a handout prepared with the prompts on. Change the student pairs so that they are not with the same student from the previous task.

Ss now use the prompts to recreate the same dialogue in ex. 1a again. When they have completed it first time around, Ss change roles and repeat the dialogue. Go round the class monitoring and take note of issues for the feedback session.

4 ► In pairs, Ss write their own dialogue. Make sure Ss know to change names, places and adjectives in the dialogue. When the dialogues have been written, pairs swap their dialogues with another pair, who then act them out.

Ss make a list of tourist attractions. Check the lists of all the pairs, making sure that they have enough things to allow them to use all the structures from this lesson.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

To do this activity properly, Ss need research time to find out about a place on the Internet. If possible, let Ss prepare this stage for homework and bring their collected information to the next lesson.

b ► Ss prepare presentations using the example and the text in ex. 8. Model the example to help. As they prepare their presentations, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems to cover in the feedback session.

Give feedback on any errors you have seen during the preparation stage before moving onto the next stage. Pairs take it in turns to give their presentations to the whole class.

c ► Ss vote for the best holiday city. When they have voted, elicit from the whole class the reasons why it is the best, checking what they remember of the presentations, e.g. It has a lot of restaurants.

Reading

1a ► Ask Ss the question in ex. 1a. Get a show of hands on yes and no. Ss write the answers to the three questions.

b ► Ss now check their answers in pairs. Get feedback from the whole class. If Ss are all from the same place, see if Ss agree on the top tourist attraction and the best cheap restaurants.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Combine ex. 1a and 1b by putting Ss into groups of three and getting them to ask and answer questions 1 and 2. Then put two groups together and compare their answers. Get feedback from one student per group. E.g. Vienna's top tourist attraction is ... Then answer question 3 by going around the whole class choosing Ss randomly.

2a ► Tell Ss to look at the photo. Elicit from the whole class everything they can see. Ask Ss what they think it is. Read through the instructions and the example with the whole class. Make sure Ss understand they are matching answers to questions.

3 ► Tell Ss to look at the words in the box. Do not check the meaning at this stage. Refer Ss to the pictures and ask them to match the pictures to the words in the box. Tell them they can find some of the answers in the text. They should not worry if they don't know the answers at this stage.

Ss then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class but try and leave near, next to and opposite to last as they are not in the text. You may need to explain d, f and g with more examples so that Ss understand the differences clearly.

Get feedback from the whole class.

Try the following tongue twisters with the Ss: The thirty-three thieves think they like Thursdays. There are three thousand thinkers thinking how the thin thieves got through that.

Grammar | There isn't/aren't; Is /Are there...?; any

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Go back to the London map from page 42. Ask Ss Is there an aquarium? and elicit Yes, there is. Don't worry if they get it wrong, but if anyone gets it right, write it on the board. Continue with the other places on the map and also include places that are not on the map, e.g. Is there a palace. Then try and elicit the question form. Again don't worry if they get it wrong but if they get it right put it on the board.

7a ▶ Ss read the Active grammar box and then complete the gaps with words from the text. Tell Ss to look at the sentences in ex. 5b to help them. Ss check their answers with a partner. Do not do class feedback at this stage.

Write There are... on the board and elicit possible endings. Then elicit the negative forms of the same sentences.

8 ▶ Go through the example and elicit reasons for the answer (any = negative). Ss complete the activity by filling the gaps with forms from the Active grammar box. Ss check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class.

10 ► Before beginning this activity, brainstorm places and locations as a whole class and put them on the board.

Ss then mingle round the class, asking each other questions in pairs and then moving on and forming another pair and repeating. Give Ss a few minutes to do this. While they are doing this, listen in and monitor the dialogues. Take note of any problems to cover in the feedback session.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

To make sure Ss know where locations are, give them a map with locations placed on it.

4.3 At the station

King's Cross Station is a London train station that opened in 1852. From this station trains go north and east.

Grand Central Station is in New York City, USA. It is the largest station in the world, with 44 platforms. It opened in 1871.

Shinjuku Station in Tokyo, Japan, is the world's busiest train station. It has more than 200 exits. It was opened in 1885.

In this lesson, Ss listen to people buying tickets at a train station and read about King's Cross train station. Ss learn how to tell the time and how to buy a train ticket. They also learn about the pronunciation of /ə/.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Tell Ss to look at the photo. Ask Ss where it is (a train station). Elicit what Ss can see in the picture by asking Is there...? or Are there...? Then get Ss to ask and answer questions using the same forms.

Grammar | telling the time

1a ► Check the meaning of clock and time. Ss complete the activity individually and then check their answers with a partner. Tell Ss not to worry if they do not know the answers. Do not offer any help at this stage.

b ►  1.60 Play recording 1.60 and then get feedback from the whole class. Check the meaning of o'clock, quarter past / to and half past. Then play the recording again and, after each time, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually.

2a ►  1.61 Play the recording and, after each time, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually.

b ► Model the example with another student. Put Ss into pairs (A and B). Ss take it in turns to be A and B. Make sure Ss notice that even though we use the twenty-four hour clock, we only use the first twelve hours to tell the time, as in the example.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

With weak classes, go through each of the times as a class and elicit the times. Then model the dialogues and put Ss into pairs.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

At various times during the rest of the lesson, and in the following lessons, ask Ss what the time is.

Listening

3 ▶ 1.62 Refer Ss to the photo. Elicit what Ss can see in the photo. Then play recording 1.62. Ss listen and choose which dialogue matches the picture. Check answers with the whole class. Elicit why Ss think so.

Answer

Dialogue 2 (the time)

4 ▶ 1.62 Check the meaning of single, return, platform and next. Play the recording for Ss to complete the table. Ss check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

	Dialogue 1	Dialogue 2
single or return?	single	return
price?	£8.40	€10.90
platform?	2	6
time of next train	10:20	13:45

5a ▶ 1.63 Tell Ss to look at the How to... box and follow the dialogue as they listen. Play recording 1.63. Play the recording again and after each phrase, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. Ss then practise the dialogue in pairs. Monitor and take notes of any problems for the feedback session.

b ▶ Put Ss into different pairs to those in ex. 5a. Tell Ss to look at the first set of prompts. With weaker classes you may like to model this dialogue to emphasise the changes. Alternatively, go through the dialogue in the How to... box and show where changes need to be made, e.g. Can I have a single to Grand Central Station? etc.

Ss then do the first dialogue. Get feedback by asking one pair to model. Then tell Ss to use the second set of prompts and swap roles. During both dialogues, go round the class monitoring and take notes of any errors for the feedback session.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Instead of Ss being in pairs, do each activity as a chain. Each phrase is spoken by a different student in the class. Only when you have done this with both dialogues do you allow Ss to practise the dialogues in pairs.

Pronunciation | /ə/

6a ▶ 1.64 Play recording 1.64 and, after each word, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. Pay special attention to the /ə/ sound in each word and practise the difference between /ə/, /ʌ/ and /æ/.

b ▶ 1.65 Before playing each sentence, give Ss the chance to practice the sentences in pairs and then ask random Ss to try and say them. Then play recording 1.65. After each sentence let Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually.

c ▶ Ss practice the dialogue in pairs. Then choose random pairs to perform them in front of the class.

Reading

7a ▶ Tell Ss to look at the map on page 42 and ask them the names of the train stations. Then elicit names of other famous train stations.

b ▶ Check the meaning of passengers. Put Ss into either A pairs or B pairs. Tell A pairs to read the text about King's Cross Station on page 45 and answer the questions. Tell B pairs to read the text on Shinjuku Station on page 117 and answer the questions. Check the answers with pairs when they have finished but do not do whole class feedback.

c ▶ Make new pairs with one student A and one student B. Ss tell each other about their train stations. Partners take notes. Make sure Ss know they will talk about their partners' stations. Get classroom feedback by asking partners to report what they have learned.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

For the next lesson, Ss prepare a poster presentation similar to the descriptions of King's Cross and Shinjuku Station. They bring them to the next lesson. Put the posters on the board and ask Ss questions about the stations, e.g. Where is Victoria Station?

4 Communication

In this lesson, Ss listen to people talking about a hotel room. They learn how to ask about a hotel room and think about ways of recording new words.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Write the following on the board:

Manchester 13:15 Platform 3 £24 single

Brighton 13:30 Platform 5 £12 single

Put Ss into pairs (A and B). Ss act out the dialogues, with one student being a passenger and one student being the cashier. They then swap roles to do the second dialogue. Go round the class monitoring and take notes of any issues for the feedback session.

1 ► Tell Ss to look at the picture. Elicit what they can see in the picture. Write any words they know on the board but do not explain the meaning at this stage. Ask if it's a nice room. Ask why/why not? Then reformulate the answer with the model, e.g. I don't think it's a nice room. It's old. Drill the sentence and then elicit other answers.

2a ► Ss match the words in the box to the items in the picture. Do not give any help at this stage or let Ss use dictionaries. Ss then check their answers with a partner. Play recording 1.78 and ask Ss to check which word they underlined on the board. Explain that as the Wh- question word is stressed, the pronunciation of do changes.

b ▶  1.78 Play the recording again and, after each question, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. Pay special attention to the /də/ sound.

10 ▶ Ss work in pairs and take it in turns to ask and answer the questions in exercises 8 and 9a. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take notes of any issues. Do not worry too much about the answers to some of the questions, as they may have difficulty making an answer.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Ss make a question for each Wh- word. Ss then ask and answer each other's questions.

5 Communication

In this lesson, Ss listen to people asking and answering questions in a conversation. Ss practise how to start and continue a conversation.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Tell everyone that they are at a party. What questions would they ask when talking to new people, e.g. What's your name? Elicit the questions and put them on the board. Ss then mingle and ask and answer questions as if they were at a party.

1 ► Elicit sentences about the man and woman in the picture. Encourage Ss to use adjectives.

