READING Part One

What is the task?

You will have 5 questions, each of which consists of one short text of between 15-30 words. The texts may be from notices and signs, packaging information, notes, emails, cards, text messages, postcards or websites.

Beside each text are 3 sentences, options A, B and C. You need to choose which one describes what is said in the text.

What you need to do

Read the text for each question. As you are reading a text, first decide who or what the subject of the text is. Pay special attention when extra information about the subject is given, like age or age groups. Then decide what event, situation or activity is being described and how this affects the subject. Note any extra information given about these things; for example, details like dates or times.

Let's practise!

Look at the text. Think about a) who the notice is for b) what action the notice requires c) who is responsible for the notice d) why they wrote it.

Wanted

Saturday assistant for shop in town centre for the summer. Students preferred. Experience not essential. For details and an application form, contact Maggie Smith on 0212 4453403.

Answers to the above questions are: a) students b) to apply for a job and ask for details c) Maggie Smith d) to find a shop assistant for Saturdays in the summer.

Tip: Look at the important words in the notice.

Hint: Key words: Saturday assistant, shop, summer students, experience, details, application form, Maggie Smith.

Think about what is said about each of these things - e.g.

Who can be a Saturday assistant? Why is a shop mentioned?

Now decide if the statements are T (True) or F (False).

1. You must be a student to apply for the job. _____
2. The job is a permanent position. _____
3. To apply for the position, you don't need experience. _____
4. Anyone interested in the job should ring for an interview. _____
5. You can collect application forms from Maggie Smith. _____

Answers

1. False as the notice says 'students preferred'; however, it is not necessary to be a student.
2. False as the job is only 'for the summer'.
3. True as experience is 'not essential'.
4. False as anyone interested in the job should ring Maggie Smith 'for more details' and 'an application form' rather than to arrange an interview.
5. False as those interested in the job are asked to contact Maggie Smith to be sent an application form, rather than collecting one from her.

EXAM PRACTICE

Below is a text with questions. This is like an exam task, with options A, B and C for each question, rather than True/False answers which you had previously.

Before you answer these questions, find the key words and decide why are they mentioned.

Tip: Be careful, as incorrect options may appear to be correct.

When different dates are mentioned, make sure you know which dates refer to what event/activity e.g. (in the example) what will happen on June 9th and what will take place on June 1st?

Also, when different places are mentioned be careful not to confuse what events will happen at each place e.g. (in the example) a gym and the secretary's office are mentioned. Think about what will happen in each place.

Bring and Buy Sale

Millfield School will have a sale on Saturday, June 9th, to raise money for a new gym.

Please bring items for sale to the secretary's office by June 1st.

Question 1

- A. The sale will take place in the new gym.
- B. Items for sale should be left in the secretary's office.
- C. Millfield School wants to buy items to sell.

Question 2

- A. Items for the sale will be sold on June 1st.
- B. Sale items will be collected between June 1st and June 9th.
- C. The sale will take place on June 9th.

Answers

Question 1

Answer A is incorrect as the sale is to raise money for the gym, but the sale won't take place in the gym.

Answer B is correct as the notice tells people to 'bring items for sale to the secretary's office'.

Answer C is incorrect as 'items for sale' are wanted and there is no mention of the school paying for these items.

Question 2

Answer A is incorrect as people are asked to bring sale items to the secretary's office 'by June 1st' but the sale itself will be on Saturday June 9th.

Answer B is incorrect as items will be collected at the secretary's office until June 1st or 'by June 1st'.

Answer C is correct as 'Millfield School will have a sale on Saturday, June 9th.'

READING Part Two

What is the task?

You are given a topic, (e.g. places, activities) and a subject group (e.g. students, teenagers etc.). You are then given a task which asks you to match people in the subject group to information connected to the topic e.g. an activity/ place etc.

Following this are descriptions of 5 different people (about 35 words each) in questions 6-10. The descriptions include things like personality, likes/dislikes, particular skills and interests of each person.

These descriptions should be matched to five of the eight short texts (A-H) that follow (about 55 words each) all with the same theme as discussed at the beginning of the task.

You need to match each person with a description.

There are 3 extra descriptions that do not match.

What you need to do

First, read through the descriptions of the different people. As you do this, think about how this information is connected to the theme of paragraphs A-E. If, for instance, the theme is about different types of holiday, then look for information in texts 6-10 about each person's interests and holiday preferences. Try to find key words that will help you to match the descriptions of people with the correct short text.

Let's practise!

Below are descriptions of 3 people and 5 different holidays. The task is to match a person with the holiday that would suit them best.

People

1. Harry is very shy and would like to make new friends. He likes travelling alone and wants to see new places but he doesn't have much money to spend on accommodation.

2. Diana loves meeting people. She would like to share her holiday experience with other people and to see as many new places as possible. Diana hates cooking and loves travelling in luxury.

3. Dave wants to go on holiday with his wife and two young children. He wants somewhere his children can play and be looked after. He can afford somewhere a bit more expensive but dislikes spending money on eating out.

Holidays - Key words

photography, playing a musical instrument, art (sculpture), doing quizzes, model making, dancing, camping, cookery

A. Mediterranean Cruise

Travel around the sunny Mediterranean in style! Enjoy all-inclusive meals on board ship and entertainment in the evenings. On sunny days, walk on the large outside decks and join in our daily social activities. We offer keep-fit and relaxation classes, as well as classes in art and languages to keep you interested!

B. All-inclusive resort

Enjoy the sun and sea and not having to cook any of your own meals! Our resort hotel has everything you need for fun in the sun. We have a large heated outdoor swimming pool, a restaurant, a bar and friendly staff. For children, there is a recreation area with organised games in the afternoon.

C. Hostel holidays

Stay in good, modern accommodation. Rooms are shared and meals can be provided extra at a reasonable cost. A good place to stay if you want to see many places but don't want to spend too much on somewhere to stay.

Hint: Find the words in the description of each person that give a clue as to what type of holiday they like. You need to look at words that describe character, interests and holiday preferences. Then, look at the main text and find the key words that describe each holiday and anything that suggests the type of person that would like them.

KEY WORDS

People

Harry: shy, new friends, likes travelling alone, wants to see new places, not much money for accommodation

Diana: loves meeting people, share experience, new places, hates cooking, loves luxury

Dave: with wife, two young children, wants children to be looked after, somewhere expensive, dislikes eating out

Holidays

A. Mediterranean Cruise

Travel in style, all-inclusive meals, social activities, classes

B. All-inclusive resort

not have to cook, everything you need, children, recreation area, organised games

C. Hostel holidays

good, modern accommodation, rooms shared and meals extra, see many places, don't spend too much on somewhere to stay.

Answers

Harry: Holiday C is the correct answer as shared rooms means that Harry will be able to make new friends. Also, the accommodation is cheap, as it is for people who 'don't want to spend too much on somewhere to stay' and the hostel is located somewhere where you can visit 'many places'; so this holiday provides everything that Harry wants.

Holiday A is incorrect, as although the holiday offers 'social activities' and Harry wants 'to make new friends' this holiday is probably expensive as it allows people to travel 'in style' and is on a cruise ship. This wouldn't suit Harry who 'doesn't have much money to spend on accommodation' and who 'likes travelling alone'.

Holiday B is also incorrect, as the text does not mention price or social activities or the possibility of travelling, which is unlikely, since it is an all-inclusive holiday, based at one hotel. Therefore, the holiday does not match Harry's requirements of (1) cheap accommodation, (2) being able to travel alone and (3) meeting new people.

Diana: Holiday A is the correct answer. Since this is a cruise, Diana will be able to 'share her holiday experience' and 'see as many places as possible'. In addition, the cruise allows clients to 'Travel ... in style' and offers 'social activities' which would suit Diana as she 'loves travelling in luxury' and 'loves meeting people'. Also, there are 'all-inclusive meals' so Diana wouldn't have to cook, which she hates doing.

Holiday B is incorrect, as although clients do 'not have to cook' which would suit Diana, who 'hates cooking', there are no organised adult activities to allow her to meet people, and because it is a hotel-based holiday, since it is all-inclusive, she isn't likely to see new places either. In addition, the holiday is unsuitable for her because although everything is provided, there is no mention of luxury, which Diana requires.

Holiday C is incorrect, as although the hostel location would allow Diana to 'see many places', as well as avoid cooking (since meals 'can be provided') and the shared rooms would mean that she could meet people, the accommodation is not the 'luxury' holiday Diana would like, as it is in a hostel with shared rooms.

Dave: Holiday B is the correct answer. Meals are provided, as the hotel is 'all-inclusive' so Dave won't have to spend money on restaurant meals. Also, the hotel has a recreation area for children with 'organised activities' in the afternoon, so staff will be able to look after Dave's children and he can relax as he wants.

Holiday A is incorrect, as although it is probably expensive, allowing clients to travel 'in style' and there are 'all-inclusive meals', which would suit Dave who doesn't mind spending money on accommodation but doesn't like paying for restaurant meals, the holiday is unsuitable as there are no childcare facilities available.

Holiday C is also incorrect, as although meals can be provided at a reasonable price (so that Dave wouldn't have to spend money on restaurants) the cheap, shared accommodation would not suit Dave who doesn't mind spending money on a holiday and is with his young family. In addition, there are no childcare facilities offered with this holiday, so this would not suit Dave, either.

EXAM PRACTICE

For each question choose the correct answer.

The following people (1-5) are interested in doing a course. There are some adverts (A-E) for 8 different courses. Decide which course would be the best one for each person. There are 3 courses which do not match with anyone and are extra.

1. Jenny isn't good at drawing or painting but she likes making things and being creative. She is quite lazy and needs something to aim for, otherwise she loses interest in what she is doing.

2. Gary works for an English language school. He books courses for foreign students who want to study at the school. He would like to teach, too, but he feels nervous about getting up and speaking in front of a class.

3. Ben works at his desk all day, in front of a computer. He likes meeting people and wants to get fit, doing gentle exercise. As he is indoors all day he would like to be outside more in his free time.

4. Terry is a retired photographer and he loves reading gardening books. He doesn't have a garden but loves visiting gardens that are open to the public and taking pictures of flower displays. He would like to do something creative and a bit more unusual but can't afford to do a full-term course.

5. Sheila often has foreign students to stay with her. She can speak two European languages well and loves showing students around her town. However, she would like to learn more about places of interest in her area as she feels her knowledge is limited.

A. Photography for Beginners

This course will teach you how to take better photos. This 5-week course will help you to develop your photography skills so you can take good photos indoors and outdoors.

