Using capital letters and full stops

A sentence has a subject and a verb. We use capital letters (e.g. A, B, C) at the beginning of a sentence. We use a full stop (.) at the end of a sentence.

He's a big music fan.

Sometimes a phrase makes a sentence, but there's no subject or verb. These phrases start with a capital letter and end with a full stop.

Hi, everyone. Welcome to the group.

We also use capital letters for:

- the subject I
- people's names
- road or street names
- names of towns, cities, states and countries
- nationalities
- languages
- names of companies and universities
- days and months

- 4 Rewrite Abdul's description with 12 capital letters and 5 full stops.

Sleeping differently

Do you like an early night? Do you like to sleep late? What is it like in your home?

'Jess is definitely a good sleeper,' says Sarah. 'At the weekend, she often has a lie-in until twelve!' Sarah prefers to go to bed early and get up early in the morning, usually around 5 a.m. She works from home, often at the weekend. That's why she does a lot of work in the morning so she can enjoy the afternoon. 'I like it when Jess is asleep, because I know she loves it so much,' says Sarah. 'Our sleep patterns are very different, but it works for us. I like to work early in the morning, that's when I get my best ideas.'

So why does Jess wake up late? 'Well, it's not because I go to bed late,' explains Jess. 'Basically, I just really like my sleep!' Jess falls asleep as soon as she goes to bed, but Sarah doesn't. She usually reads for about an hour then she falls asleep.

Some people just need a lot of sleep and some people don't need much sleep at all. But Sarah and Jess are siblings who seem very happy living together.

Writing

- 1 Read Sasha's description of a typical weekend. What night does she go out with friends?

Nuckford University

University life isn't just about studying, of course. Here, some of our students describe their typical weekend.

Sasha A typical weekend for most students here at Nuckford University starts on a Friday night. Most students go out with friends and have a good time after studying all week, but I don't. On Friday evenings, I don't go out. I stay in and go to bed early. I play football for the university team and on Saturday mornings, we practise for about three hours. In the afternoon, I watch TV or a film then phone my mum for a chat.

On Saturday evening, I go out with my friends. We usually go to the university café to have dinner. It's not very exciting, but we like it because it's cheap! After that, we sometimes go to a club or sometimes we go to my friends' house and talk. They all live together in the same house, but I live in the university accommodation.

Sundays are quiet. I study, watch TV and cook a meal. My favourite is my mum's pasta recipe. In the summer, I play football outside with friends. In the winter, I go to the gym. I usually go to bed early on Sunday so I'm ready for classes on Monday.

Reading

1 Read the article about an unusual town. Why is it unusual?

- a There aren't any cars.
- b There isn't a school.
- c Most people live in the same building.
- d People don't live in buildings.

2 Read the article again. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)?

- 1 Whittier is in Canada. _____
- 2 Around 200 people visit the town in the summer. _____
- 3 The weather is bad in the winter. _____
- 4 Almost everyone in the town lives together. _____
- 5 There's a school in the building. _____
- 6 You can drive to the town. _____

3 Read the article again and choose the correct option, a or b.

- 1 People visit Whittier in the summer _____.
a for work. b on holiday.
- 2 In the winter, people live in the same building because it's _____ inside.
a warm b cold
- 3 There _____ a place to send letters in the building.
a is b isn't
- 4 Children _____ go outside in the winter.
a need to b don't need to
- 5 Cars drive _____ through the tunnel to the town.
a one way b both ways

4 Match the words in bold in the article with meanings 1–4.

- 1 This makes you warm inside in winter.

- 2 You can drive your car or walk under the ground through this.

- 3 big ships which take people on holiday, going to different places

- 4 people who live in a building, town, city, etc.

Do you ever look outside your window in the morning, see that the weather's bad and decide to just stay in? There's a town called Whittier in Alaska, in the US, where people do exactly that every winter.

Whittier is a very small town with only around 200 residents. In the summer, there are a lot of tourists – around 700,000. During the summer, it is a busy tourist town: cruise ships stop there, people visit the countryside and it's all quite beautiful.

However, in the winter, it gets very cold and dark, so nearly all the residents live together in the same building. Because it's just one building, the heating is cheap. It's very big and there are lots of floors and apartments for people to stay warm in. But they don't just sleep there. There's also a post office, a doctor's, a police station, and even an inside park for children to play in. There isn't a school inside the building though. But there is an underground tunnel that connects the building to the school, so children don't need to go outside when the weather is bad.