2a ►  1.79 Tell the Ss to read the questions. Then ask them to look back at the picture and predict the answers to the questions. Play recording 1.79 for Ss to answer the questions. Then get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

- 1 She's a doctor.
- 2 He's a teacher.

b ►  1.79 Read through the table with the class and elicit the three questions for the information in the table, i.e. What is his/her name? Where does he/she work? What does he/she do at weekends? Play the recording again for Ss to check their answers with a partner. If Ss are having difficulty, play the recording again. Get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

	Man	Woman
Name	Katashi	Vera
Works	In a language school	At the hospital
Weekends	Stays at home/surfs the Internet/plays sports	Goes to the gym/goes out with friends

3 ► Tell Ss to complete the gaps in the questions from the dialogue. Ss then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class. If Ss are struggling, play the recording again.

Answers

- 2 How do you know Paul?
- 3 What do you do?
- 4 Where do you work?
- 5 Do you go to a lot of parties?
- 6 What do you do at the weekend?

4 ► Read through the Lifelong learning box with the Ss. Check that Ss understand the tip. Ask which Ss already do this. Don't spend too long on this as the longer you spend, the less they will remember of the dialogue they have just been listening to.

5 ► Ss work together to remember the dialogue in ex. 2a. Get feedback from the whole class by asking different Ss to read out each turn in the dialogue. Do not correct if Ss get stuck.

Once completed, tell Ss to turn to page 138 to check what they have written. Then get feedback by going through the dialogue again in the same way you did the first time.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Do ex. 5 before ex. 4 so that Ss have less time to try and remember the dialogue and you can spend more time discussing the Lifelong learning box.

6 ► Tell Ss to look at the How to... box. Read through each section. Elicit the meaning of comment. Ss write two more sentences for part 3 of the box. Get feedback from the whole class.

Make sure Ss make notes of any questions they don't have. You may also elicit questions for the other two sections, e.g. Is that a chicken salad?

7a ► Ask Ss what they can see in each photo. Elicit as much information as possible. Ss work in pairs and think of questions to start a conversation. Go round the class monitoring and helping to make the questions. Make sure both Ss have copies of the questions.

b ► Change the pairs and label each student A and B. A is the man in the first photo and the woman in the second photo.

Ss then try and have a conversation using the questions they prepared. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems. In the class feedback, ask random pairs to act out one of the dialogues.

 b) You are on a dating website. Write a description about you. Describe your life and say how often you do different things.
 c) Work in pairs. Student A is visiting Student B in his/her new house. Write a dialogue. Student A offers student B some food and drink and shows him/her the house. Make a video or record the dialogue.

Lead-in

In the UK, a loft is the place at the top of the house, between the roof and the top living floor. It is usually used for storing things, but some people like to live in lofts. It is usually only one room. In the USA, lofts are flats and luxury flats at the top of the building.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Ask random Ss Where do you live? Ss will probably respond with the name of the town or city. Draw a house and a block of flats. Ask: Do you live in a house or a flat? Check Ss know which picture is which. Elicit some answers and then get Ss to mingle and ask each other. Give Ss two minutes to brainstorm words connected with house or flat. Get feedback from the whole class and write the words on the board. At this stage do not give the meaning of any words.

1a ► Tell Ss to look at the photos. Elicit what they can see in each photo. Direct Ss' attention to the words in the box and ask them to match the photos to some of the words. Get feedback from the whole class. For the remaining words, divide the class into teams. Each team chooses someone to draw.

Divide the board into boxes large enough for Ss to draw. The teams tell their artist which of the remaining words to draw. Give a point for the picture which most resembles the word. At the end of this activity, if there are still words that Ss don't know, elicit by giving clues, e.g. My car is in the garage.

Answers

- A – garden and living room
 B – bedroom
 C – loft
 D – kitchen

b ►  2.01 Play recording 2.01 and after each word, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. Make sure Ss stress the underlined part of the word.

2 ► Model the example for Ss. Ss then work in pairs and tell each other about their house or flat. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any issues to discuss during the feedback session. Also take note of any new words used by Ss and, in the feedback session, you may decide to teach these to the whole class.

3a ►  2.02 Tell Ss they are going to listen to two people talking about their houses. Play recording 2.02. Ss listen and match the speakers to the pictures. Ss check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class.

b ▶ 2.02 Tell Ss to choose the right words in the texts. Give Ss a minute or two to read the texts and try to remember the correct answers. You may like to get initial feedback at this stage but do not confirm any answers. Play the recording again. Get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

- 1 flat
- 2 two

- 4 kitchen
- 5 house
- 6 three
- 7 120

4 ▶ Tell Ss they are now going to write a description of their own house/flat. Model the example and tell Ss to look at the texts in ex. 3b. Give Ss some time to prepare their descriptions. Put Ss into pairs. Ss read their descriptions to each other.

Then change the pairs and get Ss to read out their descriptions again. As they do both tasks, go round the class monitoring and take note of anything new or problems to discuss during the feedback session. Finally, ask Ss to describe the house/flat of the first person they talked to for the whole class. See who can remember the most.

OPTIONAL VARIATIONS

- 1 Once Ss have written their descriptions, put Ss into pairs. Each student describes their house/flat while the other student tries to draw a plan.
- 2 Once Ss have written their descriptions, put Ss into groups of three or four. Each student in the group reads out their description and the group as a whole chooses which house/flat sounds best. The groups should be prepared to give reasons for their decision to the whole class.

6.1 Small houses

New York City is the most populous city in the USA. It is also the only city in the USA which is in a state with the same name – New York State. New York has eight boroughs including the Bronx, (one half very poor, the other half very rich), Brooklyn (famous for the many different languages and cultures it has), Manhattan (the centre of New York City), Queens and Staten Island.

In this lesson, Ss read about a very small apartment in New York City. Ss learn how to use have got and the vocabulary of furniture. They then complete a house survey.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Mime a place in the house. Ss have to guess which room it is. Then get Ss to mime different rooms in the house.

Vocabulary | furniture

1a ▶ Tell Ss to look at the pictures. Elicit what they can see in each picture. Direct Ss' attention to the words in the box and ask them to match the pictures to the words. Ss then check their answers with a partner but do not do class feedback to confirm the answers yet.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Ss stay in pairs and brainstorm other words for things they might find in a house. Share these with the rest of the class, helping Ss to understand any useful words.

c ► Read the question with the whole class and model the sentence. This can then be done as a line drill. Read the question and get student 1 to ask the question using another item to student 2 and so on. If this goes well, you may start using the extra words the Ss found in ex. 2b.

Grammar | have got

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Ask Ss to take at least two things out of their pockets or bags and put them on the table. Elicit from the Ss what they have, e.g. This is a/my pen, This is a/my magazine, etc. Then name an object yourself and elicit from Ss whose object it is, e.g. Pen? It is Yasmina's pen.

5 ► Get Ss to read out all of the sentences. Then get Ss to use these examples to complete the Active grammar box. Ss check their answers with a partner before giving class feedback. After feedback, drill the sentences; first as a whole class and then individually. Tell Ss to look at the Reference on page 67. Drill the two new question forms with the whole class and then individually.

7a ► Put Ss into pairs (A and B). A writes questions using has/have got about Chris's life and B does the same for Fiona's life. Remind Ss that they should use the information in ex. 6 to help them.

b ► Ss now ask and answer each other's questions. Model the example with a student before they begin. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any issues to discuss during class feedback.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Elicit the two other questions that were in the Reference section on page 67 i.e. What have you got in...? Who's got my...? Elicit what could finish the first question, e.g. bag, pocket. Ss mingle round the class asking What have you got in.... Then get feedback from the whole class by asking what information they found out, e.g. Przemek has got a book in his bag. Then collect one object from each student and put them in a bag. Make sure Ss remember what object they have given. Ss then pick an object from the bag (not their own). Each student then asks, e.g. Who's got my watch? If a student thinks he/she has got the object, he/she replies I've got it.

Speaking

8a ► Put Ss in pairs. First model the activity. Do an example question, e.g. Has your house got a dishwasher? Guess the number, e.g. five and write this on the board. Tell Ss to do the same thing and write their guess on the chart.

b ► Go back to your question on the board and ask Ss to raise their hands. Count the hands and then declare whether you were right or wrong.

Then model the dialogues with a random student. Tell Ss to mingle round the class in pairs and collect answers from everyone. Get feedback from the whole class by asking different Ss their answers and check how close they were to the final answer.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

To make the information gathering a little more interesting, you can ask pairs in 8a to add two questions of their own.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

For homework, ask Ss to write a short description of a house, including both the rooms and the furniture. To make it interesting they can also supply pictures.

6.2 Homework

In this lesson, Ss read an article about who does the housework in a couple. They learn about adverbs of frequency and how to make simple requests. They also practise the pronunciation of /ʌ/ and /ɪ/.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Draw the plan of a two-floor one bedroom house. Elicit a piece of furniture from the class and then ask another student to come up to the board and put it in the correct room. The two Ss greet them, introduce them to anyone there and ask them if they want a drink. Then these Ss have to talk, e.g. Hello, how are you? I'm fine thanks, etc. Let this roleplay continue briefly and then ask other Ss for comments. Elicit any good important phrases that Ss hear and write them on the board.

Ss discuss the different questions and answers in their groups. Then get feedback from the whole class, getting example answers for each step of the process.

2a ►  2.08 Read through the questions and check Ss understand. Play recording 2.08 for Ss to write their answers. Ss check their answers with a partner. Then get feedback from the whole class. If Ss are having trouble, play the recording again before confirming any answers.

b ► Play the recording again and, after each sentence, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. If Ss are having trouble with the sound, backchain the sentence, i.e. drink, a drink, like a drink etc. for Ss to repeat. When you have finished, choose pairs of Ss to make and answer the offers in ex. 4a.

5 ► Read through the instructions and roles with the whole class. Model the example with a student. Check the meaning and drill: Nice house you've got. Then put Ss into pairs (A and B) and do the roleplay. Tell Ss they should try and keep talking for two minutes.

At the end of the two minutes, move all the As onto another pair and tell the class that Bs are now As and vice versa. Ss then repeat the role play. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any good issues to discuss during the feedback session.