B. Flower arranging

Many of us love looking at flowers but don't know how to arrange them. We often pick lovely flowers, put them in a vase and then we are disappointed with the result. This weekend workshop will help you improve your flower arranging skills to create the perfect arrangement.

C. Yoga

Take part in yoga classes to relax and improve your fitness level. Classes are suitable for all ages and no experience is necessary. Morning and evening classes are available. There is a café downstairs where you can stay to chat to other class members after sessions.

D. Basic Spanish

Learn how to communicate in Spanish. We teach you basic vocabulary so you can feel confident enough to order meals in a restaurant or shop in local markets when you are abroad.

E. Improve your confidence

Do you feel uncomfortable speaking in front of an audience? If so, then this is the course for you! Learn how to look and feel confident when speaking in public. We will teach you simple ways to relax and to communicate effectively to a group of people.

F. Local History

Buildings and people make a place interesting; but how many of us knows much about local history? This course teaches you about where you live and the history behind it.

G. Tai Chi

All ages and all levels of fitness welcome! We aim to strengthen your body through slow, focused movements. All classes are outdoors as this makes the exercises more effective. Come early, before each class, to meet new members and have a chat!

H. Sculpture classes

We teach you how to make sculptures using clay, paper and found objects. No experience necessary; only your enthusiasm! This is a fun course, however, we regularly assess work and choose the best to exhibit in our end-of-term show.

Answers

1. H Since Jenny wants to do something creative, options A, B or H might, at first, seem possible. But only H offers something she can 'aim for' since there is an 'end-of-term show'.

2. E Gary 'feels nervous about '...speaking in front of a class' but wants to teach. This course is the only one that would help Gary to 'look and feel confident when speaking in public... and to communicate effectively to a group of people' (such as a school class).

3. G Since Ben 'likes meeting people' and 'wants to get fit', options C and G both appear correct, at first. A yoga course would improve his fitness level and a café downstairs from the studio would allow Ben to socialise with other class members. Tai Chi courses would also help Ben to get fit, as classes aim to 'strengthen your body' and they would be an opportunity for Ben to meet and chat with other members before each class. However, only the Tai Chi course offers outdoor exercise which would suit Ben who 'would like to be outside more in his free time'.

4. B Terry was a professional photographer, so option A would not be suitable as it is for beginners, although photography is an interest of his. Since Terry wants to do something 'creative', H and B might seem possible options. However, since H is a longer course, with regular assessment and B is a 'weekend course', B suits Terry better as he 'can't afford to do a full-term course'. In addition, since Terry loves 'taking pictures of flower displays', this is the ideal course for him.

5. F Sheila has an interest in languages as she can 'speak two European languages well', so option D, which is a language course might first appear to be suitable. However, since Sheila 'would like to learn more about places of interest' rather than another foreign language, F is the best match.

A, C and D are incorrect answers.

READING

Part Three

What is the task?

You will have a text (around 350 words) with 5 questions, each with multiple choice answers (A, B, C or D). These answers will be short statements. They will test your general understanding of the text, as well as details and opinions of people referred to in the text. The final question will be a global understanding question, requiring you to answer based on the whole text.

What you need to do

Read through the whole text to get a general idea of what it is about and who is writing it and why. This will help, especially with the last question (question 15) which needs you to understand the writer's opinion or attitude regarding the topic of the text. Next read the questions and multiple choice options. The answers to the questions follow the order of the text, so read and answer each question and the multiple choice options that go with it in order, too.

Let's practise!

Read the text below. Then, answer the following questions.

- 1) Who do you think Tim is? 2) Why is Tim writing the text?
3) What does Tim want the reader to think about?

Answers

1. Tim is a boy or young adult as he mentions a home rule 'not to bring phones to the dinner table' (para. 2) and looking at phone messages 'when I think my parents aren't watching me' which suggests he is still young enough to live at home and have to obey his parents.

2. He is writing the text to discuss where mobiles should and shouldn't be used. He mentions their use on public transport (para.1) and how he dislikes this and that in 'some places...it is socially unacceptable to make and receive calls', at the dinner table at home being one example (para. 2) and 'hospitals and doctors' surgeries' being another (para.3).

3. He wants the reader to think about where mobile phones should not be used. He states that 'there are still some places where it is socially unacceptable to make and receive calls' (para.1) and he ends with a strong view on this subject 'This is one rule (not using mobiles in doctor's surgeries) I never break and I think no-one else should, either' (para. 3).

Now re-read the text and answer the questions which follow. The last question asks about the writer's attitude to mobile phone use.

Mobile phones in the modern world

Everywhere you go nowadays you see people on mobile phones. People talk on phones on public transport, in shops and at work. It has become a way of life. Much as I dislike hearing other people's conversations on the bus or on the train, if my own phone rings when I'm on the bus, I'll pick it up and talk. However, there are still some places where it is socially unacceptable to make and receive calls, both in private as well as in public.

At home, we have a rule not to bring phones to the dinner table, for example. Many parents believe that the only conversation at dinner should be between family members and not ones on the phone to friends or colleagues. I do understand this but often I can't help looking at my phone messages when I think my parents aren't watching me.

Outside the home, places where you should not use mobile phones are hospitals and doctors' surgeries. This is one rule I never break and I think no-one else should, either.

EXAM PRACTICE

- What does Tim do when his phone rings on the bus?
  - He only answers if it is urgent.
  - He always answers every call.
  - He ignores every call.
  - He switches it off.
- How would Tim describe his parents' rule on mobile use at dinner?
  - relaxed
  - strict
  - unfair
  - stupid
- What would Tim tell a friend about using mobile phones?
  - I think it's great that we can use them when and where we want.
  - There should only be rules about not using mobile phones on public transport.
  - I never use my phone when I'm not supposed to.
  - I sometimes use my phone when I'm not meant to.

Answers

1.B Although Tim admits that he dislikes 'hearing other people's conversations on the bus', he says that 'if my own phone rings when I'm on the bus, I'll pick it up and talk' (para.1). As he answers all calls, A and C are incorrect and so is D.

2.B When Tim is describing his parents' rule 'not to bring phones to the dinner table' (para.2) he says he can only check his phone in secret when 'my parents aren't watching me' suggesting that the rule is a strict one, so B is correct and option A is therefore incorrect. Since he says 'I do understand this' about his parents' rules about mobile phones at dinner, C and D are incorrect, as he obviously understands and agrees with the rule.

3.D Although Tim says (para.3) 'one rule I never break' is using phones in 'places where you should not use mobiles' like 'hospitals and doctors' surgeries', he doesn't always obey rules about mobile phone use. At home, although there is a 'rule not to bring phones to the dinner table' (para.2) he says he 'can't help looking at my phone messages when I think my parents aren't watching me'. Since he disobeys rules about mobile phone usage C is incorrect. A is not correct either, as Tim dislikes people using phones on buses and trains 'I dislike hearing other people's conversations on the bus or on the train' (para.1) and believes that there are 'places where you should not use mobiles' (para.3). B is incorrect as Tim believes that the rule not to use mobiles in hospitals and doctors' surgeries is one that he wouldn't break and 'no-one else should, either' and although he dislikes 'hearing other people's conversations on the bus or on the train' (para.1) he doesn't say that there should be a rule against mobile phone use on public transport.

READING

Part Four

What is the task?

You have a short text (about 300 words) with 5 gaps. After the text there are 8 sentences (A-H), five of which have been removed from the text. You need to choose which sentence fits each gap. There are 3 extra sentences.

What you need to do

Read through the text first. As you do so, think about the main topic of each paragraph. This will help you later to focus on which gap-fill options are more likely. Do not look at the sentence options yet because more than one option may seem possible and it is better to get more information from the text before you do this; otherwise, you may get the wrong answer.

Next, look at the text again and focus on the sentences before and after each gap-fill. Think about the following: what is being discussed before and after the gap? Is it the same topic? Who or what is referred to before and after each gap? Are they the same in each case? Look for subject and object pronouns to help you. Also, look for any words that suggest a sequence of ideas e.g 'firstly' 'secondly' 'finally'.

You can also look for words used to add to an example, emphasising an idea e.g 'moreover' 'furthermore' or words which introduce a contrast e.g 'but' 'however' 'yet' or result e.g 'because of this' 'as a result', 'therefore'.

After you have done this, look at the gap-fill sentences. For each question, find a sentence which matches the topic being discussed in the text before and/or after the gap-fill. At first, there may seem to be at least two possible answers. To help you to decide which answer the correct one is, check if the subject or object in the gap-fill sentence matches the one before and/or after the gap-fill. Also, see if any sequence, emphasis, contrast or result words/phrases used before and after the gap-fill fit with the gap-fill sentence. If these words or phrases are used in the gap-fill, then check if they link to the ideas in the text which are before and after the gap-fill.

Let's practise!

Look at the short text below.

In the past, it was unusual for anyone to be a vegetarian. _____ This made it difficult if you were vegetarian and wanted to eat out.

- What is the topic that is discussed before the gap-fill?
  - How people thought vegetarians were strange.
  - How few people used to be vegetarians.
  - What type of people used to be vegetarian.
- What is the topic that is discussed after the gap-fill?
  - Why people stopped being vegetarian.
  - Why vegetarians used to be difficult people.
  - A problem that vegetarians had.

Answers

1 B In the text it says that being a vegetarian was 'unusual' which are the 'few people' referred to in option B who are vegetarians.

2 C In the text it says that something was 'difficult' which is the 'problem' referred to in option C.

3. Now look at the 3 sentences (1-3) below. Match each sentence with one that has the same meaning (A-C).

1. As a result, few restaurants offered meat-free meals.
2. That wasn't the only problem vegetarians had.
3. Vegetarian meals are healthier than eating meat.

- A. An advantage of being a vegetarian.
 B. Another disadvantage of being a vegetarian.
 C. A reason why vegetarian meals were rarely on menus.

Answers

- 1 C In sentence 1, 'As a result' is used to describe why an action/situation happened. C refers to a reason for a situation and so it is the correct answer.
- 2 B In sentence 2, 'That wasn't the only problem' tells us that another problem was mentioned previously in the text. B also refers to a second problem following on from another one 'Another disadvantage'... and so is correct.
- 3 A In sentence 3, a benefit of eating vegetarian meals is referred to, which is the 'advantage' described in A, which is the correct answer.

Now look at the sentences before and after the gap-fill again:

In the past, it was unusual for anyone to be a vegetarian.
 _____ This made it difficult if you were vegetarian and wanted to eat out.

Look again at question 3 and sentences (1-3) and their meanings (A-C). Which sentence would be the best fit for the gap? Remember to focus on the topic which is being discussed and on key words, like pronouns, linking words 'As a result'...etc.