The main way to get to the town is through another tunnel which goes through a mountain. It's quite small and cars can only go one way. The direction changes every 30 minutes.

There's something nice about living close to so many people. But it's important to have good neighbours!

The city inside

Writing

1 Read Stephen's email to Ricardo. Why is he writing?

Hi Ricardo,

Thanks for your email. It's great that you're coming to visit from Brazil with work next month. We'd love you to come and visit. Our town isn't very famous, so it's a good idea for me to tell you a little bit about it.

I live in a small town called Tring. It's about 30 minutes from London, in beautiful countryside. A lot of people live here and work in London in the week.

It has everything you need: there's a post office, shops and there is even a small theatre! There's a big supermarket just outside town and we go shopping there on Saturday to buy food for the week. There isn't a big cinema, but there's a place where local people watch films outside in the summer. There are some nice cafés and restaurants in the town. People go to the restaurants with their families on Friday night and at the weekend. In the High Street there are some interesting shops and people come to Tring at the weekend to look around them.

There aren't any big parks, but there are three football clubs and a lot of other small sports clubs.

I like my home town. It's a small town, but it's a lovely place. I hope you like it, too.

Call me soon and we can arrange the details for your trip.

All the best
Stephen

2 I've got short dark hair and brown eyes. I'm tall and thin. I think I'm very friendly. I was quiet when I was a child, but I'm not now. My friends think I talk a lot!

3 My special skill is that I can speak EIGHT languages including Hindi, Gujarati, English, French and many more. I think I've got skills because I can also sing in each language. On the show I want to sing a song using each language I know. Please choose me!

- her special skill _____
- her background/childhood _____
- a description of her now _____

4 Read Justin's application. Mark the start of paragraphs two and three with /.

My name's Justin and I was born in San Francisco in the US. My parents were artists and they loved painting pictures all the time. My earliest memory was being in their studio, painting pictures with my hands. It was very funny! I'm a bit quiet, but I'm always kind and I try to be friendly. I'm quite tall and I'm not fat, but I'm not thin, I'm medium. I've got short blonde hair and blue eyes. My special skill is that I can paint – really fast! On the show I want to paint a picture in under two minutes. I think you'll be surprised that I can paint a good picture in just two minutes, and the people watching will love it. Please choose me!

A different type of gift

Sometimes it's difficult to buy presents for people on their birthday. Maybe they've got everything they want, or maybe they haven't got any hobbies or interests. In this case something to do (not something to have) can be a good idea. 'Gift experiences' are popular at the moment.

You buy a 'ticket' which the person can then use for a class or activity. We look at four of the best types.

This is a fantastic way to do exercise and have fun at the same time. There are lots of wonderful and interesting things to try, from playing tennis to swimming. Most places offer an introductory session as a present for someone to try for the first time.

For example, you could buy your special person an online guitar course or a sushi-making class. There are hundreds of different ideas out there. It's an awesome way to learn a new skill and discover something new.

Does your special person work a lot? Do they need a break and some time to relax? Nowadays it's easy to travel to different places quite quickly. So why not buy them a mini-holiday? (You can enjoy it too!)

These are really exciting. Examples include a flying lesson, driving fast cars and 'survival' experiences. This type of present is great for people who want something exciting or a thrill. They might look dangerous, but they're all very safe.

Shahla James, remember this? One year ago today!

Shahla James

| 8 mins

Oh yes, I remember this! 😊 Was it really a YEAR ago today?!? We had such a good time on that holiday. We travelled to Italy and we stayed in that little hotel. I remember that day clearly. We all woke up at 3 a.m. so we could watch the sunrise at the top of the mountain. Hannah was tired and complained all the way! I think she didn't want to get out of bed, but we made her! The sunrise was so beautiful. Do you remember we drank coffee and talked about our plans for the year? Then we got back to the town and had that beautiful lunch by the river. You had fish and Vicky had that lovely chicken dish. Then we were all tired and slept for the rest of the afternoon!

Vicky Morgan

Good times! 😊

- 2 Read the social media post again. Put events a–e in the correct order.

- They drank coffee. _____
- They had lunch. _____
- They got up early. _____
- They slept. _____
- Hannah complained. _____

- 3 Read the Focus box. Then look at Shahla's comment again. Find three more examples of sentences with two clauses where the subject pronoun is not repeated.