Grammar | like + -ing; want + infinitive

1 ► As a whole class, tell the Ss to look at the picture of a block of flats. Model the first question using the example and then elicit what the people in the picture have got in their flats. Repeat this procedure for the second question.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

For both questions, divide Ss into pairs and then label the pairs 1–4. Pair 1 looks at flats 1–4, pair 2 flats 5–8, pair 3 flats 9–11 and pair 4 looks at flats 12–14. Ss then pool their information in the class feedback.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Give out a slip of paper to each student. Write What do you like doing? On the board, give an example, e.g. I like surfing the Internet. Ask Ss to write two things they like doing on their paper. Don't worry if Ss don't know the verb that goes with their activity at this stage. Collect the papers. Pick one and read it out. Ss have to guess which student it is. Ss should try and make sentences with their guess, e.g. Lisa likes listening to music. Make a note of any incorrect uses of verb + activity collocations for later.

- 1 ► 2.13 Elicit from Ss what they can see in each photo. Encourage them to describe the activity. Play recording 2.13. Ss listen and match the speaker to the photo.

Ss then complete the word maps with the words from ex. 2. Ss check their answers with a partner. Then get feedback from the whole class but do not confirm the answers at this stage.

- b ► 2.14 Play recording 2.14 for Ss to check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class. Then play the recording again and, after each phrase, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually.

c ► In groups of three or four, Ss try to add more words to each word map. If Ss have problems with this, you can let them use a bilingual dictionary. Get feedback from the whole class by making three columns on the board for the three verbs.

Each group comes up to the board and writes their activities in the correct column. Then practise saying them with the whole class.

EXTEND THE LEAD-IN

Go back to the warmer activity and put the incorrect statements that you made note of on the board. Elicit the corrections from the class.

4 ► Put the Ss into groups of three or four. Tell Ss they are going to use the collocations that they have learnt to talk about themselves. Model the example from the Ss. Quickly elicit all the time adverbials they have learnt and what they mean.

In their groups, Ss take it in turns to make sentences similar to the example. Groups should keep going round until they have used all the activities they have learnt in the lesson.

Get feedback by asking a student from each group to tell the class about another person in their group.

EXTEND THE LEAD-IN

Ss write a short paragraph about what activities they do, like and dislike. They should also write what they want to do.

7.1 A bad day

Jackie Chan is an actor, director, producer, comedian and screenwriter from Hong Kong. After starring in Chinese martial arts films, he became famous in Hollywood too. He always performs his own stunts, even though he is still making martial arts films in his late fifties.

Clint Eastwood has been a successful Hollywood actor, director and producer since the 1960s. He became famous for starring in cowboy films known as spaghetti westerns (because they were produced and directed by Italians). Since then, he has won five Oscars and six more nominations. He is also involved in politics.

In this lesson, Ss listen to the dialogues of two people having a very bad day. Through this context, Ss learn about object pronouns and how to make suggestions. Ss also learn verbs of like and dislike.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Write like and don't like on the board. Ss make a list of three things that they think the teacher likes and doesn't like. Ss then ask Do you like...? Give the answer and put them under the correct word. Then elicit the sentences from the Ss and elicit how much they think you like them – 5 means like a lot, 0 means dislike a lot. When you have completed this, leave it on the board to come back to later.

Give Ss a few minutes to fill in their own boxes. They do not have to fill in every single space but they should fill in at least two of each row. They can take out football and golf if they are not true. Then put Ss into groups of three or four.

Model the example with a student. Ss then take it in turns to make a sentence, to which the other students reply according to the example given. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems or good examples to discuss during the feedback session.

As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors in structure or pronunciation to discuss during the feedback session. Get feedback from the whole class by each student telling the class about their partner.

12 ► Divide Ss into groups of five or six and get them to look at the photo of a personal assistant. In their groups, Ss ask each other questions to find out who has the most relevant skills.

As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors in structure or pronunciation to discuss during the feedback session.

Then each group presents their candidate and explains why they chose him or her, e.g. She can speak French. The whole class votes for the best candidate in the class.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Write Who can...? on the board. Give every student a piece of paper. They should write the question forms and then add five activities or skills below, e.g. speak Chinese, play chess. Tell Ss that they are now going to walk round the class finding people who can do any of the things they have written down. Elicit the question they are going to ask, i.e. Can you...? Get feedback from the class at the end of the activity, finding out who can do what.

7.3 It's sold out!

The Marriage of Figaro is an opera by the Austrian composer Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart (1756–1791). In his short life, he wrote more than 600 musical works, many of which are still popular today.

Aida, which is set in Ancient Egypt, is an opera written by Giuseppe Verdi (1813–1901). He is also famous for the operas Rigoletto and La Traviata.

In this lesson, Ss listen to people making telephone bookings for shows. Ss learn the use of in, at and on. They also learn about months, using ordinal numbers and dates. They also learn how to write and say dates.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Write some important dates on the board, either important for yourself or maybe famous ones. Elicit what these dates are. Ss then write a date on the board and other Ss have to guess why the date is important. Don't worry if Ss make mistakes when guessing as the idea is to lock the topic of dates in their heads. If Ss attempt to say the dates, don't stop them and don't correct if they get it wrong.

Vocabulary | months

1 ▶ Look at the posters as a whole class. Elicit the meaning of opera, concert, musical and play. Look at the question and the model answer. Drill the answer; first as a class and individually.

Then get each student to give their answer. You may ask why, but expect simple answers, e.g. I like opera. Then get feedback from the whole class, getting example answers for each step of the process.

2a ▶ Check the meaning of month. Refer Ss to the list in ex. 2 and tell Ss to complete the list with months from the posters. Ss then check their answers with a partner, but do not get class feedback at this stage.

Then play the recording again. After each month, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. When you have finished, give Ss another minute to check their answers and then get feedback from the whole class for the answers to ex. 2c.

Ss go back to the month lists they made in ex. 3. Ss then add the numbers to the months and then tell their partners why these dates are important.

Grammar | in, at, on

Write three reasons for important dates on the board, e.g.
My birthday...

My wedding anniversary...

My sister's birthday...

Ask Ss to guess, e.g. Is it September... Is it the 23rd September? etc. Then complete the sentences but leave out the preposition, e.g. My birthday is ____ September, ____ the 15th September. Add extra information. It was ____ Saturday ____ 3:00. Elicit possible answers for the gaps but do not give the right answers yet. Leave these sentences on the board 8a ► Tell Ss to look at the three sentences in ex. 8a. Then tell Ss to look at the Active grammar box and fill in the blanks. Check the answers as a whole class.

Tell Ss to look at the Reference on page 77 and drill the sentences; first as a whole class and then individually. Tell Ss that in can also be used with specific times of day, e.g. morning, afternoon and evening whereas at is used with night.

When they have finished, move the A Ss to different pairs and then repeat the dialogue, this time with Bs being the Assistant and As being the Caller. As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors in structure or pronunciation to discuss during the feedback session.

EXTEND THE LEAD-IN

Go back to the dates that Ss wrote on their paper in the Warmer. Ask Ss to make sentences using the full dates.

3 ► Put Ss in pairs. Go through the instructions and model the example with a student. Ss then do the activity in pairs. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems or good examples to discuss during the feedback session. In the feedback session ask Ss to tell you about their partners.

EXTEND THE LEAD-IN

Ss form teams of four or five. Ss think of five important historical dates and write phrases. Pair up the teams. Each team reads out a phrase and the other team has to guess the year, e.g. The Second World War starts. 1939. Teams get a point for each one they get right. Winning teams can then play against each other for the class championship.

8.1 20th century icons

Pablo Picasso (1881–1973) was a Spanish artist and sculptor, famous for his painting Guernica.

Louis Armstrong (1901–1971) was an American jazz trumpeter and musician, particularly famous for the song What a wonderful world.

Rudolf Nureyev (1938–1983) was a Russian ballet dancer, considered the best male ballet dancer in history.

Florence Griffith-Joyner (1959–1998) was an American track and field athlete. She still holds the 100m and 200m world records.

Agatha Christie (1890–1976) is the best-selling writer of all time. She is famous for her detective novels.

Andrew Carnegie (1835–1919) was a Scottish-American industrialist, businessman and philanthropist.

John F. Kennedy (1917–1963) was the 35th US President. He was married to Jackie Kennedy and was assassinated by Lee Harvey Oswald.

Marie Curie (1867–1935) was a Polish-French scientist. She developed the theory of radioactivity and was the first woman to win the Nobel Prize.

Mahatma Gandhi (1869–1948) was a political and ideological leader who worked to gain independence for India.

In this lesson, Ss read and listen about twentieth century icons. They learn about jobs vocabulary and the Past Simple of to be in positive sentences.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Check the meaning of famous by writing three names on the board, one of which is a famous person. Elicit which one is famous. Then elicit the name of other famous people. Try and get Ss to tell you what they are, e.g. Elvis Presley was a singer. Write a list of the most famous people on the board.

b ► Tell Ss to look at the jobs in the box. At this stage, do not check the meaning of any of the jobs. Just elicit possible jobs for each person. Let Ss work in pairs for a couple of minutes and then get feedback, but again do not confirm any answers yet.

c ►  2.31 Play recording 2.31 for Ss to check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class. Check the meaning of the jobs.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Ss take it in turns to mime jobs. The rest of the class has to guess the job.

2 ► Ss write the three sentences, adding a job at the end with the correct article. Put Ss into groups of three or four to tell each other their sentences. Then get feedback by asking Ss in the groups to tell you what their partners said, e.g. Ela wants to be nurse, she doesn't want to be a cook and her friend, Sara, is a policewoman.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Once Ss have written their sentences, get them into groups of three or four. The first student begins by reading the first prompt. Ss then have to guess what the job is. They can mime the job to give the team help. For every wrong answer, the teams gets -1 point. When all the teams have read out their sentences and Ss have guessed their jobs, the team with the least minus points wins.

Reading

3 ► Tell Ss to look at the reading text about two 20th century icons. Elicit which icons they are and then give the Ss no more than a minute to find out how old each icon was when they died. Get feedback from the whole class. At this stage, do not check the meaning of any vocabulary. Try and elicit what the Ss did to find the answers (looked for the dates).