Answer: Sentence 1. The topic before the gap-fill is about how there weren't many vegetarians in the past. This links to Sentence 1 which describes the difficult situation that this created for vegetarians, 'As a result'. The situation described in this sentence then links to the next sentence which states how this situation was a problem 'This made it difficult...' 'This' refers to the lack of restaurants mentioned in sentence 1.

Sentence 2 is incorrect as it refers to a second problem 'wasn't the only problem' suggesting that a problem was mentioned in the sentence before the gap-fill, which is not the case. In addition, Sentence 2 does not link to the sentence after the gap-fill which assumes that the reader knows what is being referred to 'This made it difficult' although this is not made clear in Sentence 2.

Sentence 3 is incorrect as it is a general statement/fact which does not really link to the sentences before or after the gap-fill, which refer to a past situation (about the number of vegetarians and a problem that this created).

EXAM PRACTICE

Look at the text below. 3 sentences are missing. Choose which ones to put in the correct gap, from sentences A-E. There are 2 extra sentences you won't need to use.

Smart phones in the classroom

Many years ago, teachers used only chalk and blackboard to write on, in the classroom. Their students just had their textbooks, notebooks and pens.

1. _____. Teachers use smartboards, which connect to the internet. 2. _____. They use their smart phones to access the internet during lessons.

Although smart phones are useful and students can find out a lot of information, mobile use can be a problem, too.

3. _____. They think that they stop students from concentrating on the lesson. Some teachers even ban them from the classroom.

- A Students also use new technology.
 B They use these at home, too.
 C Today things are very different.
 D This is why students dislike lessons.
 E Many teachers find them annoying.

Answers

1 C 'Today...' introduces a situation that contrasts with one mentioned before the gap-fill: 'Many years ago...'

2 A 'Students also use this technology' links: (a) to the previous sentence, which describes teachers using internet technology and (b) with the following sentence where 'They' refers back to the students referred to in A.

3 E The sentence refers to the reaction of teachers to something that is 'annoying' i.e mobile phone use in class. This continues the topic of the previous sentence 'they (smart phones) can be a problem, too'. 'Them' in Sentence E also refers to smart phones, mentioned before the gap-fill.

Also, Sentence E links to the sentence after the gap-fill, where 'they' refers back to 'Many teachers' mentioned in Sentence E. In addition, Sentence E, refers to teachers finding mobile phone use 'annoying', which links to reasons given for this in the sentence after the gap-fill 'They think that they stop students from concentrating'.

Sentences B and D are incorrect.

READING Part Five

What is the task?

You will have a short text (about 150 words) with 6 gaps. There is one missing word in each gap. Below the text there will be 4 different options for each gap. The missing words may be adjectives, nouns or verbs (and rarely adverbs). For this part you are being tested mainly on vocabulary, not grammar.

What you need to do

Read through the text quickly so you understand what it is about. Then, focus on the sentences with gap-fills. Make sure you read the whole sentence in each case. Before reading through the question options, try to see if you can find the answer to the gap-fills using your vocabulary knowledge. This will help guide you to the correct answer and not be confused by similar-looking word options. Next, check if your answer is amongst the question options. There are 4 options for each question, A, B, C or D. If you don't find your answer in the options that are given, try to find one that could fit and make sure it is the correct one by deciding why the other options are the incorrect ones.

Why sport is important

Children need to learn many things at school. They have lessons for maths, English, history and many other subjects, too. However, children must also 1 _____. They have lots of 2 _____ and need to use this so they can concentrate better on lessons. 3 _____ sport also helps children to learn to work together, by playing 4 _____ sports. Sport also helps children to keep fit and healthy. This is why all schools should have sports and not teach school subjects only.

| 4. A. individual | B. team        | C. class   | D. leisure |

Answers

1. A is correct; exercise (v) means to keep fit by running, walking, going to the gym etc. B perform (v) means to act, or play an instrument in front of an audience. There is no reference to theatre or music here, so this is an incorrect choice.

C improve (v) means to get better at doing something. You can improve in a school subject. Improve also needs an object, so this is an incorrect choice. D enjoy (v) needs an object or reflexive pronoun (e.g. enjoy themselves) so this is also an incorrect choice.

2. C is correct; energy (n) is the power you have to do sport or tasks. A excitement (n) is a feeling that you can't wait to do or see something. You cannot 'use' excitement; you only feel it and a person cannot have 'lots' of excitement. B imagination (n) is the ability to think of new ideas. It does not help you to concentrate. D courage (n) is being brave when you have to do something that makes you scared.

3. C is correct; doing (v) is used to describe taking part in activities like sports or trying to complete tasks etc. A making (v) refers to creating or building something or arranging plans. B taking (v) you take part (phr v) in a sport or a game but you don't 'take' sport. D having (v) The school is having a sports day but 'having' sport is incorrect.

4. B is correct; team (n) sports involve 2 different sets of players competing against each other. A individual (n) refers to one person only. C class (n) is a group of children who study a subject, like maths or English, together at school but does not refer to a group playing sports. D leisure (n) refers to the time spent not working. People do sport for leisure.

READING Part Six

What is the task?

You will have a short text (about 150 words) with 6 words missing. Unlike Part 5, you are not given any answer options. You need to find which words are missing using your knowledge of vocabulary and, mostly, grammar. The missing words may be adjectives, nouns, parts of phrasal verbs, verbs in different tenses, fixed phrases, prepositions, linking words and so on.

What you need to do

Read through the whole text first. Try to spot any phrasal verbs, for example, verbs like 'take' 'bring' 'give'. These will need a preposition after them e.g. take up, bring up, give in. If a verb does not make sense on its own (e.g. I have given ... eating sweets), then it is probably a phrasal verb. Also look for any verbs that take a preposition (e.g. look (at) or gerund e.g. stop doing something).

Where there is a gap before the main verb, look for a subject that agrees with it. If a subject is not missing, then a modal verb, like might, may, should, must or can is possible when the main verb does not have 'to' before it.

If there is a gap after the main verb and there is no other object in the sentence, look for an object pronoun to go with it.

Once you think you have found the word, check that it fits with the words before and after the gap-fill. Make sure that you spell the word correctly.

Let's practise!

Look at the text below. There are 6 gaps. To help you there are clues beside each gap-fill.

Living Abroad

Probably the most difficult thing about living abroad, is getting used 1 _____ (preposition) speaking a foreign language. Of course, this is 2 _____ (negative) necessary if you are just going somewhere 3 _____ (preposition) holiday. You only need to learn a 4 _____ (quantity) basic phrases. Another problem is eating out. You 5 _____ (modal) find it difficult to eat unusual food. However, 6 _____ (quantity) people agree that living abroad is a great experience.

Answers

- to. Get used to means to slowly accept something which is different.
- not. Not is used to make statements negative and may be placed before a verb, adverb, person etc.
- on. On holiday describes the period when you are actually having a holiday.
- few. A few means not many.
- may/might. These modal verbs are used to suggest something that is possible.
- most. Most describes the largest number of people or the greatest amount of something.

EXAM PRACTICE

Choose the correct word for each gap. Use only ONE word for each gap.

Looking for work

It is not always easy to find a job you like. Sometimes, you 1 _____ to start a job you don't like, just to earn money. Then, 2 _____ you find something better, you can leave your old job. Before 3 _____ do, though, make sure the new job is suitable. You don't want to end 4 _____ with something worse than you had before! Remember, it is always a good idea to tell your old boss 5 _____ least a fortnight before you leave. It isn't fair to disappear 6 _____ warning!

Answers

- have. Modal have to, shows that you must do something.
- if. A first conditional, if + present simple.
- you. Subject pronoun that agrees with 'do'.
- up. End up with is a phrasal verb, meaning that you find yourself in a situation that isn't part of a plan.
- at. At least is an expression referring to a minimum requirement.
- without. Preposition meaning that something is absent or missing.

WRITING Part One

What is the task?

You must answer this question. For this part, you need to write an email of about 100 words. You are given an email to read that is from a friend or someone you know. At the top of the email, you are given the name of the sender and the subject of the email. The email is quite short (around 100 words) and there are notes written beside the email, as if they were written from you. When you write a reply to this email, you need to use these notes in the order that they are written, to include them in your email. There are 4 different points that you will have to refer to and give an answer/information for.

What you need to do

First, read through the email. Then, look at each note beside the email. You will have to write an answer to each note as if you are the person who the email was sent to. Make sure you answer every point, otherwise you will lose marks. Do not write more than 100-120 words in your reply, as you won't have enough time to do so and you are more likely to make mistakes. Also, do not write under 100 words as the email will be too short and won't include all the necessary information. Remember to begin with a greeting phrase such as 'Hi, it was great to hear from you.' / 'Hi, thank you for emailing me.' and to end with an informal phrase such as 'Email me soon' / 'I hope to hear back from you soon.'

Note: Do not include an address at the top of your email, and don't write who the email is from or the subject of the email.

Let's practise!

Look at the email below, then look at the answer.

Find the 5 mistakes in the answer (spelling, punctuation, grammar or content).

EMAIL

From: Emma

Subject: Shopping trip

Hi Jill,

Did you find anything to wear to Gina's party next Saturday? If not, would you like to come shopping with me tomorrow?

I was planning to go around 10am to the shopping mall. Is that OK with you, or would you prefer to meet in the afternoon instead?

Afterwards we could go for a coffee and something to eat. What do you think?

Do you have a favourite restaurant?

Write back soon!

Emma

No, because ...

Hi Emma,
Thanks for your email. It's been a long time ago we last spoke or contacted each other.

No, I didn't find anything to wear, unfortunately, so I'd love to come shopping with you tomorrow. I would prefer to meet you in the afternoon, as I have to go with mum to visit my aunt in the morning but I will be free all afternoon.

I think it's a great idea to eat something after shopping, because we'll both be hungry!

I look forward to seeing you soon!

Now write an email in reply to the one below.

EMAIL

To: Lucy

Subject: Next Saturday

Hi Lucy,

I heard it's going to be sunny next Saturday, so let's go to the park! I thought we could meet at 2pm if you're free? OK!

Why don't we have a picnic or go on the boating lake? We could also go somewhere afterwards if you like. Say which I prefer

I know you said you had some exams soon but I couldn't remember when, so maybe you won't be free? Suggest

Anyway, write back soon and tell me what you think, Harriet Explain

Write an email to Harriet using all the notes in the question. Do not write more than 100-120 words.

Model Answer

Hi Harriet,
Thanks for your email. Yes, I'd love to come with you to the park, as I'm free that afternoon.

I think the idea of a picnic is great, but I don't really like going on boating lakes. I'm not good at swimming, you see!