Using subject pronouns

Subject pronouns are words like I, you, he, she, we and they.

A clause is a group of words that includes a subject pronoun and a verb.

We had such a good time on that holiday.

Sometimes we connect two clauses with words like and and but.

We travelled to Italy and we stayed in that little hotel.

A clause can only have one subject.

Hannah was tired NOT Hannah she was tired.

When a sentence has two clauses and the subject is the same, we don't need to repeat the subject pronoun.

Hannah was tired and complained all the way!

Both subject pronouns are necessary when the subject in each clause is different.

She didn't want to get out of bed, but we made her.

NOT ~~She didn't want to get out of bed, but made her.~~

- 4 Make sentences with and. Miss out the second subject pronoun if you can.

1 We had dinner. We talked about our lives.

We had dinner and talked about our lives.

2 I went to the party. Chris talked to me.

3 My mum came round last night. She cooked dinner.

4 Anita got up early. She had breakfast.

5 Jamie ordered fish. Alice ordered chicken.

6 She looked at me. I smiled at her.

7 Lisa and Charles went out. They watched a film.

8 Charlotte and I went to the museum. We saw a dinosaur.

INTRODUCTION

¹Nowadays, it's easy to buy our meals quickly and cheaply. We don't need to spend hours in the kitchen preparing meals. So why cook? Cooking your own meals is easier than you think. It's also fun and interesting. As you learn about different ingredients and ways of cooking, your meals become more delicious. So how do you start?

²First of all, you need a few knives. These are important, so make sure you buy a good set. You also need things to cook with and a good oven. Don't buy a lot of things at first. Keep it simple and just buy what you need.

³There are a few basic things you need for every recipe: salt, pepper and oil. You might need a few other things, but don't buy everything at first. Over time, buy what you need for every recipe you use.

⁴Only choose a few simple recipes to start with. You can find a lot of simple recipes in this book, but you can also look on the internet. There are a lot of free recipes there. When you start cooking, follow the recipes exactly. Use exactly the amounts the recipes say to use and cook things for exactly the amount of time the recipes say. Try to remember what things go well with other things. For example, parmesan cheese often goes well with lemon.

⁵Don't be afraid to try new things as you learn more about cooking. You can change recipes that you cooked before, or you can experiment with different kinds of food. You can also create a recipe of your own. Share your ideas online or with friends and ask other people to share their ideas with you. Cooking is a great way to make friends and enjoy your food together!

Writing

1 Read the review of a place to eat. Did the writer like it?

Guillermo's Mexican Street Food

Reviewed 25 September

We ate here last night after we went to the cinema. We thought it was brilliant because the food is real Mexican street food (Guillermo is Mexican). I had the vegetable tacos and my boyfriend had a chicken burrito. I think the food is delicious because it's all fresh.

It's also cheap because it's a food truck, not a restaurant. However, there are tables and comfortable chairs outside. It has a nice atmosphere because Guillermo and the people who work with him are very friendly.

It gets crowded later in the evening because the food truck is very popular in the local area. So it's a good idea to arrive early.

I really like this place because it's cheap, comfortable and the food is delicious!

2 Read the review again and answer the questions.

- 1 Why did the writer think it was brilliant?
- 2 What did they eat?
.....
- 3 Why is it cheap?
.....
- 4 Why does it have a nice atmosphere?
.....
- 5 Why does it get crowded later?
.....
- 6 What two adjectives does the writer use to describe the place in the last line?

3 Read the Focus box. Then find four more opinions and reasons in the review.

Giving opinions and reasons

To give opinions, you can use the phrases I think and I don't think to introduce your ideas.

I think that new film is great.

When you talk about past experiences, use thought/didn't think.

We thought the story was brilliant.

You can also give opinions using positive adjectives like amazing, delicious, exciting, good, interesting or lovely and negative adjectives like awful, bad, boring or horrible.

The ice cream was delicious.

Use because to give a reason for the opinion.

The place isn't good because it's always crowded.

4 Match opinions 1–6 with reasons a–f.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 The food is expensive | a because it's popular and modern. |
| 2 I think the restaurant is cool | b because it's very good quality. |
| 3 I thought the film was boring | c because there are so many interesting dishes. |
| 4 I don't like that café | d because it's always too crowded. |

Weather around the world

Everyone likes talking about the weather. We're always too hot, too cold or too wet. It seems we're never happy. However, the weather around the world can produce some beautiful and awesome things. Here we look at five of them.