Answers

Michael Jackson – 50 (2 months before his 51st birthday)
Grace Kelly – 52 (2 months before her 53rd birthday)

4 ► Ss read the text again to find the answers to the questions. Set a time limit for this but not too long as you don't want Ss reading every single word. Ss check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class. After feedback you can check the meaning of vote, celebrity, twice and princess.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Even at this stage you may start getting Ss to think about how to read quickly to answer the questions. Tell Ss that words in the question, or similar words, are also in the text and that is where the answer will probably be. As a whole class, look at each question and identify words that will be in the text with the answer (1 – children, 2 – singers, 3 – number one, 4 – USA/Monaco, 5 – first film, 6 – married). Then continue with the rest of the activity. Remind Ss that they did not need to read the whole text to get the answers.

Grammar | Past Simple of to be: positive

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Revision of Present Simple. Tell Ss that they should choose a famous person who is dead. Then they should write five sentences about that person using I am either as a whole class or in groups of four or five. Ss take it in turns to read out their sentences and the other Ss guess who it is referring to. If Ss still don't know after five sentences, they can ask the speaker yes/no questions, e.g. Are you English?

5a ► Write was and were on the board. Ss then underline examples of these forms in the texts about Michael Jackson and Grace Kelly. Get feedback from the whole class but do not comment on was and were at this stage.

b ► Tell Ss to look at the Active grammar box. Using the examples they found in the text, Ss fill in the gaps in the box. At this stage, do not look at the Reference on page 87 so that they don't get confused by seeing negative and question forms.

Active grammar

Speaking

9a ▶ Ss make a list of three people that they think are 20th century icons. Tell Ss not to use any that they have read about in the lesson. Make sure Ss check their choices with you to ensure that the Ss are choosing different people.

b ▶ For the next lesson, Ss find out information on the Internet about their three icons and make notes for a mini-presentation.

10 ▶ Ss bring their notes to class. Model the example given. Tell Ss they will give a similar presentation on their three icons. Give Ss some time to prepare.

Ss give their presentation either to the whole class or in groups of four or five. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take notes of any problems or good examples to discuss during the feedback session. In the feedback session, elicit information about the presentation from other Ss, e.g. Chen told us about Stevie Wonder. What do you remember about Stevie Wonder, Sara?

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Ss give the presentation by being the icon, using the first person. While listening to the presentations, the other Ss should prepare questions to ask, which the presenter should answer in the first person.

8.2 Memories

In this lesson, Ss listen to people playing a game and talking about their memories. They learn the negative and question forms of the Past Simple of to be. They also learn past time expressions and the language used for taking part in a game.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Draw a timeline of the twentieth century on the board. Divide the class into groups with a decade, e.g. Group 1 does 1900–1910. Each group's role is to add a minimum of five dates to their decade. Ss write the dates but don't say what they represent. They can use information from 8.1 to help them. The rest of the class then ask questions to find out why those years are important.

Vocabulary | past time expressions

1a ► Tell Ss to look at the photos. Elicit descriptions of the people in the photos. Direct Ss' attention to the quotes and ask them to match the quotes with the photos. Ss check their answers with a partner before checking the answers with the whole class.

Answers

B 3	D 2

b ► Elicit the words in the quotes that helped Ss find the answer. Elicit what these words/phrases do (give a time in the past).

Answers

A It was in 1981	C It was 60 years ago
B Last year	D yesterday

2a ► Read through the instructions with the Ss. Ss underline examples of ago, last, yesterday and in in the quotes.

b ► Tell Ss to use the time expressions from ex. 2a to fill in the table. When completed, Ss check their answers before checking their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

last night yesterday morning/afternoon/evening two days ago
last week/month
six months ago
last year

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Tell Ss to close their books. Elicit the four time expressions they have studied. Write them on the board and check pronunciation. Explain that some time expressions are only one word. Elicit which one that is (yesterday). Then read out the different phrases from ex. 2b and elicit what the missing word was, e.g. hmm year? last year.

3a ► Look at the first sentence together with the class. Tell Ss that you were late for work yesterday. Elicit the sentence. Then tell Ss to write their own true sentences for all five sentences.

b ► Ss check their sentences and make corrections in pairs. Then get feedback from the whole class by asking Ss to read one of their sentences.

Grammar | Past Simple of to be: negatives and questions

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Write a distinctive first memory on the board, e.g. eat ice cream and the number of the age you were, e.g. 3. Ask Ss to write similar notes i.e. the age and the verb + noun, e.g. play in the park. 4. Ss then mingle and discover who has the earliest memory.

4 ► Tell Ss to look at the sentences. Ss fill in the blanks in the Active grammar box. Get feedback from the whole class. Drill the example sentences; first as a whole class and then individually.

Tell the Ss to turn to the Reference on page 87. Drill the sentences in the box for all three forms. Then focus Ss' attention on the Wh- questions. Drill these first as a whole class and then individually. You may also like to do these questions as a chain drill with one student asking the question, the next student answering then asking a third student the next question who then answers etc.

Active grammar

Was it a good song?

Yes, it was.

No, it wasn't.

Were they expensive?

Listening

7 ► Read the board game through with the Ss and elicit which things the Ss remember. At this stage, do not ask follow-up questions.

8a ►  2.36 Play recording 2.36. Ss write down the four topics that the speakers talk about. Get feedback from the whole class. Only play the recording again if Ss are having trouble with the answers.

9 ► Read through the instructions and the example with the whole class. Check the meaning of dice. Ss write the rest of the instructions for the game. Ss check their answers in pairs before checking with the whole class. You may wish to play the recording again if they are having problems.

Answers

- 1 Throw the dice.
- 2 Talk about the topic for 30 seconds.
- 3 Answer questions from your partners but don't say 'yes' or 'no'.

Speaking

10 ► To do this activity, you will need enough dice for each group. Put Ss into groups of three and tell them they are now going to play I remember my first...

Tell Ss to look at the How to... box. Go through each of the phrases, checking that Ss understand. Drill each phrase as a whole class and then individually, particularly focusing on intonation. Model the game with a couple of Ss if you think Ss will find it difficult to play.

Ss then play the game. Make sure Ss have no more than 30 seconds for each turn and that Ss ask questions. If Ss cannot talk for 30 seconds they have to do the same step again the following turn. As they play the game, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems or good examples to discuss during the feedback session.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

To avoid using the dice. Label each student 1, 2 or 3. Student 1 does steps 1, 4, 7, 10 and 13, Student 2 does 2, 5, 8, 11 and 14 and student 3 does steps 3, 6, 9, 12 and 15.

8.3 How was your weekend?

In this lesson, Ss read and listen to dialogues of people talking about the weekends they have had. Ss learn the use of How + adjectives. They also learn how to ask about a past experience.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Divide Ss into three or four teams. Prepare slips of paper, one for each student. Each slip will say true on it except one, which will say false. Tell Ss that they are going to ask each other questions. One student in your group will always lie. They have to find out which one. Then write the questions on the board: Where were you: three weeks ago, last night, in 2004, at 7:00 this morning. Go round the class as they play the game, checking for any problems or issues.

Reading

1a ► Tell the Ss to look at the cartoons and elicit what they see in each of them. Check the meaning of the words in the box. Ss then read the dialogues and fill in the gaps with the words from the box. Do not check answers at this stage.

Answers

- 1 weekend
- 2 date
- 3 holiday
- 4 flight
- 5 trip

b ►  2.37 Play recording 2.37 for Ss to check their answers. Then get feedback from the whole class.

2 ► Ss read the dialogues again and decide if the statements are true or false. They then compare their answers with a partner and identify the reason why the statements are true or false. Get feedback from the whole class. At this stage, do not check the meaning of any vocabulary.

Answers

- 1 T (he was in bed all day on Saturday)
- 2 T (it was great. He was nice and funny)
- 3 F (the holiday was really nice)
- 4 F (it was OK)
- 5 F (they were on a trip)

3 ► In pairs, Ss choose a dialogue and act it out. Make sure all the dialogues are acted out. Then get pairs to do one of the dialogues for the whole class. Pay attention to pronunciation as they do this.

Pronunciation | /aʊ/

b ► Ss underline the /aʊ/ sounds in the sentences. Ss then check with a partner. Do not check as a whole class at this stage.

Answers

- 1 Wow! How big is that mouse?
- 2 Now, how far is the nearest town?
- 3 Do you want to have a shower at my house?

c ►  2.39 Play recording 2.39. Ss listen and check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class. Then play the recording again with Ss repeating the sentences; first as a whole class and then individually.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

In pairs, Ss find three words with /aʊ/. Check them as a whole class.

5a ► Elicit the first sentence of each of the five dialogues. Then read the title of the How to... box. Check the meaning of experience. Look at the questions and drill each as a separate question, i.e. How was your day? How was your weekend? etc. Then look at the answers and check Ss understand.

b ► Go through the instructions. Make sure Ss understand they have to make more than the three questions. Model the example with a student. Ss should take note that they should give a reason.

Put Ss in pairs. They take it in turns to be A and B and ask as many questions as possible. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems or good examples to discuss during the feedback session. During feedback, you might ask for some good examples to be repeated.

Vocabulary | more adjectives

6 ► Tell Ss to look at the words in the box and elicit their meaning. Ss then do the activity. Ss check their answers with a partner before checking with the whole class.

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Write the six adjectives from ex. 6 on the right hand side of the board. Then, next to each, elicit units of measurement that can go with them. Ask Ss to provide an example different from the ones in ex. 6, e.g.

deep – metres – lake

Then, using the prompts, elicit sentences from Ss, using the sentences in ex. 6 as an example, e.g. The lake is 10 metres deep. Keep the information on the board for the optional activity later.

7a ► Ss underline examples of How + adjective in the dialogues in ex. 1a. Get feedback from the whole class but do not comment at this stage.

b ► Tell Ss to look at the Active grammar box. Using the examples they found in the text, Ss fill in the gaps in the box. Get feedback from the whole class, drill each question and answer; first as a whole class and then individually.

Then tell Ss to look at the reference on page 87. Make sure Ss understand the difference between How + noun and How + adjective.

b ► Put Ss into pairs to prepare their own general knowledge questions, similar to those in ex. 9a. Put pairs together to ask and answer each other's questions. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any issues or interesting questions to discuss during the feedback session.