Yes, we could go somewhere after the park. I do have exams, but they aren't until the end of the month. I've got lots of time before then to study and it would be good to relax and have some time off, especially as it's going to be sunny.

See you soon,
Lucy

WRITING Part Two

What is the task?

For this part, you can choose either to write a short article (Question 2) or a short story (Question 3). We will first look at the task for Question 2.

Question 2

You are given a short text (about 30 words) which is a notice usually written on a website, or in a magazine/newspaper, asking for readers to write an article. The title of the article is already given in the notice. This is followed by 2 or 3 short questions, relating to the topic of the title, all of which you must answer; otherwise, you will lose marks.

What you need to do

Read the title and questions carefully. Then, for each question, write down any ideas that you can think of that are related to it. Don't worry if you have 2 or 3 ideas, you can always choose later which you want to use. It is always better to choose ideas which you can write about because you know the vocabulary you need to use. Only write about what you are asked to, in the article. In your final version, make sure you have an introduction (1st paragraph) and a main part (2 paragraphs) where you develop your ideas, and include the information that is required, followed by a conclusion (last paragraph).

Let's practise!

You see this article in an English-speaking magazine. Write your answer in about 100 words.

Articles wanted!

Young people and mobile phones

Could you live without your phone?

Why are phones so important?

Do you think you use your phone too much?

The best articles answering these questions will be published on our website!

First, read the questions/prompts. Now make some notes on each idea, like the ones below.

Could you live without your phone?

No. Never tried. Use it daily/many hours a day.

Why are phones so important?

Chatting to friends/social media sites - posting photos, contacting friends / internet searches / emailing / apps / no/few public phone boxes

Do you think you use your phone too much?

Yes. Parents annoyed with me. Teachers tell me off for using it in class. Spend more time on phone than with friends.

Now think about the introduction. You will need to refer to the title of the article, here. Think about why young people and mobile phones are mentioned e.g most young people have them/use them daily/everywhere.

Next, think about what you will put in each paragraph. It's a good idea to discuss each question, in the order of the questions given, so you could talk about the first two questions in paragraph 2 and the last question, in paragraph 3. Try to avoid using exactly the same words as the questions themselves, using new words, if possible, which mean the same.

Finally, think about the conclusion. You need to finish with your own opinion. Do not introduce any new ideas here.

Once you have decided on content, think how you will introduce and link your ideas so they follow in a logical order and make sense. You can use words such as firstly, secondly, finally to sequence ideas and words like furthermore, moreover (not in the B1 Preliminary Wordlist), to add information to something you have already talked about. When you have a long list of examples, just choose one or two and introduce them with the words for example, or such as. Words like therefore, as a result can be used to explain why something happens or is true, and the words because and as can be used when you are talking about the reason for something.

Look at the article below which is the answer to Question 2 in the Practice section. Fill in the gaps using linking words from the vocabulary box.

firstly    secondly    as    such as    therefore

Everyone nowadays, especially young people, has a mobile phone. I know that I depend on my mobile. I can't imagine not having it with me all the time. This is because mobiles have become necessary in our everyday lives.

1 _____ I use them for so many things, 2 _____ texting or chatting to friends on social media and for searches on the internet.

3 _____, if you want to call someone it is sometimes the only way to contact them 4 _____ it is difficult to find a public phone when you are away from home; 5 _____, you need to carry a mobile with you.

I think I probably use my phone too often, but I don't think I'm different from anyone else who's my age.

Answers: 1. Firstly 2. such as 3. Secondly 4. as 5. therefore

EXAM PRACTICE

You see this notice on an international English website for young people.

Articles wanted!

Climate change

Do you think this is a real problem?

What can we do about it?

Can everyone help?

The best articles answering these questions will be published on our website!

Write your article.

Model Answer

Climate change

Today, you hear about climate change very often in the news.

Many people, including myself, worry about how this is affecting our world. We can see the damage that it is doing as the climate is changing and sea levels are rising. However, we can try to stop it.

Firstly, we can reduce pollution by using public transport more. Secondly, we can stop wasting energy, and also use natural sources of energy, such as wind and water.

I think that if everyone makes small changes to their life, we can do something about climate change before it is too late!

Question 3

For this question you will need to write a short story (about 100 words). You are given the first sentence of the story which you must use at the beginning of your own story.

What you need to do

When you read the sentence, decide what type of story it will be. Does the sentence suggest a funny story, or maybe a romantic or exciting/frightening one?

Look at the sentences below. What type of story do you think will follow on from the beginning sentence?

1. I looked up from my book and saw a stranger smiling at me.
2. Harry put down the phone, and started laughing.
3. As Lily opened her front door, she had a bad feeling.

Answers

1. Possibly a romantic story as the stranger is smiling. Maybe he/she will start a conversation which will lead to a relationship.
2. This might be a funny story as Harry is laughing after the phone call. Maybe someone made him laugh or he called someone for a joke.
3. This could be an exciting story as Lily has a 'bad feeling'. Something might happen next to make her scared e.g. there is a stranger in the house.

When you have decided what type of story you need to write, think of as many different ideas as you can and write them down. You can choose later which are the best to use. Then, group the ideas into different paragraphs. For the introduction, use the sentence that is given for you and give some background information (1 or 2 sentences). Then develop the story in the 2nd and 3rd paragraphs, concluding in the 4th paragraph.

Let's practise!

Let's use the first story as an example. Write notes for an introduction and for what you will put in each paragraph. Then, look at the suggested notes below.

Introduction:

I looked up from my book and saw a stranger smiling at me.
Remember seeing him earlier, at station, nearly knocked him down, running for train.

1st paragraph:

Feel embarrassed. Wonder what he is thinking.
Decide to speak to him.

2nd paragraph:

Man says we went to same college. Met before - I knocked into him by accident. He dropped all his books.
Suddenly I remember, apologise, he laughs.
We talk about our lives. Both single.

Conclusion:

He asks me out for dinner. Feel excited, happy, looking forward to meeting him again.

EXAM PRACTICE

Your English teacher has asked you to write a story. Your story must begin with this sentence:

As I was sitting on the beach, I saw something shiny buried in the sand.

Write your story.

Model Answer

As I was sitting on the beach, I saw something shiny buried in the sand. It looked like gold.

Curious, I started digging in the sand. I wasn't too excited, as shiny objects in the sand usually turn out to be buried drink cans. After a few seconds, I held the object in my hand; it was a wedding ring! I was very surprised. I realised that the ring must have great personal value and I wanted to return it to its owner.

Suddenly, I saw a man running towards me. He looked worried and upset. When he saw the ring, he gave me a big smile and a hug.

Finding this ring was better than finding any buried treasure!

LISTENING

The texts (audioscripts) in the Listening paper will be from a variety of listening situations. There will also be a variety of native-speaker accents. The texts may include:

- ☐ conversations at home or between friends (Parts 1, 2)
- ☐ radio announcements (Parts 1, 3)
- ☐ recorded messages (Parts 1, 3)
- ☐ parts of talks (Part 3)
- ☐ informational talks or radio programmes (Part 3)
- ☐ interviews with questions from a radio presenter (Part 4)

LISTENING Part One

What is the task?

In this section you will hear 7 short recordings. They may be conversations between 2 people, e.g. friends, or they may be recorded messages left on a phone, or an announcement e.g. at an airport.

You will have a question about each recording and for your answer you need to choose a picture which matches your answer. You will have 3 pictures to choose from, A, B or C, for each question. Each recording is played twice.

What you need to do

Read the question and look at the 3 pictures before you hear the recording for the first time. This way, you have an idea of what information you need to listen for, in the recording. The first time you hear the recording, try to understand general information (like who is talking, what they are talking about and where they are). It is likely that the conversations will mention something shown in each picture, so the correct answer might not be obvious at first.

Try to remember as much as you can about why the people are talking about what is shown in each picture. This will help you find the correct answer. Then, on the second playing check if your answer was correct.

Let's practise!

Look at the conversation below then answer the questions that follow with Y (Yes) or N (No).

Anna: Did you enjoy the football match yesterday, Ben?

Ben: Yes, thanks. There were lots of people, so there was a great atmosphere. But there were long queues to get into the stadium which was a bit annoying. Normally I don't have to queue as I buy my ticket online before the match.

Anna: Well, at least it didn't rain.

Ben: Yes, I hate bad weather. That's the problem with outdoor sports!

Questions

1. The crowds spoil the match. Y/N
2. Ben had to wait in a long queue. Y/N
3. The weather was bad for the match. Y/N

Answers

1. N Ben says that 'there was a great atmosphere' because there 'were lots of people'. The only problem he had with crowds was 'the long queues to get into the stadium'.

2. Y Ben says that 'there were long queues' and that 'Normally I don't have to queue' suggesting that this time he had to queue with many other people.

3. N Although Ben says 'I hate bad weather' it didn't actually rain, as Anna says 'At least it didn't rain' (during the match).

Now look at the pictures below.

Choose the picture A, B or C that correctly answers the question.

Question: What didn't Ben like about the football match?

Answer: A

EXAM PRACTICE

Read the conversation below. Then answer the question that follows by choosing picture A, B or C.

Dan: I don't think I'll watch any more TV.

Sally: Is that because the News is on next?

Dan: You know me, I'll watch anything! But if I watch any more TV I won't get my project finished on time.

Sally: So, will you go to bed late tonight?

Dan: Probably. And I won't get up early.

Sally: Ha! Well, that's nothing new, is it?

Question: Why won't Dan watch any more TV?

Answer B is correct. Dan has to complete a project. Dan tells Sally 'if I watch any more TV I won't get my project finished on time'.

Answer A is incorrect as Dan tells Sally 'I won't get up early' so this isn't the reason why he won't watch any more TV.

Answer C is incorrect as although Sally thinks Dan doesn't want to watch any more TV 'because the News is on next?' Dan replies 'You know me, I'll watch anything!'

LISTENING Part Two

What is the task?

In Listening Part 2, there are six short dialogues, each with a context sentence, as well as a question or a sentence to complete and three options A, B, or C.

You have to listen to the short conversation, then choose the option which best answers the question or completes the sentence. You hear each conversation twice.

What you need to do

Quickly read the question and the possible answers first. Look for any key words in the questions that you can listen for in the conversation. During the first listening you should focus on a general understanding of the conversation and choose the best option. Then, use the second listening to check that your answer is correct.

Let's practise!

Look at the question and possible answers below and the audioscript that follows it. Then, answer the questions.

You will hear two friends talking about a cafe they have been to.

What did the girl like best?

- A. the coffee      B. the view      C. the waiter

Read the conversation below between two friends.