Lenticular clouds

These clouds are round. People often think they're UFOs! They are different from any other type of cloud because you can see them anywhere and they don't move. They're most common in areas with lots of mountains. Pilots try not to fly near them because the turbulence they create is very strong, so it's dangerous to fly near them.

Moonbows

We all know about rainbows, the beautiful, colourful things in the sky created when the sun shines through water in the air. But did you know that there are moonbows, too? These appear on nights with a full moon, usually around two to three hours after sunset. The most common places to see them are Yosemite National Park in the US, Plitvice Lakes in Croatia, and Victoria Falls in Zambia/Zimbabwe.

Catatumbo lightning

Some people describe where the Catatumbo River meets Lake Maracaibo in Venezuela as the most electric place on earth. There is powerful lightning for about half of the year, for ten hours a day and sometimes up to 280 times an hour! During storms, lightning comes down from clouds almost a kilometre high in the sky. It usually forms above the area where the river meets the lake.

Halos

You can see a halo anywhere in the world. Very small pieces of ice very high in the sky make a circle around the sun or the moon. There are a lot of different types and they can be white or coloured.

Cappuccino coast

This happens when there are strong storms out at sea. They then produce a foam near the coast which makes the water look like a delicious cappuccino! Unfortunately, the water mixes up salts, chemicals and dead animals and plants, so they're not delicious like a cappuccino! They're common on the coast of San Francisco in the US, and the North Sea in Europe.

Hi, Lucija! How are you? I'm coming to Croatia for my holiday in September and I thought of you. Can you recommend any places to visit?

Thanks, and let's meet when I'm there. 😊

2 Read Lucija's reply and answer the questions.

1 Why is September a good time to visit?

3 What can you do there?

4 How long is the ticket for?

5 What should she bring?

From: Lucija Babić

To: Tamara Walker

Hi, Tamara. So good to hear from you! September is a very good time to come here because the weather is perfect. It's warm and really sunny, but it's not too hot.

Do you know where exactly you'll be? I can definitely recommend Plitvice Lakes. Attached is a photo of them.

It's the oldest and largest national park in Croatia and the area is beautiful. It is in the heart of Croatia, between two areas of mountains. You can go hiking around the lakes on one of the trails and enjoy the awesome views everywhere. You can also take a boat trip around the lakes, which is a really nice way to explore the area. The park is mostly forest and you can see lots of really interesting plants and animals around. In the winter there is excellent skiing in the area, too, but you won't be here then. Next time, maybe!

You can drive to the main park and buy a ticket to enter. This ticket is for the whole day. You need to wear the right clothes and shoes for hiking though, and don't walk off the trails or swim in the lakes. This is to protect the wildlife. Oh, and bring some sun cream and a good hat!

I really hope you visit Plitvice Lakes, it's a wonderful place and a beautiful part of the country. Definitely contact me when you're here, I'd really like to see you again!

In the long run

Lucy Wilkins runs ultra-marathons (marathons longer than 42 km). She lives in Hull in the northeast of England, but travels all over the world to run in challenging places. Here she talks to us about her running.

'I first started running in 2014. At first I was very slow and I walked a little, then I ran a little. Slowly I started to run for a longer time. Then I entered my first race – it was a 5 km race near home and I loved it. I wasn't very fast, but I really enjoyed running with lots of other people. Then I slowly increased the distance I ran and I entered my first marathon (42 km) two years later. I felt so good after that. Then I started to run longer distances. In 2017 I entered a 60 km race in the mountains in France, which lasted for 30 hours. It was very difficult, but I felt so good at the end.

I love being alone with my thoughts when I run. I also love the feeling I have at the end. I feel like I've really done something good for myself and for my body. It's such a simple thing, too, just putting one foot in front of the other. I don't like having to be careful about what I eat before a run though. You have to get it just right: not too much and not too little. If you get it wrong, you can feel really sick.

At the moment I'm training for a race in the US, in California. It's going to be my longest yet – 100 km! I'm sure I'm going to finish it, but I know it's going to be hard.

My main advice for anyone who wants to do long-distance running is to enjoy it! Slowly increase how far you run.