Speaking

10a ► Ss choose one of the options in the instruction and think of four adjectives to describe it.

b ► Put Ss in pairs (A and B). Model the activity with a student. Make sure Ss understand that they should keep the conversation going. Tell Ss they should talk for one minute. At the end of one minute, they swap roles and repeat the activity. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems or good examples to discuss during class feedback.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

For the next lesson, Ss find out interesting facts for each of the different adjectives in ex. 6, similar to the facts on page 119. At the beginning of the next lesson, Ss tell their partners, e.g. The River Thames is very long. The partner then asks: How long is it? and the first student answers: It's 346kms long.

8 Communication

In this lesson, Ss read about an author. They practise how to ask and answer simple questions about someone's childhood.

Wole Soyinka is a Nigerian writer, poet and playwright. He was also the first African winner of the Nobel prize for Literature in 1986.

Nadine Gordimer is a South African writer and political activist. She won the Nobel prize for Literature in 1991. Her most famous novel is The Conservationist.

Cape Town is the second largest city in South Africa. It is famous for its harbour and Table Mountain.

Vogue is a fashion and lifestyle magazine that is sold every month.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Write How... on the board. Tell Ss to write down a question with How + adjective to ask other Ss. Ss then mingle and get answers to their questions. Get feedback from the whole class. If anyone asked How old...? write it on the board. If not, try and elicit this question from the class. Tell Ss that this is a way of asking about someone. Elicit other questions we can ask, e.g. Where are you from? Do you have a job etc? Make a list on the board. If Ss do not know much about each other, Ss can then ask and answer these questions in pairs.

1a ► Check Ss understand writer. Do a quick chain drill round the class so that each student can ask and answer the question. Write the names of a few of the most famous writers on the board. Elicit any information that Ss know about these writers. Don't worry if they cannot say very much.

b ► Give Ss a little time, e.g. a minute to read the text and answer the questions before comparing their answers with a partner. Then get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

- 1 Cape Town
- 2 Wole Soyinka and Nadine Gordimer

2 ► Read through the statements a–d with the Ss. Elicit what the most important words are, e.g. happy, good, child, hobbies and bad.

Ss then read the text and find the same words or words with the same or opposite meaning in the paragraphs. Go through paragraph 1 with them and then let the Ss do the rest themselves. Get feedback from the whole class and ask Ss to tell you the words in the paragraph that helped them find the answer, i.e.

1 – clothes, fashion, 2 – I was good at, 3 – really bad!, 4 – I was very happy.

4a ► Tell Ss to look at the text again. Elicit how many questions there are (8) and elicit each one. Put Ss into pairs and ask them to write four more questions they might ask someone about their childhood. Elicit the question words they might use, i.e. What, Who, Why, When, Where, How, Which, Did, Was/Were? As they do this, go round the class monitoring and correcting mistakes as Ss write. When completed, make sure that both Ss have copies of the questions.

b ► Put Ss into different pairs. Ss take it in turns to interview each other, using their own questions and the questions from the reading text. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any issues or errors to discuss during the feedback session.

c ► Get different Ss to report on the partner they interviewed and then go over any problems or interesting information for discussion.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Using the Internet or books and magazines, Ss find out information about a famous person's life. Ss write an interview with an interviewer asking questions and the famous person answering. This can be acted out in the next lesson, if there is time.

In pairs or small groups (3 or 4) Ss write their own sentences, one for each of the words from the box. As they do this, go round the class checking and correcting.

b ► Tell Ss to look at the example. Drill the short dialogue; first with the whole class and then individually. Then write Do you...? on the board and elicit the next word (usually/ever). Check Ss understand. Then elicit what comes next (a verb) and elicit the verbs from ex. 2a. Then, focus on the reply. Elicit the last two words Do you? Elicit what A will say next (Yes, I do. or No, I don't). Put Ss into pairs. Tell Ss to use the sentences in ex. 2 to help them take it in turns to ask and answer questions. As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors in structure or pronunciation to discuss during the feedback session.

EXTEND THE LEAD-IN

Ss write a few sentences about their partner based on the answers to the question in ex. 2b. Collect them and hand them out. Ss read out the sentences and other Ss have to guess who gave those answers.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Tell Ss to close their books. Then elicit what the Ss can remember from the text, using Past Simple regular verbs.

In pairs, Ss write five sentences using five different Past Simple regular verbs. Go round the class monitoring and checking as they do this.

Pronunciation | Past Simple -ed endings

b ►  2.44 Play recording 2.44. Ss mark which sound they hear at the end of the word, /t/, /d/ or /ɪd/. Ss then check their answers with a partner. Do not check as a whole class at this stage.

Answers

- 1 /d/
- 2 /t/
- 3 /t/

- 5 /ɪd/

c ► Play the recording again. Ss listen and check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class. Then play the recording again with Ss repeating the sentences; first as a whole class and then individually.

8 ► Read through the Lifelong learning box together. Copy the example on the board and then tell Ss to close their books. Either in notebooks or on paper, Ss make similar entries for all the verbs they have learnt in this lesson. Ss then check their answers in groups of three or four. Ss can then open their books and do a final check.

Writing

9 ► Read through the instructions and the prompts with the whole class. Model an example for the class. If Ss have never had a job before, ask them to make it up. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and checking. Ss then read their paragraphs to a partner. Get feedback from different Ss by asking them to tell you about their partner.

9.2 Rags to riches

In this lesson, Ss read about a homeless man who was rich. They learn about the negative and question forms of the Past Simple. They also practise the /ɔ:/ and /ɪ/ sounds.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Put the names of all the activities mentioned in Lesson 9.1 ex. 1a on pieces of paper. Divide the class into teams of four or five people. One of the team pulls out one of the slips from a bag and has to mime the activity. The other Ss have to guess what they are doing. When you were a child, you... If the sentence is wrong, then the slip goes back in the bag and another student chooses another slip. Only one guess per slip is allowed. The team that finishes their slips first is the winner.

Vocabulary | money adjectives

1a ► Tell Ss to look at the pictures. Elicit descriptions of the pictures. Direct Ss' attention to the words in the box and ask them to match the words to the pictures. Ss check their answers with a partner. Do not do a class check at this stage.

Answers
1 rich	4 careful with money
2 poor	5 generous
3 careless with money	6 mean
	7 broke

b ►  2.45 Play recording 2.45 for Ss to check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class.

2a ► Go through the instructions and the example with the whole class. Ss then write one sentence for each word/phrase from ex. 1a. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and correcting where necessary.

b ► Put Ss into pairs. Ss take it in turns to tell each other about their friends and family, using the sentences they made in ex. 2a. As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors in structure or pronunciation to discuss during the feedback session.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Elicit the positive and negative pairs of words, e.g. rich/poor. For each of the words, Ss should think of someone they know and be prepared to explain why. Then put Ss in pairs to discuss, e.g. Mark Zuckerberg is rich because he owns Facebook.

Reading

b ► Ss read the text. Get feedback from the whole class and check whether the information on the board is correct. Do not check the meaning of any vocabulary at this stage.

Suggested Answers

Curt is not poor. He looks poor but is rich.

4 ► Check the meaning of shares. Ss read the text again and decide whether the statements are true or false. Ss then check their answers with a partner and together correct the false sentences. Then get feedback from the whole class. Check the meaning of average, bins, checked, account, gold bars, pennies and successful.

Answers

- 1 F – he wasn't an average man
- 2 F – he died in 2008
- 3 F – he was almost a millionaire
- 4 T
- 5 F – he invested in shares

5 ► Put Ss in pairs. Check Ss understand the difference between a happy story and a sad story. Ss discuss and decide if the reading text is a happy or a sad story. They should give at least three reasons why they think so, e.g. He was poor but now he is rich or He is rich but doesn't know because he is dead.

Then put two pairs together to tell each other their opinions. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of anything useful for the feedback session.

Grammar | Past Simple: negatives and questions

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Tell Ss to look at the sentences from the text. Ask Ss to identify the Past Simple verbs in each sentence (1 – didn't work, 2 – Did he play, 3 – didn't earn, 4 – did Curt become). Elicit what forms of the past tense we are looking at in these examples (negatives and questions).

6 ► Ask Ss to complete the Active grammar box. Get feedback from the whole class. Drill the example sentences; first as a whole class and then individually.

Tell the Ss to turn to the Reference on page 97. Drill the sentences in the box individually. Then focus Ss' attention back on the Wh- questions in the Active grammar box. Drill these; first as a whole class and then individually. Elicit the other question words. Make sure Ss understand that all these question words use the same form as the examples in the Active grammar box.

A: What...?

B: I....

A: Did you...?

B: No, I..., I also....

Put Ss into pairs (A and B). A asks questions about the three different times and B answers. When completed, Ss swap roles and do the activity again. As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems or good examples to discuss during the feedback session.

Pronunciation | /ɔ:/ and /ɪ:/

8 ► 2.46 Play recording 2.46 and, after each word, Ss repeat the word; first as a whole class and then individually. When you have finished, drill the sound in blue in each of the words.

9a ► Ss underline and circle the /ɔ:/ and /ɪ:/ sounds. Ss then check with a partner. Do not check as a whole class at this time.

Answers

- 1 She's not poor, she's mean.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

In pairs, Ss find three words with /ɔ:/ and three words with /ɪ:/ that have not been previously used. Check them as a whole class.

Speaking

10a ► As a whole class, look at the photos and elicit what Ss can see in each photo. Check the meaning of competition, need and library. Ss then write questions using the prompts. Make sure Ss take note of any time phrases.

Answers

Vaughan Bailey

- 1 Why did he live on the streets?
- 2 What sport did he play?
- 3 Why did he change his job?
- 4 What was his new job?
- 5 What competition did he enter?

- 2 Where did she start living?
- 3 Where did she shower and wash her clothes?
- 4 Did she like her new life?
- 5 What did she do in the library?
- 6 How is Anya's life now?

b ► Get feedback from the whole class. Once you have checked each question, elicit possible answers from the class.

b ► Tell Ss to close their books. Ss now take it in turns to tell their partner about their character. Model the example for the Ss. Ss should take notes about what their partner tells them. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems to discuss during the feedback session.

c ► Ss now use the questions they prepared in ex. 10a to find out more information about their partner's text and add to their notes. Continue monitoring as you did for ex. 11b.