B: I really enjoyed that. The coffee was great. How was your hot chocolate?

G: It was lovely and so was the waiter.

B: I thought you liked him from the way you kept smiling at him.

G: Oh, was it so obvious? Well, to be honest the view of the busy road wasn't nice to look at, so I looked at him instead.

B: You are funny.

1. What did the boy enjoy?
2. What did the girl drink?
3. Do you think the waiter was a friend of theirs? Why?/Why not?
4. Was the cafe in a nice location? How do you know this?
5. What did the girl like?

Analysis and justification of the answers

1. The boy enjoyed his coffee - 'The coffee was great' is what he says.
2. The girl had hot chocolate because the boy asked her if she enjoyed it.
3. It is unlikely that they knew the waiter before they went into the cafe because the boy noticed that the girl seemed to like him, as she was smiling at the waiter; but there is no mention of them talking to him and they don't even seem to know his name.
4. The cafe wasn't in a nice location, because there was a busy road outside it and it didn't have a nice view, according to the girl.
5. This is the actual question for the task and the answer is: the waiter because she kept smiling at him.

EXAM PRACTICE

For each question, choose the correct answer.

1. You will hear two friends talking about learning a musical instrument.

What does the boy play now?

- A. drums
B. guitar
C. piano

2. You will hear two friends talking about getting fit.

What do they agree on?

- A. joining a gym
B. going swimming regularly
C. going for long walks

Audioscript:

1.

G: Do you still play the piano, Steve?

B: Not really; my parents sold the piano we had at home, because they wanted more room.

G: Oh, that's too bad! I've started drumming lessons. I love it.

B: I wanted to get a drum set too, but they wouldn't let me, so I'm learning the guitar now instead.

G: Well, at least you can carry that around with you easily.

B: That's true.

2.

B: So, are we going to join the gym, like we said the other day?

G: To be honest, I can't really afford it. It's quite expensive, you know.

B: Well, in the summer we used to go swimming a lot, but it's too cold now.

G: Yes, and I don't fancy cycling for the same reason, so I guess we could just get out every day and walk a few miles around the park.

B: That's a good idea, because it won't cost us anything, either.

Analysis and justification of the answers

1. A. The boy wanted to get a set of drums, but his parents wouldn't let him. It is the girl who plays the drums.
B. The boy says that he is learning the guitar now, so B is the correct answer.
C. The boy used to play the piano, but they don't have one anymore.
2. A. The boy suggested joining a gym, but the girl doesn't have enough money for that.
B. They only go swimming when the weather is warm.
C. They both think it's a good idea to go for a long walk around the park every day, so C is the correct answer.

SKILLS

LISTENING Part Three

What is the task

In Part 3 of the listening test, you are given a page of notes, or sentences, from which six pieces of information have been removed. As you listen to the speaker, you must fill in the numbered gaps with words from the text which complete the missing information. The text that you will be given in notes makes a summary of what the speaker has said. Most answers will be single words, numbers, dates, times or very short phrases. You will hear the speaker twice. In this task, you will be listening for specific pieces of information.

What you need to do

First of all, you should begin by reading and listening to the instructions. Then, use the pause to read the text on the page, thinking about the context and predicting the sort of language and information you are going to hear. By looking at the words before and after the gaps, you could guess what the missing word might be. It may be information about places and events, or people talking about courses/trips/holiday activities. You can use the order of the information on the page to help you follow the recording. The information you are listening for will come in the same order as the listening.

The first time you listen to the speaker, you should write down single words, numbers or very short phrases to complete each gap. You must keep your answers short. The words you need to complete the gaps are heard on the recording. Therefore, you shouldn't try to change the words. It is also important that you don't write in note form. You must write the words in full and try to spell them correctly.

If the answer seems to involve a number, you may either write the number in words e.g. ninety eight, or you can write it in numbers e.g. 98. Both are acceptable.

During the 2nd listening, check that your answers make sense in the context of the completed note or sentence and that each answer contains the correct piece of information. Again, don't forget that it is important to check the spelling of words.

Let's practise!

Complete the sentences with the correct word from the box below. There are three extra words which you do not need to use. Use the words at either side of the gaps to help you find the correct answer.

romantic	hours	minutes
ninety five	plane	horror
cinema	thirteen
bus	modern

- Graham has been a bus driver for ..... years.
- Mr and Mrs Green live at ....., London Road.
- The lecture will last for two .....
- Alison likes to watch ..... films where people fall in love.
- We enjoyed the exhibition at the ..... art museum.
- The meeting point will be outside the .....
- The cheapest way to get to the shops is by ..... because parking is so expensive.

Analysis and justification of the answers

- thirteen: We know that we need a number or amount here. Thirteen is a sensible answer. The other number we have is ninety-five but no one would be a bus driver for that long.
- ninety-five: Again a number is needed here for an address. Thirteen would be also possible but we have already used that for question 1.
- hours: Something related to time is needed here. A two-hour lecture sounds likely. The other option would be minutes but a lecture would last more than 2 minutes. If it were only two minutes long, we could call it a short talk, not a lecture.
- romantic: An adjective is needed here. She likes films about love, so romantic is the answer rather than horror.
- modern: An adjective is needed and it has to relate to art. Romantic could be possible at first, but it is used in question 4 and modern art is much more usual as a phrase.
- cinema: Here we need a noun, and more specifically a place, so cinema is the correct answer.
- bus: A form of transport is needed that follows 'by'. The sentence is talking about going to the shops; not a long distance. So, plane would not be a correct answer here.

EXAM PRACTICE

For each question, write the correct answer in the gap. Write one or two words or a number or a date or a time.

You will hear some information about a local college.

Worthing College

Courses available now:

- French and Spanish for beginners
- the 1. .... of art
- archaeology

New courses start first week in September

Applications in by last week of 2. ....

Student Card cost: 3. £.....

Audioscript:

You have got through to Worthing College course information. During the summer our courses are limited. We are currently running courses for beginners in English and French. As well as this, we are running our very popular history of art course and the archaeology course that focuses on Roman archaeological sites in the UK. All of our new courses start in the first week of September but please make sure that your applications are in by the last week of August at the very latest. As a student at Worthing College, you will be offered a Student Card. This will give you free entrance to many events and public places and discounts in many shops, too. The price of the Student Card is only £15; sorry, I mean £10, so it's well worth buying one when you enrol at the college.

Analysis and justification of the answers

- history - Here we can see that we need a noun that is going to be part of a name for a college course.
- (of) August - a month is clearly needed here and students should be careful not to assume it is September because they have just heard September mentioned.
- £10 - We know that an amount of money is needed here. There is a distractor in the listening of £15, so students need to make sure that they listen carefully to the whole thing and not just write the first amount that they hear.

LISTENING Part Four

What is the task

In Part 4 of the listening, you will hear a longer text, which will be an interview. You will have to answer six multiple-choice questions as you listen to the interview and choose the correct answer from a choice of three options, A, B or C.

What you need to do

The first thing you should do is read the instructions, then listen to them, and then use the pause to read the questions and think about the context. This may be information about places and events, or people's lives, interests and experiences. Then, you need to focus on a detailed understanding of the meaning of the text. During the first listening, listen for gist (general meaning and understanding) and choose the best option for each question. During the second listening, you must check all your answers carefully, focusing on detailed understanding, attitudes or opinions.

Let's practise!

As you have read the questions before you start listening to the interview, you know what information you are listening for. Quite often, the speaker will give the information using different words (but similar in meaning) to the words used in the questions. This is called paraphrasing.

For example, the speaker may say that they found something very challenging and the correct answer choice might be that they found something very difficult, or that it was not easy.

Look at the statements (1-6) below and match them with their similar meaning (a-f).

1. I haven't played in a team since I left school.	a. I showed everyone what I could achieve.
2. I decided to go for it.	b. I'm happy with my decision.
3. No one seemed to believe in me.	c. I thought I would try and get it.
4. I proved everybody wrong.	d. I still have ambitions.
5. I have never regretted it.	e. I used to be in a team when I was at school.
6. There are still things for me to achieve.	f. People thought I couldn't do it.

Answers: 1. e 2. c 3. f 4. a 5. b 6. d

EXAM PRACTICE

For each question, choose the correct answer.

You will hear a radio interview with a young athlete called Sarah.

- What did Sarah's parents think about her being an athlete?
  - They thought it was an excellent idea.
  - They didn't believe in her ability.
  - They thought it would help her get into university.
- What was Sarah determined to do?
  - leave home as soon as she could
  - continue her training without her parents' help
  - prove that she was good enough

Audioscript:

Int: Sarah, you have achieved amazing things in the world of athletics, haven't you? It must have been difficult when you were younger and still at school. Did your parents encourage you to follow your dreams?

S: Not exactly; in fact, they didn't really believe that I had a future as a professional athlete. They wanted me to do well at school and then go to university. I don't think they had realised just how good I was and how much I wanted to do this. Looking back, I suppose they were trying to protect me from failure and disappointment.

Int: Did that cause problems between you and your parents?

S: In some ways yes, but they continued to support me even though they weren't convinced. My father used to drive me to competitions all over the country and sometimes we had to leave home very early in the morning and return late at night. So they were very good to me. That made me want to prove myself to them and do well in my sport even more. I didn't want to let them down. I wanted them to be proud of me.

Analysis and justification of the answers

- B A is not the correct answer because they didn't believe she 'had a future as a professional athlete'.

B is the correct answer as Sarah says 'I don't think they (= her parents) had realised just how good I was'.

C is not correct because they wanted her to go to university and they thought athletics would affect her schoolwork.
- C A is not right as there is no mention of her wanting to leave home; she does say that she had to leave home early in the morning, sometimes, but for competitions.

B is wrong because she says that her parents helped her a lot.

C is correct because she wanted to prove herself to them and 'do well in my sport even more. I didn't want to let them down. I wanted them to be proud of me.'

SPEAKING

In the Speaking paper, there will usually be two candidates and two examiners. One examiner is the interlocutor. The interlocutor manages the interview and speaks directly with the candidates. The interlocutor sets up the tasks and gives the candidates their instructions. The other examiner is the assessor. The assessor does not join in the conversation, but marks the candidates' performances. Candidates are usually assessed in pairs, unless there is an uneven number of candidates at a centre. In this case, the last test of the day will be a group of three. This is the only situation in which candidates can be assessed as a group of three.

SPEAKING Part One

(2-3 minutes)

What is the task

The interlocutor leads a general conversation with each of the candidates. He or she will ask questions about your personal details, your hobbies, your daily routines, likes, dislikes, etc. Each candidate will be asked these questions one at a time and at this time you will not speak with the other candidate.