Take your time and enjoy the countryside!

- 1 My teenage son is really into video games. _____
 - 2 So you actually communicate with people ... _____
 - 3 I think the quality of communication these days is worse. _____
- a how good or bad something is b interested in c share information with someone

Reading

1 Read the article quickly and choose the best title.

- a Four ways to have a good house share
- b Four types of people who share a house
- c Four things NOT to do when sharing a house

2 Read the article again and match paragraphs 1–4 with headings a–e. There is one extra heading you do not need.

- a Communication is important
- b Keep it tidy
- c Don't eat other people's food
- d Sharing bills
- e Be nice

3 Read the article again. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)?

- 1 You should tidy your room every day. _____
- 2 Everyone in the house should do the cleaning. _____
- 3 It's easier to wash up dishes just after you use them. _____
- 4 Decide how to share bills after a few months. _____
- 5 You don't need to keep a record of things people buy for the house. _____
- 6 You can leave messages for each other in the kitchen. _____
- 7 You should plan when visitors come. _____
- 8 You should never do someone else's housework for them. _____

4 Match the words in bold in the article with meanings 1–4.

- 1 a thing that you can write on with a special pen

- 2 parts of a house that you all share

- 3 arrive _____
- 4 things you use to change the taste of food _____

1 _____

You can tidy your room when you want to, but think about the communal areas like the kitchen and living room. You need to share the cleaning with your flatmates, but also clean up after you use something yourself. It's a good idea to wash up immediately after eating. That way dishes and other things are easier to clean, too.

2 _____

Make sure you agree with your flatmates how to share the bills from the beginning. It's not just bills, there are other things it's a good idea to share, such as cleaning products and common condiments like salt, pepper, cooking oil, etc. Keep a chart for who pays what and when.

3 _____

It's a good idea to have a whiteboard somewhere like the kitchen where everybody can see it. You can write messages on it for each other when you're not there, and clean them off when everyone's read them. It's also a good idea to have a visitor calendar for when your friends or family come to stay. You don't want to be in the situation where two or more of you invite people to stay and when they turn up you realise you don't have any space.

4 _____

There are lots of ways to do this, from a simple 'please' and 'thank you' at the right times, to offering to help when others have a problem. If you have time, offer to do someone else's housework when they're busy. You might find you need their help one day!

Writing

- 1 Andrea has written an email to her old English teacher. Why is she writing to her teacher?

Dear Tina,

How are you? I'm thinking about going to London this summer to study English and I'd like to find a good course for me. I really liked studying with you before and I think you're a very good teacher. Could you recommend a course for me?

Here are some things that I'm looking for. I love playing pronunciation games – I'm a big fan of games and I think these are my favourite! I also really like the vocabulary activities which help me remember all the word and phrases we learn on a course.

I'm OK with studying grammar, but it's not my favourite thing. I understand it's important though, so I don't mind studying it in class.

I can't stand speaking in front of the class. I get nervous and sometimes don't know what to say, but I'm fine with speaking in small groups. I'm into music and I like listening to songs in class. That's really good fun.

I hope you can help me and perhaps we can meet for a coffee when I'm there?

Thanks

Andrea

- 2 Read the email again and answer the questions.

1 What does she love doing?

2 What does she like doing?

3 What doesn't she like doing?

4 What doesn't she mind doing?

.....

- 3 Read the Focus box and underline similar phrases in Andrea's email.

Expressing likes and dislikes

a expressing likes, e.g.

I'm a big fan of, is/are my favourite, is really good fun, I'm into ...

b saying you don't mind something, e.g.

I'm OK with ..., I'm fine about ...

c expressing dislikes, e.g.

I can't stand ..., I'm not really into ...

- 4 Match sentences 1–6 with categories a–c in the Focus box.

- 1 Homework is not a problem.
- 2 I don't mind you correcting me.
- 3 I really hate writing in class.
- 4 I'm really into pronunciation activities.
- 5 I'm not into walking around the class.
- 6 I really like games.

Prepare

- 5 You're going to write an email to someone to ask for recommendations for a course. Make notes about:

- things you like doing in class
- things you don't mind doing in class
- things you don't like doing in class
- any other important information

Write

- 6 Write your email. Use your notes in Exercise 5 and the Focus box to help you.