When completed, divide the A Ss and B Ss up. Ask different A Ss to supply one piece of information about Anya Peters. Check with B Ss that their notes are correct. Then ask B Ss to do the same about Vaughan Bailey.

9.3 A woman in a man's world

In this lesson, Ss read about and listen to a woman who has been successful in the football business. Ss learn Past Simple irregular verbs. They also practise high numbers and how to talk about questionnaire results.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Ss think about a holiday they had. Write the following prompts on the board:

Where?

When?

How long?

What did/do?

What/like?

What/not like?

Ss prepare their info. Ss then work in groups of three or four and tell each other about the holiday they had. Ss then choose the best holiday in their group. As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any issues. Get feedback from each group and go over any notes you made.

Reading

1 ► Tell the Ss to look at the photo. Elicit what Ss see in the photo. Elicit who they think the woman is. Tell Ss to read the fact file. Elicit which sentence they think is not true.

Answers

Not true: Her husband was a famous actor. (He was Grayling Town's star footballer).

2a ► Give Ss no more than one minute to read the fact file and check the answers. Get feedback from the whole class. Elicit the correct answer (Her husband was a footballer).

b ► Ss read the text again and answer the questions. Ss then check their answers with a partner before checking the answers with the whole class. Check the meaning of Managing Director, in charge, gave birth and coma.

Answers

- 1 2003
- 2 it was broke
- 3 2007
- 4 £150,000
- 5 she had a car accident
- 6 she checked her emails
- 7 she gave birth to her first child

3 ► Read through the instructions and the example with the Ss. Check the meaning of admire. In pairs, Ss discuss their opinion using the example. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems or good examples to discuss during the feedback session.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Ss may still have problems putting their ideas into English. Before doing the discussion, you might want to brainstorm the facts from the reading and any other comments Ss want to make. Put these main points on the board for the Ss to refer to during their dialogue.

Vocabulary | high numbers

4a ►  2.48 Play recording 2.48 and, after each number, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. When you have finished, drill the numbers again but with the number + one, e.g. 751, 1000, 1001, etc. This can be done as a chain drill round the class and every time you reach the last number, another one is added, e.g. 752 etc.

b ► Put Ss in pairs (A and B). A writes two high numbers (the highest should be X million, not billion or trillion) and says them out loud. B writes them and then they check what they have written.

Ss then swap roles and repeat the task. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any mistakes in saying the numbers for the feedback session.

5 ►  2.49 Play recording 2.49. Ss listen and write in the date and the price of each footballer. Ss check their answers with a partner before checking the answers with the whole class.

Grammar | Past Simple: irregular verbs

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Write all the verbs that Ss have already studied in the last two units in the past tense on pieces of paper. Designate three areas of the room as /1d/, /t/ and /d/. Ss take a verb. Then when you say Go, Ss should go to the part of the room that represents the sound of their ending. Check they are right by getting each student to make a sentence using their verb in the past tense.

6a ► Tell Ss to look at the text again and underline all the verbs in the Past Simple. Tell the Ss they may not end in -ed but they are still Past Simple forms. Check the underlined sentences with the whole class.

b ► Ss complete the Active grammar box using the verbs from the text. Do not check the answers at this stage.

Active grammar

c ►  2.50 Play recording 2.50 for Ss to check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class. Tell the Ss to turn to the Reference on page 97. Drill the verbs and their irregular past forms; first as a whole class and then individually. Tell Ss to look at the full list on page 133 but do not drill these.

7a ► Put Ss in pairs (A and B). A has their book open on page 97 while B has their book closed. A chooses verbs which B has to say the Past Simple form of.

b ► Ss read the sentences and correct the mistakes before checking their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

Answers

I got up early on Saturday. I took my daughter to swimming club. Then I went home and I did some exercise. I had lunch around one o'clock. In the afternoon I went shopping with my family. My daughter bought some new clothes. I didn't buy anything. I was careful with my money. I didn't spend a lot.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Divide the board into four columns and then divide the class into four teams. The teams race against each other to write the full paragraph correctly on the board. Each student takes it in turn to write a sentence.

9 ► Put Ss in pairs. Ss take it in turns to tell each other what they did last weekend, using the irregular verbs. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take notes of any problems or good examples to discuss during class feedback.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Write the phrases yesterday, last week and last year on the board. Then write the following prompts:

A: What...?

When completed, Ss swap roles and do the activity again. As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems or good examples to discuss during the feedback session.

Listening

10a ►  2.51 Read through the questionnaire with the Ss. Check the meaning of tip, saver, spender, advice and cheque. Play recording 2.51 for Ss to put the questions in the right order.

Answers

Answers

- A 1
- B 1
- C 1

Speaking

11a ► Put Ss in pairs. Each pair writes three more questions for the questionnaire on the topic of money. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and correcting any mistakes.

b ► Read through the How to... box with the Ss. Pay particular attention to the amounts, explaining with percentages, i.e. Everyone/everybody = 100%, Most people = 51–99%, Some people = 1–50% and No one/nobody = 0%. Drill the sentences; first as a whole class and then individually.

c ► Elicit guesses about the questionnaire answers for the class. Use the example to model. Concentrate only on the questions in the questionnaire, not the extra questions the Ss have written.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Ss talk about their guesses in pairs, including their extra three questions. As they do this, go round monitoring and take note of any mistakes for checking in the feedback session.

12 ► Pairs now mingle, asking their questions and getting feedback. Once completed, collect class feedback on the original questions in the questionnaire and check whether Ss' guesses were correct or not. Then ask each pair to present the feedback on their extra questions.

9 Communication

In this lesson, Ss play the Internet Millionaire Game and practise how to explain simple events.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Put Ss in groups and write the names of the people below on the board. Ask the groups to put the people in order of how rich they are, from the richest first. Ss then guess how rich they really are:

Bill Gates ($40 billion)

Mark Zuckerberg ($13.5 billion)

Paul McCartney ($800 million)

David and Victoria Beckham ($250 million)

Daniel Radcliffe ($80 million)

Kylie Minogue ($60 million)

1 ► Check Ss understand millionaire and billionaire. Ask the whole class if they know of any. Ask them if they know why they are so rich.

2a ► Give Ss time to read the rules and then check they understand by asking questions E.g. What is your aim? Do you work alone? What do you do first? And then what do you do?

b ► Before you start the game, check the meaning of design, uncle, don't put all your eggs in one basket, market research, apps, night school, hire, rent, paperwork and taxman.

Tell the Ss that they are all going to play the game. Put Ss into pairs and read through the first card as a whole class. Model the example with a student. Give Ss about two minutes to decide and then go to the next card.

From then on, Ss play the game until either they are out or they are the winner. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and helping where necessary. Take note of any errors or issues that you wish to discuss during class feedback.

3 ► Put Ss into new pairs. Ss tell each other how the game went, decisions they made and what the result of those decisions was. Then get class feedback with Ss telling you about what happened to their partners.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Ss write a short article telling the history of their attempt to become a millionaire.

I had a terrible day on Sunday. I borrowed a jacket from my sister, Yasmin, but I lost it. I think I left it at the café near Ben's flat. Yasmin wasn't happy.

b ► Using the blogs on page 128 and the sentences they wrote in ex. 5a, Ss write a blog about last week for themselves. They should include extra information. Encourage them to use apostrophes and commas where necessary. When completed, pin the blogs on the wall. Ss walk around the class reading them and choose the most interesting blog.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Revision of Past Simple irregular verbs. Put the following on twelve different slips of paper:

- | | |
|-----------------------|-----------------------|
| 1 come bought | 2 buy did |
| 3 do found | 4 find had |
| 5 have got | 6 get gave |
| 7 give went | 8 go sold |
| 9 sell spent | 10 spend took |
| 11 take became | 12 become came |

Make sure that everyone gets a slip of paper. This might mean making two teams. Ss mingle and find the person who has the past tense form of their infinitive verb (underlined) and joins hands with them. Give an example on the board, e.g. have – had, do – did. By the time everyone has found their partner, they will form a circle.

1 ► Tell Ss to look at the photos. Elicit what they can see in each photo. Direct Ss' attention to the phrases in the box and ask them to match four of the phrases to the photos. At this stage, don't check the meaning of any vocabulary.

Ss then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class and check that Ss understand the meaning of the correct answers.

Answers

- A move
 B have a baby
 C get fit
 D quit your job

2a ► Go through the headings and check the meaning of personal. Tell Ss to put all the phrases from ex. 1 into the correct group. Ss check their answers with a partner but don't give feedback or confirm any answers yet.

4a ► Put the Ss into pairs. Read through the instructions with the Ss. Focus Ss' attention on the changes in ex. 1 and get Ss to tell each other about the changes they have had and when they happened. If Ss are too young, they can make up life changes. Model the example to show them how to do this.

Ss then take it turns to tell each other. As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors in structure or pronunciation to discuss during the feedback session.

b ► Put the Ss into different pairs. Read the instructions. Tell Ss that they again use the changes in ex. 1 but they can think of others. Try and elicit other important changes, e.g. move to another country, get divorced, have dancing lessons, give up smoking and put them on the board.

Model the example for Ss and then tell Ss that they should have a discussion for two minutes, sharing their ideas. As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors in structure or pronunciation to discuss during the feedback session.

EXTEND THE LEAD-IN

Ss make a list of things they plan to do in the future and three things they plan to stop, e.g. move to another country and stop smoking. They should also try and write the reason why. Ss then share these in groups of three or four. When completed, keep these for the next lesson.

10.1 Home and away

Wellington is the capital of New Zealand. It has a population of nearly 400,000 people. It is known as Windy Wellington because the winds are so strong there.

Sydney is the largest and most populous city in Australia. It has a population of 4.5 million people. It is famous for its Opera House, the Harbour Bridge and Bondi Beach.

Ayers Rock is a large sandstone rock in Australia. It is a very important religious place for Aborigines.