What you need to do

This part of the test is designed to relax you, as most candidates are nervous at the beginning of the speaking test. You will be asked very simple and quite easy questions about yourself. Listen carefully to the questions and give answers that are relevant. That means that you shouldn't start to talk about things that the interlocutor has not asked you about. Try not to give very short answers, and certainly not one-word answers. You can make your answers longer by giving examples or some reasons for what you have said. However, you do not have to say too much at this time.

Let's practise!

Look at these questions and the two answers. One answer is acceptable but weak. The other answer gives more information and so is a strong answer that would earn you a better mark.

Int: Who do you live with?

Candidate: Weak answer:
I live with my family.

Strong answer:

I live with my parents and my two younger brothers. We also have my grandmother living with us who is quite old and we also have a pet dog called Sandy.

Int: Do you study English at school?

Candidate: Weak answer:
Yes, I have English lessons at school.

Strong answer:

Yes, I've been studying English at school for four years. I enjoy the lessons very much and I have a good English teacher.

EXAM PRACTICE

Phase 1

Interlocutor:

Candidate A, where do you live? (Do you live in ...?)
Who lives with you? (Do you live with your parents?)
Thank you.

Candidate B, where do you live? (Do you live in ...?)
Who lives with you? (Do you live with your parents?)
Thank you.

Sample Answer

I live in Madrid, about a twenty-minute walk from here. It's a nice area and I really enjoy living there because there is a lot to do.

I live with my mother and father and my little sister, Isabel. We also have a pet cat and a dog which both live inside the house with us.

Phase 2

Interlocutor: (One or two questions for each candidate)

- How do you get to school every day?
(Do you walk/take the bus etc?)
- Who is your best friend?
(What do you like about them?)
- What do you do at the weekend?
(Have you got any hobbies?)

Sample Answer

I usually walk to school. It takes me about half an hour. However, if the weather is really bad, my mum gives me a lift in her car.

My best friend is called Simon. We have known each other since primary school. I trust him completely and we have a lot of fun together.

At the weekend, I try to get all my schoolwork done on Saturday morning. Then, I am free to have some fun. I usually play basketball and I also go for a coffee with my friends.

SPEAKING Part Two

(2-3 minutes)

What is the task

In Part 2 of the Speaking test, you and your partner will take turns to speak for about one minute. You will both be given one colour photograph to describe. The photographs show everyday situations. You will be asked to describe what you can see in the photograph.

What you need to do

Have a look at your photograph. Try to keep your description simple. Concentrate on describing only what you can see and don't try to talk about other subjects that might be related in some way to the photograph. This is your chance to show the interlocutor how much vocabulary you know and how good your use of English is.

Describe the people and activities in the photographs as fully as possible. Imagine that you are describing the photograph to someone who can't see it. This may include naming all the objects, describing colours, clothing, time of day, weather, etc. If you can't remember or don't know the word for something, try to describe it in another way.

For example, if you couldn't remember the word 'caravan' you could say, 'They are sleeping in a small home that you can fix to the back of your car and take from place to place.' You will not lose marks for doing this.

EXAM PRACTICE

1A A School Day out

Interlocutor: Now I'd like each of you to talk on your own about something. I'm going to give each of you a photograph and I'd like you to talk about it.

Candidate A, here is your photograph. It shows some children on a school day out.

Candidate B, you just listen.

Candidate A, please tell us what you can see in the photograph.
Candidate A ..... (approximately one minute)

Back-up prompts:

Talk about the people/person.

Talk about the place.

Talk about other things in the photograph.

Interlocutor: Thank you.

Sample Answer

In this photo I can see a group of school children and their teachers. They are all riding bikes and are wearing helmets to protect their heads. Most of them seem to have a rucksack on their back and they are all wearing casual clothes. They seem to be in a square outside a beautiful building and there are flowers next to them, too. They have probably cycled to this place from their school.

There seem to be three teachers who might be telling the children something about the place they are visiting, or maybe they are just having a rest. I think the building behind them could be a palace, or even a big museum. It must be a place that tourists like because I can see lots of people in the background.

1B A family day out

Interlocutor:

Candidate B, here is your photograph. It shows some people on a family day out.

Candidate A, you just listen.

Candidate B, please tell us what you can see in the photograph.

Candidate B ..... (approximately one minute)

Back-up prompts:

Talk about the people/person.

Talk about the place.

Talk about other things in the photograph.

Interlocutor: Thank you.

Sample Answer

In this photo I can see a group of people, both adults and children. They are probably a family. It looks like they are in a place where you can have a race with something like a small car. I think this is true because you can see the racing road behind them.

There are also lots of trees in the background so it might be in the countryside, or next to a park. They are all wearing very casual, summer clothes and the two men have sunglasses, so it must be a hot sunny day.

You can tell that they are waiting to have their photo taken from the way they are all looking at the camera. Everyone seems to be very happy and having a lot of fun. I don't know if they have already had a race or if they are about to have one.

SPEAKING Part Three (3-4 minutes)

What is the task

In Part 3 of the Speaking test, the interlocutor reads the instructions once while you look at a group of images that the interlocutor has given you. These images will give you ideas to talk about with your partner. They will be about a certain situation that the interlocutor will give you. You and your partner will discuss your ideas together, making and responding to suggestions, discussing alternatives, making recommendations and trying to come to an agreement. You can also use any ideas of your own, as long as they are relevant to the situation. You will have 4 minutes to do this task together with your partner. The interlocutor will not speak unless you and your partner run out of ideas before the time is up.

What you need to do

It is very important that this task is a balanced discussion between you and your partner. Don't try to do all the talking but, on the other hand, make sure that you say enough.

Listen to what your partner says and respond to their ideas. It is fine to disagree with them but always be polite.

You should also discuss all the images that you have been given and try not to come to a conclusion too quickly. Try to use a variety of language to show off your speaking skills. Don't worry if the interlocutor stops you. This will be because you have run out of time and this is not a problem. You will not lose marks if you haven't completed the task.

EXAM PRACTICE

Interlocutor:

Now, in this part of the test you are going to talk about something together for about two minutes. I am going to describe a situation to you.

A group of school children from a city school are going on a school trip to the countryside for the day.

Here are some things that they could do.

Talk together about the different activities and say which would be the most relaxing.

All right? Now talk together.

Candidates ..... (2-3 minutes)

Interlocutor: Thank you. (Can I have the booklet please?)

Sample Answer

Candidate A: Well, in my opinion, one of the most relaxing things is to go for a walk in the countryside. The fresh air is good for you and it's a healthy activity, too. What do you think?

Candidate B: I agree with you up to a point, but if you are feeling tired from all the studying and exams, then you may not want to go for a walk. I think it would be much better to do something else, like have a picnic and chat with your friends.

Candidate A: Yes, that's true, as you can really relax when you are with your friends. But maybe playing a game of football is a better idea, as you are with your friends and you are having lots of fun, at the same time. Do you agree?

Candidate B: Not really, because they can play football in the city, too, in a park. The same is true of going for a swim.

Candidate A: Actually, yes, you are right. I don't think taking photos would be very interesting, either, do you? And again they can take photos in the city, too.

Candidate B: That's right, but I think riding a horse or visiting a farm to see the animals would be both relaxing and lots of fun. That's something you can't do in a city.

Candidate A: I agree 100% about visiting a farm but I believe that some children would be too frightened to ride a horse, and it could be dangerous.

Candidate B: That's true so I think we agree that visiting a farm is the best choice.

Candidate A: Definitely.

SPEAKING

Part Four (2-3 minutes)

What is the task

In Part 4 of the Speaking Test, the interlocutor will ask you questions that are connected to the topic in Speaking Part 3. You will be asked about your likes and dislikes and your habits and opinions. You will either be asked questions individually, or the question may be for you and your partner to answer and discuss.

What you need to do

As in all parts of the Speaking test you must listen carefully to the questions and give suitable answers. Don't forget that there are no right or wrong answers. You are just giving your opinion. Try to talk from your own experiences, as this will make it easier for you to say something. Make sure that you give full answers to the questions and not just a few words. Think about why you think what you do and give examples if you can.

EXAM PRACTICE

Interlocutor:

- Do you think it's important for children to go on school trips? (Why?)
- What would be a good place for a group of school children to visit? (Why?)
- What do you take with you when you go on a day trip?
- Which do you think is more interesting, visiting a city or the countryside? (Why?)
- Do you prefer to go on trips with your family or with your friends? (Why?)

Prompts:

- What about you?
- Do you agree?
- What do you think?

Interlocutor: Thank you. That is the end of the test.

Sample Answer

I think school trips are very important as children get the chance to go somewhere different that they may not have been to before. Also they can spend time with their school friends doing something interesting and have a break from the classroom.

I think museums are always a good place for children to visit because they can learn a lot but they are learning in a different environment from the classroom. However, I believe it needs to be an interesting museum that children like, so that they are not bored.

When I go on a day trip I always take my rucksack with me so that I can carry it on my back and I don't have to carry it in my hands. I usually have a snack and a bottle of water in it. Also I take a camera and my mobile phone with me and some money of course.

I believe that it is more interesting to visit a city, as there are so many different things that you can do and places you can visit. You can go to museums and galleries to learn things or you can have fun in the shopping centres, the cinemas or even at a cafe.

I like going on trips both with my family and with my friends. I don't really prefer one of them except that my parents pay for everything if I go on a trip with them. Also, we go much further because my dad drives us in the car. On the other hand, I usually laugh a lot more and have more fun on a trip with my friends.

The New Forest

by Simon Finch

Last week my school got the chance to take part in a week's work experience in The New Forest. We were helping a charity that protects and counts the ponies that live in The New Forest. It was really interesting work so I was excited to be able to take part. The ponies are free to go wherever they want to, which is wonderful, but it also puts them in danger sometimes. I stayed in a beautiful wooden hostel in the middle of the forest with some other charity workers. It was a basic building but warm and cosy and I got a free bed and food while I was working with the ponies. We shared a dormitory with eight beds in it, so at night we chatted to each other and I really got to know everyone.

One of the things that shocked me during my time in the forest was that tourists do not act responsibly in the forest. I can understand that they are excited about seeing the ponies and that they have come to enjoy the beautiful forest, but they don't understand that they shouldn't get too close to the ponies. This isn't because the ponies are dangerous. Actually, quite the opposite is true as they are usually very friendly. They will often come up to tourists who are having a picnic and try to steal their food, which is really funny. The problem is that the ponies should not be encouraged to get too close to people in case they start to depend on them.