P = Presenter R = Russell J = Jeanette

- P: Welcome to Episode 93 of the Family Talk podcast. This week's topic is 'big families' – something both of my guests know all about. So, Russell, how many people are there in your family?
- R: Eleven.
- P: Wow, really? And who are they?
- R: Well, of course, there's mum and dad. Mum is a manager in a big company, and dad's a mechanic.
- P: OK.
- R: And then I've got seven siblings – four brothers and three sisters.
- P: Wait, er ... mum, dad, eight children ... that's only ten people?
- R: Yes, but there's also Henry.
- P: Um, who's Henry?
- R: My cat! I think he's my favourite family member!
- P: And what about you, Jeanette?
- J: Oh, I don't have a cat or a dog.
- P: Ha! Well, how many brothers and sisters have you got?
- J: Oh, I haven't got any brothers or sisters.
- P: Uh, OK. But have you got a big family?
- J: Yes, I have. My mum's got three brothers, and my dad's got two sisters and two brothers.
- P: OK.
- J: And they've all got kids, you see. I've got, um, ten cousins I think.
- P: Wow!
- J: Yes, and we all live in the same town and see each other all the time. So, we're a big family really. It's a lot of fun.
- P: Right. And who's your favourite family member?
- J: Me, of course!

UNIT 3 Recording 1

P = Presenter K = Karl

- P: Today I'm with Karl Rogan, the American skier who's got three silver medals and two gold medals. Nice to meet you, Karl.
- K: Thanks Anne, nice to meet you, too.
- P: So, what's a normal day for you, Karl? What time do you usually get up?
- K: Well, I get up at seven o'clock every morning.
- P: Right.
- K: I have breakfast – I usually have an omelette and some coffee – then I do a few chores at home. You know, wash my clothes, reply to emails, that kind of thing. At around half past eight, I go to the gym. I stay at the gym for about three hours.
- P: Wow, OK! And what do you have for lunch?
- K: Well, I always have a good lunch. Usually chicken, rice and salad or vegetables. Sometimes fish. It depends what I feel like.

- P: OK.
- K: Then in the afternoon I go skiing. I usually ski Monday to Friday because there aren't many people. I ski for around four hours in the afternoon, then I go home and have dinner and relax with my wife. We usually watch TV in the evening, and go to bed at ten o'clock.
- P: Sounds like a busy life!
- K: Well, yes it is a bit. But I always rest on Sunday. I think it's important for your body to recover. But even then I can't wait to go skiing again on Monday!

We love this town. There are lots of parks and the children love playing there. There aren't a lot of cars, either, like in a big city, so the air is clean and it's safe to walk around.

There isn't anything for young people to do here. There aren't any clubs or nice cafés to meet friends. It's really boring and I can't wait to move away.

I like it here, it's nice and quiet, but there isn't much public transport, which is a problem for me. There aren't any trains and there's only one bus an hour. You really need to have a car here and I haven't got one, so that's a problem.

Some people think it's boring here, but I disagree. I think the people are very friendly. I've got great neighbours and we often meet and do things together. It's easy to make friends here, but you need to try.

I work in a big city during the week, so it's nice to come home here in the evening and relax after work. It's very quiet and there aren't many things to do, but there's a big city only 30 minutes away by car.

UNIT 5 Recording 1

K = Kim H = Harry

- K: Hey, look at this Harry, it's my old school yearbook. Do you remember this?
- H: Oh right, with all our photos from when we finished school. Wow!
- K: That's right. And look, there's you. Oh Harry, look at that hairstyle!
- H: Oh come on, lots of boys had long hair then.
- K: Yeah, but it was green!
- H: Ha ha! I know. Moving quickly on ... so where are you?
- K: Oh no, we don't need to look at –
- H: Come on ... oh, there you are! Kim, that's a good photo. You were very good-looking at school.
- K: Oh, but not now? Thanks!
- H: No, of course you are now, too!
- K: Aww, thanks. I was very quiet at school though.
- H: Hmm, maybe, but you were very hard-working. Which, of course, you are now, too. But you're not quiet now, you're funny. Anyway, who else is there? What about your friend Luisa?

- K: Let me see. Oh, here she is.
- H: Oh my, look at those clothes! Aren't they funny? I don't think she liked me. She wasn't friendly to me at all, she always called me names.
- K: Oh, I don't think so. She wasn't very friendly to anyone. She was just very quiet. She's different now though, she's got a really interesting job and she's very kind.
- H: So, who else is there? Do you remember that boy with long blonde hair? He was always at the back of the class and he was very quiet.
- K: Oh yes, Shaun? Here he is. All of the girls liked him. He had these beautiful blue eyes ...