The Great Barrier Reef is the world's largest reef system covering 2,600 square kilometres. These reefs are made of coral and are very beautiful. It is an environmentally protected area.

In this lesson, Ss read emails and text messages about people's future plans. Ss learn going to in positive sentences to talk about future plans. They also find out how to learn useful phrases and talk about their future plans.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Write Buckingham Palace on the board. Ask Ss if they want to see it and why it's a popular tourist attraction. Then show them the list and discuss how well they did:

- Taj Mahal (Agra, India)

Grammar | going to: positive

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Divide the class into teams of four or five Ss. Each team draws the following table:

Simple Past	Simple Present

On your desk, have slips of paper with regular and irregular verbs which they have studied in the past. A member of each team comes to the desk and takes one slip. The team then has to create a sentence in the Past Simple and a sentence in the Present Simple. For each completed set of sentences, the team gets one point. The sentence must be both meaningful and correct. The team can take another slip when they have written one sentence. At the end of five minutes, the team that has most points wins. Get feedback from the rest of the class. Tell Ss that we will fill in the third column later.

- 6a ▶ Ss read through the texts and underline all the examples of going to. Get feedback from the whole class. Elicit what Ss think it is used for. Do not worry if they are not sure.
- b ▶ Tell Ss to look at the Active grammar box and use the examples they found in ex. 6a to help them fill in the gaps in the box. Do not check or confirm their answers at this stage.

Active grammar

He's going to lend me some money.
We're going to see Ayers Rock.
They're going to drive to Wellington tomorrow.

- c ▶  2.54 Play recording 2.54 for Ss to check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class. Drill the example sentences; first as a whole class and then individually. Don't look at the Reference on page 107 until you have done the Grammar section in 10.2. Make sure Ss take notice of the time adverbials that we can use with going to.

- 7 ▶ Ss read the text, filling in the blanks with the correct form of going to. Ss check their answers with a partner before checking their answers with the whole class.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Ss look at the table they made in the Grammar Lead-in and fill in the third column by using going to and the verbs they chose. Teams then share these sentences with the rest of the class.

Speaking

- 8 ▶ Ss write notes about their plans for the next three months, two years and ten years. They can use the notes they made in the optional warmer at the beginning of this lesson to help.
- Put Ss in pairs to tell each other about their plans. Then change the pairs and get Ss to tell their new partner about their old partner's plans. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take notes of any problems. Get feedback from the whole class. Then do question 2 as a whole class activity.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Once Ss have written their notes, they then stand up and mingle, telling each other their plans, using going to. If they find someone who has the same plan as them for one of the dates, they should sit down with that person. Get feedback from the whole class, Ss who have found partners stay in those pairs. Those without a partner should now be put into new pairs. Ss discuss question 2 in pairs for a couple of minutes before getting feedback from the whole class. As they do both activities, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors in structure or pronunciation to discuss during class feedback.

10.2 Cheer up!

In this lesson, Ss listen to dialogues in which people need cheering up. Ss learn the negative and question forms of going to and how to pronounce it properly. They also practise how to say goodbye and learn vocabulary for emotions.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Draw a sad face on the board. Ask Ss to think of something that made them sad recently. Go round the class, eliciting sentences in the past tense, e.g. I didn't see my girlfriend this week. For each one, ask other Ss to try and give advice, e.g. Phone her! The student chooses the best advice and then says what he/she is going to do, e.g. I am going to phone her.

Vocabulary | emotions

1a ► Tell Ss to look at the photos and decide how each person feels, using the smiley icons for each picture. Elicit descriptions of the pictures and elicit which smiley icon they used and why.

b ► Get Ss to look at the words in the box and ask them to match them to the pictures. Ss check their answers with a partner. Do not do a class check at this stage and do not give any vocabulary. If Ss don't know, tell them to guess.

c ►  2.55 Play recording 2.55 for Ss to check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class. Check the meaning of the emotions.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

In pairs, Ss can now mime the different emotions for their partners to guess.

2a ► Go through the instructions and the examples with the Ss. Divide Ss into groups A, B, and C. Group A does pictures 1–3, Group B does pictures 4–6 and Group C does pictures 7–9. Ss then write sentences for each of the emotions. As they do this activity, go round the class checking and correcting where necessary.

b ► Put Ss into pairs, making sure Ss are not from the same groups as the previous task. Model the example sentences with a random student. Ss then take it in turns to read out their sentences and share how they deal with the emotions.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Put Ss into groups of three, with one A, one B and one C student.

Listening

3a ►  2.56 Tell the Ss they are going to listen to two dialogues and they should match the dialogues with the emotions and photos in ex. 1b. Play recording 2.56. Ss then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class.

4a ►  2.57 Play recording 2.57. Ss look at the How to... box and circle the phrases they hear. Get feedback from the whole class, then read through the How to... box. Drill the different ways of saying goodbye; first with the whole class and then individually. Elicit whether Ss know any other ways of saying goodbye, e.g. See you around, Catch you later, Later!

Answers

See you soon.
Bye.
See you on Monday.
Have a nice weekend.

b ► Put Ss in pairs. Model the example with a student. Make sure that Ss know the different situations and then let Ss act out each situation. Once they have done this, swap the pairs and do it again. As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors to discuss during the feedback session.

Grammar | Going to: negatives and questions

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Say an emotion, e.g. upset. Ss then give a sentence using going to that explains why he or she is going to have this emotion, e.g. She is going to get some bad news. You can further extend this by asking for more information for each situation, e.g. What type of bad news?

5a ► Tell Ss to look at the sentences from the dialogues. Elicit what forms of going to we are looking at in these examples (negative and question). Ss then fill in the gaps in the Active grammar box. Do not get feedback at this stage.

Active grammar

Tell the Ss to turn to the Reference on page 107. Drill the sentences in the box for all three forms. Then focus Ss' attention on the Wh- questions in the Active grammar box. Make sure Ss understand that all these question words use the same form as the examples given in the Active grammar box.

6 ► Ss complete the sentences with the correct form of going to and the prompts. They then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class. Ss can then practise saying the dialogues, making their own answers when one isn't given.

Answers

8 Our teacher isn't going to give us any homework.

9 How are you going to get home?

10 A: Is Jon going to get married?

B: No, he isn't.

7 ► Read through the instructions and then model the example dialogue with a student. Then put Ss in pairs to complete the activity. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take notes of any errors to discuss during class feedback. During feedback, ask different pairs to do their dialogue again.

Answers

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Write the phrases tomorrow, next week and next month on the board. Then write the following prompts:

A: What...?

B: I...

A: Are you going to...?

B: No, I..., I also...

Put Ss into pairs (A and B). A asks questions about the three times and B answers. When completed, Ss swap roles and do the activity again. As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any problems or good examples to discuss during class feedback.

Pronunciation | /gəʊɪŋ tə/

8a ► 2.59 Play recording 2.59 and, after each sentence, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. When you have finished, check Ss can say going to, concentrating on the final schwa sound.

b ► In pairs, Ss use the audioscripts on page 143 to practise the dialogues. As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any pronunciation problems to discuss during the feedback session.

Speaking

9a ► Tell Ss to turn to the questionnaire on page 111 and check the meaning of exercise and countryside. Ss then fill out the questionnaire for themselves. Tell Ss to read the key. Check the meaning of don't mind.

b ► Model the dialogue with a student. Then put Ss in pairs to check their answers to the questionnaire. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors to discuss during the feedback session.

c ► Get feedback from the whole class by asking Ss to talk about their partner. Again, first model the example. Get feedback from the class on the results in the key. Do they agree with their descriptions?

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Tell Ss to write a short paragraph on how they are going to make their life better. When Ss have written their paragraphs, swap them with a partner who will check and then give advice on what they have written.

10.3 Giving gifts

In this lesson, Ss read texts about gifts. Ss learn how to ask why and answer with because. They also study sentence stress and practise what to say when giving and receiving gifts.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Write the following nine words on slips of paper.

presdeeds (depressed)

pypha (happy)

racsed (scared)

derit (tired)

robde (bored)

tespu (upset)

gryna (angry)

cedtexi (excited)

vernous (nervous)

Divide the class into an even number of teams of between three and five Ss and then hand out the slips. Make sure each student has about the same number of slips. Each student in the team reads out the letters but does not show the slip. The rest of the group has to work out what the word is. When the groups have unscrambled all the words, they choose three of the emotions and write sentences similar to the following. I feel this when... (I see my girlfriend... happy). Then put two teams together. Each team reads out the sentences and the other team has to guess what the emotion is.

Reading

1 ► In pairs, Ss ask and answer the three questions, using the example to help them. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of anything worth discussing during the feedback session. Get feedback from the whole class.

2a ► Put Ss into new pairs (A and B). A turns to the text on page 119 and answers the questions. B turns to the text on page 114 and answers their questions. Do not check the meaning of any words in the texts until after ex. 2c.

Answers

Student A

1 an even number, e.g. 2, 4, 6...

2 seven

3 no (they are a gift for lovers)

4 yellow, green and red

Student B

1 say no three times and then say yes. They open the gift in private.

2 later (after receiving it)

3 on their first birthday and 60th birthday

4 gold jewellery

b ► Get Ss to close their books. Ss now tell each other about their text. Model the example to show them how to do this. As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and make sure Ss are not just giving their partners the answers to the questions.

C ► A now asks B the questions for the text on page 119. B uses the notes they made to answer them. A takes note of which questions they get wrong. B then does the same for the text on page 114.

Get class feedback, checking all the answers to the questions for both texts. Summarise what everybody learnt about giving gifts in different countries.

3 ► If there are different nationalities in your classroom, divide the class into groups of these nationalities to prepare mini-presentations. If Ss are all the same nationality, do this activity as a whole class discussion. Before Ss start, model the example for Ss to follow when trying to answer the question.

4 ► Again, as in ex. 3, if you have different nationalities in your class then let them discuss together before giving mini-presentations. If not, do this as a whole class discussion.