Unfortunately, many ponies are hit by cars every year. There are several roads that go through the forest and tourists drive way too fast. I don't think people realise that they are causing problems and there should be lots of notices everywhere, telling them how to behave near the ponies.

Generally, it was a wonderful experience and it has taught me that I want to study for a degree in animal behaviour. This is something I wouldn't have thought about before. I'll probably study in London as I love living in the city and I will definitely come and help in the forest again. I'm so happy that I spent the week working with the ponies. It was not only educational and interesting but a lot of fun, too.

There are three extra sentences which you do not need to use.

Creating a youth club

Last summer our town achieved something quite special. We created a youth club in the town centre. Before that there was absolutely nothing for the young people to do after school and at the weekends. 16  It took a long time to finally open the youth club. First of all, we had to find a building that we could use. We put up posters all over the town asking people to help us find a place. We were very lucky because after a couple of weeks someone said we could have an old shop that had been closed for a year. 17  Best of all, he said, we did not have to pay anything to use it. The only thing we had to promise to do was to keep it in good condition.

Once we had a building, lots of people came to help us paint the rather dirty rooms and put furniture in it.

18  Then, a big business in the town gave us three computers and a large TV. The local football team gave us some sport and fitness equipment and they send a coach twice a week to do health and fitness classes with us. 19  There we can buy drinks and snacks. My mother often bakes cakes for the cafe. We also do lots of art at the youth club. We put our pictures on the walls to make the place look really interesting and colourful.

I think the most important thing about our youth club though is that it is a place that young people can go to if they are feeling lonely and want someone to talk to. Also, there is a homework room where we can sit quietly and study. This is useful to me because I have to share a room with my little sister at home. 20  Obviously that makes it hard for me to concentrate on my school work.

Creating the youth club, in my opinion, is the best thing that has happened in our town recently.

- A. We didn't have to buy anything as so many people gave us chairs, tables, desks etc.
- B. However, the shop wasn't suitable for what we needed.
- C. I love her very much but she talks all the time and makes a lot of noise.
- D. As a result, people were very bored and it was difficult to make new friends.
- E. The building was clean and bright so we didn't have to do anything to it.
- F. She always behaves very well because she is shy and quiet.
- G. The owner did not want to rent it to anyone and that's why he said we could use it permanently.
- H. Some of the parents run a small cafe in the youth club, too.

The people below all enjoy going to sports events. There are descriptions of eight places where people can see different sports. Decide which sports event would be the most suitable for the following people.

6. Jane loves the cold and drinking lots of tea. She puts on some warm clothes, makes a lot of tea and goes climbing to watch sports events. She doesn't watch sports in the summer.

7. Paul doesn't like noisy sports. During the winter he doesn't go to any sports events. He likes going to an event with his friends and having a picnic. He hopes it doesn't rain.

8. Dean and Jim like watching team sports and follow their team all over the country. They like to stand and shout really loud when their team scores. They always buy burgers and chips at half time.

8

9. When Helen is on her summer holidays, she gets up early in the morning and goes swimming. She then finds a nice place to sunbathe. From where she is, she can watch her favourite sport.

10. Carol usually books her seats in advance for the event. In the morning she prepares some sandwiches to have during the event. She talks a lot and sometimes event staff tell her to be quiet.

10

SPORTS EVENTS

A. Cricket

Cricket is a nice and relaxing sport to watch. One game can last all day, so you will need to take a cushion with you. Some people take a picnic with them. People are usually very quiet while watching cricket. They only shout and clap when a player scores points for their team. Cricket is only played in the summer and is postponed if it rains.

B. Tennis

Most tennis competitions take place outside and need the weather to be warm and dry. There are very few seats compared to other sports so it can be difficult to get tickets. These competitions can take all day so people take their own food and drinks with them. One of the rules of watching tennis is that you must be very quiet while the athletes are playing. When players score a point, the crowd claps.

C. Skiing

Skiing is a winter sport and a lot of snow is needed. Skiing competitions take place in countries which have mountains. It can be very cold watching skiing. Most people take a special bottle with tea or coffee to keep them warm. There is a lot of waiting when watching a ski competition and when someone skis past, you only see them for about 10 seconds.

D. Football

Football can be a very noisy game and is played all year round. For the important matches, some stadiums can hold around 90,000 people. Some people have to stand all the time. Football fans often have to travel a lot when their team plays away. You are not allowed to take your own food into the stadium. They sell hot food and drinks.

E. Basketball

Basketball is played inside and there are two teams that try to get the ball into the basket the most times. People who watch basketball are sometimes noisy but not as much as football fans, for example. Basketball can be played all year round and it doesn't matter what the weather is like outside. You can't take food into the stadium, but members of staff go around the stadium selling cold snacks and drinks.

F. Horse Racing

Horse racing is an event that lasts all day and has lots of different individual races. These events take place all year round and in all weathers except for snow or if the ground is frozen. Lots of people take picnics and can park their car near the race track. There are usually a few restaurants available with views of the race track.

G. Beach Volleyball

This is a very popular sport in the summer by the seaside. Many games are played on public beaches, so anybody can go and watch. The players don't wear shoes because they are playing on the sand. As it is public, anyone can take food and drinks to the matches. But there is too much sand to have a picnic when watching beach volleyball.

H. Rugby

Rugby players carry the rugby ball, but they can kick it if they want. Rugby is also a very popular game but the people who watch rugby are usually better behaved than those who watch football. Food is not allowed in the stadium but is available to buy. People watching rugby usually stay sitting down. This sport is played all year round.

PART 3 Questions 11-15

For each question, choose the correct answer.

So what happens after school?

by Sam Adams

I was wondering what I should do with my life when I finish school. My parents told me that I still had a couple of years ahead of me but that did not reassure me. So I went online and found everything about career advisors.

Most secondary schools in England have members of staff who give careers advice to their students. They are called careers advisors. A year before they leave school, the careers advisor will talk to the students one by one and ask them what they want to do in the future. The advisor will look at the students' grades to see what subjects they are stronger in. For example, if they are good at maths, they can become an accountant.

The advice is not just about the part of finding a job; it's also telling the student what university course they must do first. If a student wants to become a lawyer, he or she will have to go to university for three or four years to study law. However, if someone wants to be a doctor, they will need good grades in biology and other science subjects. With good grades, they can go to university and do their basic medical training which is six years. But their studying doesn't finish at university. They then have to study at hospital for another two or three years.

The careers advisor also helps students who don't have the grades to go to university. The advisor helps the students with their CV and shows them how to find and apply for jobs. Sometimes there are short courses they can do to learn a new skill quickly. For example, they can go on a hairdressing course and then learn more while they work. Some organisations offer training on the job, such as factories and farms. The government has many areas which offer possibilities for those who can't go to university. Students can join the army and be trained to become a soldier, or if they want, they could become a sailor with the navy.

So I guess that now I shouldn't be feeling so anxious. When the time comes, I'll make sure I'll ask a careers advisor for help.

11. How do career advisors meet the students?

- A. in a small group                      B. in individual meetings
C. all the class together                D. the whole school at the same time

12. What does the advisor look for before giving advice?

- A. what the student isn't very good at
B. university courses in other countries
C. what the student is better at
D. the student's CV and folder

13. What happens after studying medicine at a university?

- A. The student must go on to study biology as well.
B. The student can train others to become doctors, too.
C. The student can practise medicine immediately after.
D. The student carries on learning for another few years.

14. How do advisors help students with not very good grades?

- A. They show them the best way to get a job.
B. They help them with on-the-job training.
C. They give extra classes to help them get to university.
D. They take them to a farm and a factory to show them their options.

15. What would Sam text to a friend who seeks career advice?

A. I'm as worried as you are as I don't know what options are available for us.

B. I guess you could ask your parents for help; that's what I did.

C. There is no need to panic as there are people at school that can help you with that.

D. Your teachers will make career decisions for you so that you don't have to deal with it.

PART 4 Questions 16-20

The most unusual festival I've been to

by Diane Key

Last year I visited a small village near the city of Gloucester, England, where a very special and unusual race takes place once a year. It's called 'Cooper's Hill Cheese-Rolling'. On a Saturday at the beginning of spring, people from all over the world go to Cooper's Hill to see the race. The first written information about the race was in a message sent to the local government in 1826. 16

So nobody knows when it really started. Each year, the event becomes more and more popular with people coming from all over the world to take part and to watch. 17

The way the race works is as follows. There is a very large piece of cheese, which is round, like a wheel, and weighs about 4 kilograms. 18  One of the people in charge of the event sends the large piece of cheese down the hill and half a second later everyone taking part runs down the hill after the cheese. 19

In the past, the cheese has hit people watching the race and injured them. It's not just the spectators who get injured; many of the people running down the hill get serious injuries, too. The injuries are usually broken ankles and legs as the runners lose control coming down the steep hill. 20  There are also lots of local people helping to catch the runners, so they don't fall over and hurt themselves; they are called 'catchers'.

This event has become so famous that it appears on television all over the world on the BBC network and, also, on Trans World Sport. People watching this event think it is very strange and that the people taking part are crazy.

- A. It has wood around it to protect it.
- B. The police think the event is very dangerous.
- C. Winners of the event have come from the United States, Australia, New Zealand and Nepal.
- D. Sometimes they use an old tyre.
- E. The words in this message showed that this event was already a tradition then.
- F. That's why, at the bottom of the hill, there are lots of ambulances and medical staff.
- G. The first person over the finish line at the bottom of the hill wins the cheese.
- H. Children are not allowed to eat the cheese.

Once you show though your e-ticket to the staff, you will be given a physical boarding pass; this is what will give you (24)..... to the aeroplane.

All travellers get confused by airline rules about baggage. For trips lasting several days or more, you'll need to (25)..... in a piece of hold luggage, while for a long weekend or for a city break, all you need can usually fit into a bag or case which you can take with you on the plane.

Once you've made it successfully on to your flight, look for a number followed by a letter on your boarding pass. That's your seat number. If you can't locate your seat, the cabin crew will be happy to help and put your luggage in a safe place, either in an overhead (26)..... or under your seat. Now, all you need to do is sit back and relax.

Tonight, two of my friends are coming round to my house and we are (29)..... to watch a film on Netflix together. We are going to watch an action film, which is great, because my audio system has four speakers around the living room. The sound effects will be great!

We have decided to order some pizzas because my mum has to work late and none of us wanted to cook tonight. (30)..... is also a lot of ice cream in the freezer for dessert. I guess we won't be eating healthy food tonight.

My new hobby - gardening

by Beth Collins

A garden is much more than just creating a beautiful environment. It can be a way to save or even make money and, more than that, it can be a place where you can express yourself. For me it's a bit of all these things. I know it may sound strange for a 13-year-old to be interested in gardening but I always have been and I would love to make a career out of it.