UNIT 6 Recording 1

C = Connor R = Rachel

- C: It's my dad's 60th birthday this year and I don't know what to buy him.
- R: What does he like?
- C: Well, when they were young, my parents really liked camping, you know staying in a tent in the countryside. We always went on camping holidays when I was a child. But he's too old to stay in a tent now.
- R: What about a 'glamping' experience?
- C: A ... what?
- R: Glamping. It's like camping, but it's really comfortable. I went glamping with my husband last summer. He bought me a glamping weekend as a birthday present.
- C: Oh yeah? What did you do?
- R: Well, we arrived there around 2 p.m. and the manager showed us our tent. Well, I say tent, but it was more like a nice hotel room!
- C: Why was that?
- R: It was really big inside, you could walk around. And it was luxury. There was a real bed, a fire, a TV ... even a little kitchen.
- C: Really? Did you cook?
- R: Ha! No, we didn't. It was my birthday! Actually, we just sat outside in the afternoon, then we ate out in town.
- C: What did you eat?
- R: Italian food. I had pasta and my husband had chicken.
- C: What did you do the next day?
- R: The next morning we woke up quite early, had breakfast, then walked along the river. It was beautiful. Then we drove to a little restaurant and had lunch.
- C: When did you leave?
- R: We left just after lunch, at twelve o'clock.
- C: So, did you like it? Was it a good experience?
- R: Definitely. It was really nice to stay in the countryside, but in a comfortable way, you know?
- C: That's a great idea for a present. My mum and dad can stay there together. Thanks Rachel!

UNIT 7 Recording 1

P = Presenter J = Jeff

- P: Hi, I'm Christine Evans and welcome to today's episode of Life and Times. With me in the studio today is Jeff Baines, who grows a lot of his own food at home. So, Jeff, what exactly do you grow?
- J: Almost everything. I grow lots of vegetables, things like potatoes, beans, that kind of thing. I also grow some fruit, mainly apples, and some oranges. I grow herbs in the kitchen, too. I love cooking with them because they make my meals taste much better.
- P: What about meat? Are you a vegetarian?
- J: Well, I don't eat a lot of meat, but I'm not really a vegetarian. I've got a few chickens and they give me fresh eggs every day.
- P: So, do you grow everything you need?
- J: Oh no, not everything. There are a few things I buy, like milk, sugar and sometimes some sweets or cakes. But I think I make the majority of what I eat. It's definitely cheaper than buying all my food.
- P: That's amazing. How did you start?
- J: Well, a few years ago I moved to a new house and I saw that the garden got a lot of sunlight in the day. So I decided to plant some tomatoes. That first summer they grew really, really well and I had hundreds of tomatoes. I had tomato soup, tomato sauce, tomato salads ... By the end of the summer I didn't want to see another tomato ever again!
- P: Ha! Yes, I can imagine.
- J: So, the next year I tried a few different vegetables, and they all grew really well, too. Every year I grow more and more.
- P: Why do you do it?
- J: Well, I think it's important to grow your own food. Some people do it because it's cheaper than buying it all in supermarkets, and this is true, but it's not why I do it. For me it's a wonderful feeling to eat food that I know I cared for and loved myself. It's also good to control what you grow and what you eat so that you don't waste or throw away food.
- P: Thanks Jeff. And one last question: do you still grow tomatoes?
- J: Ha! Just a few.

UNIT 8 Recording 1

P = Presenter K = Kevin

- P: Next we're talking to Kevin Anderton, a 33-year-old office worker from the UK. At the moment, Kevin is cycling around the world and he's kindly agreed to take some time out to speak to us. Kevin, welcome. Where are you at the moment?
- K: Hi, I'm staying in a small town in the north of Argentina at the moment. The weather isn't great – it's raining a lot – so I'm having a break from the trip for a day or two.
- P: Oh, that sounds like here in London. It's cold and raining here! So, Kevin, why did you decide to cycle around the world?
- K: Well, it all started a few years ago. I had a boring desk job and I realised I didn't want to sit in front of a computer for eight hours a day at work. I really wanted to see the world and I love cycling, so I thought, why not?
- P: What's a typical day for you?