Grammar | why and because

OPTIONAL GRAMMAR LEAD-IN

Write New Year Resolutions on the board. Tell Ss that in the UK at New Year you make a promise to do or not to do something the next year, e.g. I am only going to eat vegetables or I'm not going to eat chocolate. Elicit whether Ss have the same tradition in their country. Tell Ss to write a New Year resolution and then the reason, e.g. Resolution – I'm going to do a lot of exercise. Reason – I am lazy. Ss then go round the class just telling their friends the reasons. Their partners have to guess the resolution. Keep the slips of paper to use again later.

5a ► Tell Ss to look at the text and underline all the sentences beginning with why and all the phrases beginning with because. Get feedback and then elicit which ones are questions (the ones beginning with why) and which ones are answers (the ones beginning with because). Ss then fill in the Active grammar box with why and because. Do not check or confirm answers at this stage.

Active grammar

Why did you buy a DVD?
I bought a DVD because it's Adam's birthday.
Why did you quit your job?
Because I hated it and because I want to live abroad.

b ►  2.60 Play recording 2.60 for Ss to check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class. Drill the example sentences; first as a whole class and then individually.

Look at the Reference section on page 107 and go through the explanation as a whole class, drilling the example sentences; first as a whole class and then individually.

6 ► Ss use the prompts to write questions and answers. Use the example to show Ss how they should do this. Ss then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class.

Answers

- 2 Why did he buy that bike?
Because he liked it.
- 3 Why did you borrow €10?
Because I wanted to buy some food.
- 4 Why did you give them a gift?
Because I decided to say thank you.
- 5 Why did we move?
Because we needed a big house.
- 6 Why did she go to university?
Because she wanted to study Art.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

When Ss have completed the procedure for ex. 6, ask them to write their own answer for the six questions in ex. 6, e.g. Why did you wake up early? Because I heard a loud noise. Then put the Ss into pairs. Ss ask each other the questions and give their new answer. Decide which is the best answer for each question.

Pronunciation | sentence stress

7a ►  2.61 Check that Ss remember the meaning of the word stressed (the word you hear the loudest). Provide an example, e.g. My name is John. Say the sentence and emphasise the stressed words as you say them.

Then do the example in the SB. Play recording 2.61. Ss then check their answers with a partner. Get feedback from the whole class, playing the recording again to show the correct answers for each sentence.

Answers

- 2 Why do you like your job?
- 3 I bought him a book because he wants to learn to read.
- 4 I went to the doctor because I needed some medicine.

b ► Play the recording again, stopping after each sentence for Ss to repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. Make sure the Ss get the rhythm right. If they struggle, just get the Ss to hum the rhythm of each sentence.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Put the Ss into pairs. Ss take it in turns to hum the rhythm of one of the sentences in ex. 7 (if they are good, they could use one of the sentences in ex. 6 too). Their partner has to guess which sentence they are saying, based on their humming. As feedback, do this as a whole class, choosing different Ss to hum.

Vocabulary | presents

8a ► Tell Ss to look at the pictures and match the words and phrases in the box to the pictures. Ss then check their answers with a partner but do not confirm any answers at this stage. Do not check the meaning of any words at this stage.

Answers

- 1 a toy
- 2 a photo frame
- 3 chocolates
- 4 beauty products
- 5 tickets for a show
- 6 a clock
- 7 a vase
- 8 jewellery
- 9 a plant
- 10 plates and bowls
- 11 glasses
- 12 a voucher for a shop

b ►  2.62 Play recording 2.62 for Ss to check their answers. Get feedback from the whole class. Check the meaning of each of the words.

Then play the recording again and drill; first as a whole class and then individually, paying particular attention to stress.

9a ► Read though the situations with the Ss. Check the meaning of cousin and retirement. Model the example. Ss discuss this in pairs. Then get feedback from the whole class.

b ► Ss choose five Ss in the class and allocate each of them presents from the list in ex. 8a or their own ideas. Put the Ss into pairs and model the example dialogue with a student.

Then Ss have similar conversations, explaining the presents and why they gave them. As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors to discuss during class feedback.

OPTIONAL VARIATION

Divide Ss into groups of four or five. Then allocate each group another group and tell them that they each have to buy presents for Ss in the other group. Each student chooses five presents. They don't have to be the presents in ex. 8a. Ss then tell the rest of the group their choice of presents and the reasons why, using the example dialogue. The whole group then decides on the best present for each student in the other group.

10a ►  2.63 Play recording 2.63 for Ss to listen and follow in the How to... box. Then play the recording again and, after each sentence, Ss repeat; first as a whole class and then individually. Check Ss understand each sentence and elicit other possibilities, e.g. Thanks very much, that's really nice of you, not at all etc.

b ► Ss now go round the class, pretending to hand over the presents they chose in ex. 9b and explain why they gave the presents. Before they do this, model the example dialogue with a student. As they do the activity, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors or interesting points to discuss during the feedback session.

10 Communication

In this lesson, students talk about holidays and make holiday plans.

OPTIONAL WARMER

Bring in holiday pictures cut-out from magazines. Put Ss into groups of three or four and give each group a collection of two or three pictures. Tell groups to create a holiday story that they will present, using the pictures they've been given. Pair up all the groups to tell each other their stories.

1a ► Tell Ss to look at the photos of different holidays and put them in order from 1 = favourite, etc.

b ► Put Ss into pairs. Ss check their lists and use why and because to talk about their choices. Get feedback from the whole class. Start by eliciting descriptions of each photo. Then ask students to talk about their partners.

2a ► Read through the instructions and go through the example paragraph, including your own information, e.g. My favourite holiday was in 1999.... Elicit emotions that the Ss remember.

Ss then write their own paragraphs. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and correcting mistakes as Ss write.

b ► Put Ss into pairs. Tell Ss they will now ask each other questions about their favourite holiday and will use their written paragraph to give answers. Model the example. As they have their discussions, go round the class monitoring and take note of any issues or interesting points for the feedback. In the feedback, ask Ss to tell you about their partner's favourite holiday.

3 ► Read through the instructions and model the example for the Ss. Ss then tell their partners about countries, cities and places that they want to go to in the future. As they do this, go round the class monitoring and take note of any issues for feedback.

4a ► Put Ss in pairs. Ss read through the instructions and rules. Check Ss understand by asking questions, e.g. What did you win? How did you win it? What is the prize? etc.

b ► Following the rules and the prompts given, pairs plan their holiday of a lifetime. Model the example with a student to show how Ss should discuss their plan. With weaker Ss you might also like to elicit the questions for the prompts. As they plan the holiday, go round the class monitoring and take note of any errors or interesting points to discuss during feedback.

5 ► Tell the pairs that they will now present their plans to the rest of the class. Model the example first and then give Ss some preparation time. During the presentations, take note of any issues. When completed, ask Ss for their opinion of other people's plans and vote on what the class thinks is the best plan.

OPTIONAL EXTENSION

Ss write a postcard or email from their holiday of a lifetime. They write about what they did and what they are going to do next.

P = Presenter, R = Reporter, A = Amrik, L = Lidia, E = Eva

P: ... and the weather tomorrow will be bright and sunny. Now, Sandy, what have you got for us?

R: Well, Paul. Did you know that some celebrities worked in very normal jobs before they were famous? For example, Nicole Kidman worked part-time in her local cinema and Tom Cruise delivered newspapers. So I asked some people around town, what was your worst job when you were a teenager?

R: What's your name?

A: My name's Amrik.

R: What do you do?

A: I'm a lawyer.

R: What was your worst job, Amrik, when you were a teenager?

A: Oh, let me see, well, when I was seventeen, I washed cars in a car wash at the weekend. It was awful.

R: Why was it awful?

A: Well, I started work at seven in the morning and I finished work at seven in the evening, so I was always tired. And I just washed cars for twelve hours with only half an hour for lunch. My hands were red and sore every day. I hated it, but I stayed for two years.

R: What's your name?

L: I'm Lidia.

R: What do you do?

L: I'm a teacher.

R: What was your worst job when you were a teenager?

L: Oh, er ... well, when I was sixteen I worked nights in a supermarket in my holidays. It was awful.

R: Why was it awful?

L: Oh, I hated working in a supermarket. It was really hard work. I just stacked shelves. Oh, it was so boring.

R: What's your name and what do you do?

E: I'm Eva and I'm a university student.

R: What was your worst job, Eva, when you were a teenager?

E: My worst job? Well, I looked after my neighbours' children and they were really naughty, really bad. I didn't like that job. But it was different for my parents. My mum was seventeen when she arrived here. She worked nights in a factory. She hated it. It was really hard work and she earned almost nothing. She worked there for two years and then my dad started working in the same factory. After two years they started a restaurant. Now they've got five restaurants.

R: Five?

E: Yes. They cook in one of the restaurants together. They're workaholics – very different to me!

Today, football clubs buy and sell footballers for millions of pounds.

But it wasn't always this way. In 1928 British club Arsenal spent £10,890 on David Jack. This was a world record. Thirty years later, in 1957, Juventus spent £93,000 on Omar Sivori, another world record. In 1973 Barcelona bought Johann Cryuff for £922,000. But the first million pound footballer was Guiseppe Savoldi. Napoli bought him for £1,200,000 in 1975. In the 1980s and 1990s prices went up fast. In 2000 Real Madrid spent £37 million on Luis Figo. Nine years later, in 2009, they spent £80 million on Cristiano Ronaldo.

I: So Imogen, tell me, you're a successful business woman and you're very careful with money. Were your parents careful with money?

M: Yes, they were. My father was a taxi driver and my mother was a housewife. They worked hard and they were careful with money. That was a good lesson for me.

I: Are you a saver or a spender?

M: I'm a saver. Before I was twenty-five I spent my money on holidays and shopping. Then I married Gary and in 2011 I had my first child. Now I save my money.

I: How do you usually pay for things: cash, card or cheque?

M: I always pay by card. I only have one card because I only need one card. I don't usually have money in my bag.

I: Do you always give big tips?

M: Yes, I do. My father was a taxi driver, so I always give taxi drivers big tips. I also give waiters tips.

I: What financial advice do you give to young people?

M: Work hard. That's really important. And don't buy a big house in a bad area. Buy a small house in a good area!

I: Thank you very much, Imogen.

M: You're welcome.