- K: Well, as I said, I'm not cycling at the moment, I'm enjoying the local food and culture. But I usually get up around 5 a.m. and have breakfast. It's important to eat well because I need the energy, but I can't eat too much. Then I just get on my bike and go!
- P: How far do you cycle each day?
- K: It depends where I am, what the weather's like, that kind of thing. I try to cycle at least a hundred kilometres a day though. The most I travelled in one day was two hundred and five kilometres. That was cycling down a mountain, so it was easier.
- P: Wow, that's a lot! Where do you sleep?
- K: I usually sleep outside, so I try to travel in the summer months when the weather is warm. I really enjoy a camp fire and having dinner outside at the end of a long day of cycling.
- P: Yeah, that does sound nice. So, finally, what advice can you give for someone who wants to cycle around the world?
- K: Start small. Maybe go for a ride at the weekend near your home and sleep outside in a tent. Try it and see if you like it. Then, maybe go on a short cycling holiday. The best thing about travelling like this is that you experience the environment, people and culture in the best way. You get close to the environment and the people. I love it!
- P: Great, thanks for sharing your experience with us Kevin and good luck with the rest of the trip!
- K: Thank you.

UNIT 9 Recording 1

C = Chris M = Magda

- C: So, I think I might try this new diet.
- M: Oh, really? What is it?
- C: It's called a ketogenic diet, or 'keto'. Basically you eat lots of fat – things like oil, meat, cheese, that kind of thing.
- M: OK.
- C: Then you eat very little food with carbohydrates – things like sugar, bread, pasta.
- M: Hmm, I don't think that's a good idea. It sounds like a fad to me.
- C: A fad? What do you mean?
- M: You know, a diet that gives you good results quickly, but it's difficult to continue for a long time. They can also be pretty unhealthy.
- C: I see what you mean. Hmm, I guess this diet does sound a bit unhealthy. Also, I love bread!
- M: I know you do!
- C: So, what should I do?
- M: Well, I think you should change more than your food. Think about the long term. Find something that works for you. Do more exercise. Maybe start a new sport or hobby.
- C: Maybe I could go cycling?
- M: Yes, why don't you cycle to work? That way it can be part of your everyday routine.
- C: That's a great idea.
- M: You should eat what you want, too, but try eating less, have smaller meals. You can use an app to record what you eat, that really helps, I think.
- C: Good idea. Thanks Magda, that's really good advice.
- M: You're welcome!

UNIT 10 Recording 1

P = Presenter S = Scott A = Amelia

- P: Hello, and welcome to Techworld. I'm here as usual with Scott and Amelia and today we're discussing the question, 'Do we communicate more or less with modern technology?' So, Scott, what do you think?
- S: Definitely less. My teenage son is really into video games. He just stays in his bedroom all evening. He never talks to us!
- P: Amelia, do you agree?
- A: Not really. Scott, your son is probably playing games online and talking to people all over the world. So he's communicating more than usual.
- S: But it's not the same. When I was his age, I spent time with my friends, having conversations and going out, talking to people. I don't think it's healthy to stay inside your bedroom all the time, playing games.
- A: Have you ever played an online game, Scott?
- S: No, I haven't.
- A: There's a lot of communication in games. You often have to speak to different kinds of people all around the world. So you actually communicate with people more than we did when we were his age.
- S: Hmm ...
- A: And it's not just online games. Social media is also important because we can meet people from all over the world and actually make new friends. In fact, I know someone who got married to someone they met on social media! Without modern technology that wouldn't be possible.
- S: I understand, but I think the quality of communication these days is worse. For example, we don't have long telephone conversations and connect with people in the same way. We just send a quick text message with important information. We don't ask, 'How are you?', 'How was your day?'. There's no small talk. These things are important because they help us connect to the people we know.
- A: Maybe, but we do connect with a lot of new people, more than before.
- P: OK, well two very different opinions there. So, listeners, what do you think? Call us or send us an email and tell us your thoughts.

We thought it was brilliant because the food is real Mexican street food.

I think the food is delicious because it's all fresh.

It's also cheap because it's a food truck, not a restaurant.

It has a nice atmosphere because Guillermo and the people who work with him are very friendly.

It gets crowded later in the evening because the food truck is very popular in the local area.

I really like this place because it's cheap, comfortable and the food is delicious!