I have learned many things these past few years I have been reading about and doing some gardening. So, here is my top advice about gardening. First, you do not need to spend a lot of money to have a beautiful garden. Some of the gardens I think are the prettiest are just lines of plants. There aren't many garden decorations and pathways. It's just beautiful plants loaded with fruits and vegetables. We can also find many useful things for free, from pieces of old wood, to old pots and pans. Or, we can build things for free from materials that other people have thrown away.

If you just remember that planting way more than you need will take the stress away of losing some plants, you will save yourself a lot of worry, too.

You need to ask yourself, which plants produce enough food to make them worth growing. I actually sat down and did the maths on that one this spring. It amazed me what some plants were worth. A tomato, for example, can produce £50-£150 worth of fruit. It takes up a lot of space but that's a lot of money coming out of a 50p seed! So if I had known sooner what each plant could save us, I would have told my parents to fill our garden with different plants.

And finally, gardening doesn't have to be all or nothing. But then I guess that's more of a personality weakness than anything. I struggle with doing things a little at a time. Once I decide to do something, I usually devote every waking hour to it for a little while and then get tired. So it's okay to just have one tomato plant, and it's okay to have an off year. It will save you a lot of stress.

- B. use what you can find around you

14. How does Beth feel about gardening?

- A. She wants to grow everything she eats.
- B. She hasn't learnt from her mistakes.
- C. She needs to work harder in her garden.

15. What would Beth text her friend about gardening?

- B. Gardening is so hard; you have to spend a lot of money and it's stressful, too.

PART 4 Questions 16-20

Five sentences have been removed from the text below. For each question, choose the correct answer.

Achieving your dreams

A psychologist reaching out to teens around the world

16  To you, I say, you are more able and amazing than you know. Follow your dream no matter how ambitious it may appear to others. It is the dreamers who bring positive change to the world. So if somebody doesn't support or understand your dream, just smile and think to yourself, "Don't believe me? Just watch!"

Some people insist that the 'rules of success' are very black and white. 17  Following 'the rules' may not be the best way to get you where you want to go. Your dream can be a very simple one, or a very complicated one. The truth is the world needs your dream to develop, so take a look at what I think are the truly important things to consider when following your dream.

You can try to be perfect, but one person's idea of what is perfect is always different from another's. In fact, I believe it is our weaknesses that make us special. You can be the most brilliant, talented person in the world, but if you lack the enthusiasm, passion and excitement for what you do, then it doesn't matter how good you are. You may not be the best at what you do, but if you have great enthusiasm, you will reach your goal. 18  Enthusiasm creates dreams; talent does not.

When you have a big dream for your life, people like to tell you that you aren't being realistic. 19  I think that when it comes to having a dream, being realistic and sensible aren't helpful. These are simply limitations that we have placed upon ourselves. When we experience a challenge, it is not a problem; it is part of the journey itself. Otherwise, it would not be there. Every step you take is one step closer to your dream becoming a reality. The important ingredient for realising your dream is hope. 20  It can change the world.

- A. On the other hand, others who are more talented may not.
- B. You should never try to do anything that is difficult.
- C. Hope is belief - belief in yourself and belief in the power of possibility.
- D. Many of you may be afraid to do what you really love.
- E. I believe that you should always obey the rules.
- F. Well, I say that you do not need to know the details of how your dream will happen.
- G. It's very important that you listen to this advice.
- H. I disagree; I believe there is a HUGE grey area.

Getting A Weekend Job

by Paula Mark, aged 16

Last summer I wanted to start earning money so I could save to go on holiday with my friends. But if you are under eighteen, you are limited to what jobs you can do. I applied for jobs at a few shops in my neighbourhood but none of them had any jobs for teens. I thought I would never find a weekend job. Then, one day my mum gave me the local newspaper and showed me an advert for the local zoo. They were looking for teenagers to work at the weekend. So I immediately applied for that job online.

Within a few days, I got a phone call asking me to go for an interview. I put on my best clothes and went to the zoo's office the next day to meet the manager. The interview must have gone very well because when I got home, I got a phone call from him saying that I got the job. He asked me if I could start the following Saturday. And of course I said yes!

On Saturday morning I got up very early and went to the zoo. I was there too early and the gates were still locked. At nine o'clock the manager arrived to open the zoo. He took me to the staffroom and gave me a uniform which I had to put on over my normal clothes.

He also gave me a pair of boots. He told me that the ground was wet and dirty everywhere, so I would need them.

My first job was to clean the elephant house. It was great fun because I was with another girl that had been working there for some months. She was really friendly and gave me lots of tips. And there were two baby elephants trying to play with us. They were very funny! My colleague told me that our next job was to clean the lion's cage. I was really scared but luckily the lion wasn't in the cage at that point.

The Great Fire Of London

This week we're doing a project at school about London. Over 350 years ago, London suffered a terrible event. On the 2nd September 1666, a baker was making bread and cakes for the next day. It was one o'clock in the morning when a very small piece of burning wood came out of the oven and set fire to the building. In those days, as all buildings were made of wood, the fire moved very quickly. There was a family living above the bakery who couldn't Besides being made of wood, the houses were also built very close together. They were almost touching each other. 17 But this was not the only problem. It hadn't rained for two months, everywhere was dry and strong winds blew across London.

Two days after the fire started, half of London was on fire. 18  Even the king came out to help the firemen. The fire destroyed important buildings, including the famous St Paul's Cathedral. It was very lucky that the Tower of London escaped the fire. In an attempt to stop the fire, the firemen destroyed many buildings to create a big gap across which the fire couldn't travel. 19  By the 6th September the fire had been put out. London had burned for almost five days. Only 20 percent of London was not burnt but hundreds of thousands of people were left without homes. It was amazing that only six people died in this terrible event.

20 Just before the fire, there had been a horrible disease which was killing lots of people. The fire destroyed the disease. Architects helped to rebuild London and built wider streets so a new fire couldn't move quickly.

- F. The fire went from house to house very quickly and the firemen had trouble controlling it.

- H. People say that, in a way, the fire did London some good, too.

My summer volunteering

by Tina Newbury

At the age of 14 I have already decided that I want to be a vet. So, last summer I convinced my parents to spend our summer holidays volunteering. I really wanted to deal with sea animals, so when a friend told me about Archelon, the sea turtle organisation in Greece, I was really excited because I would leave the UK for the first time and go to a perfect destination, but I had no idea how amazing it would really be or how many new friends I would make. Now, I would recommend volunteering to any student who wants to get job experience, or simply have fun and meet great people.

Turtles have been on our planet for millions of years but are dying in large numbers because of fishing and pollution. This was a shock to me when I spent a few days at the Rescue Centre in Athens before leaving for my first project. There, I found out that the majority of the centre's turtles had been injured on the head by humans. Some were by accident, from speedboats, but a lot were done on purpose, often by angry fishermen, as these creatures get caught in their fishing nets while trying to eat the fish which are part of their natural diet. For the fishermen, however, this has a cost, as fewer fish mean less money, so they view the turtle as their enemy, even though these turtles are a protected species. And as if this isn't enough for these unlucky creatures to deal with, they also face the problem of eating plastic bags, thinking they are jellyfish, which are a key part of their diet.

The following months were spent learning and having fun in five different locations, but the most memorable was the last project, where we camped in an old museum with no electricity or water. However, the main problem was the insects which shared the museum with us, especially those that bit. But even that could not stop me from enjoying the daily contact with the turtles, and relaxing around a campfire sharing stories after sunset. Volunteering is a life experience I really recommend for any student.

11. What do we learn about Tina in the first paragraph?
  - A. She has a job with animals.
  - B. She only likes sea animals.
  - C. She is going to be an animal doctor.
  - D. She finished studying a year ago.
12. While Tina was in Greece,
  - A. she found out about an organisation called Archelon.
  - B. she enjoyed herself and formed new friendships.
  - C. she volunteered for several animal organisations.
  - D. she worked for Archelon as part of her training.
13. What does Tina say about the fishermen?
  - A. Their actions make her angry.
  - B. She understands their actions.
  - C. They try to look after the turtles.
  - D. They try to catch the turtles.
14. Tina suggests that
  - A. despite the difficulties she enjoyed herself.
  - B. insects spoilt her last project.
  - C. having no water was a big problem.
  - D. she enjoyed the nights most.

<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>A. a professional woman who is paid to look after sea turtles</li> <li>C. a girl who has been volunteering abroad in her summer holidays for years</li> </ol>	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>B. a girl who hopes to help animals through her work in the future</li> <li>D. a girl who had wanted to help turtles all her life</li> </ol>

PART 4 Questions 16-20

Five sentences have been removed from the text below. For each question, choose the correct answer.
There are three extra sentences which you do not need to use.

Cycling the Most Dangerous Road

Like most children, I got my first bicycle at a young age. You could easily tell from all the pictures that I fell in love with it from the moment I saw it. So, while most children grow out of cycling, I took it to a whole new level.

16  My mum was not too keen on the idea but soon got used to it.

Nowadays, every spare moment I ever have I'm out, exploring different places. 17  Hills, mountains, forests, nothing beats that sense of achievement when you manage to get through some of the most difficult landscapes on a bike. It's not so much about others knowing what you can do, but rather proving to yourself that you are able to do it.

And of course, there's being in the natural environment. 18  Breathing some fresh air while getting away from the city not only relaxes you but also keeps you healthy.

So, when I saw an advertisement for cyclists to join a group to cycle in Bolivia, I was not just keen. 19  My mum was terrified when I announced I wanted to go, but as my father is a keen cyclist himself, he managed to persuade her that we should definitely go.

The Yungas Hwy is the world's most dangerous road. An average of twenty six vehicles disappear over its edge every year. 20  With only space for one vehicle the 1,000 metre drops are terrifying. Add to that the waterfalls, which fall directly onto the road, and the journey becomes even more dangerous as you try to avoid the frequent speeding lorries. But despite this, the excitement draws cyclists from around the world. And I just couldn't be the one to miss it.

- A. Just to be outside, travelling through nature, is enough of a reason to do this.
- B. I must admit, it was a country I had never wanted to visit.
- C. Actually, it's more of a track than a road.
- D. All my friends got motorbikes or cars.
- E. The trouble is finding the free time.
- F. It was a dream opportunity not to be missed.
- G. The more challenging, the better.
- H. This meant getting myself a mountain bike and being out in all weathers.

PART 3 Questions 11-15

For each question, choose the correct answer.

'Freshly' Restaurant by Peter Newman

Last week my parents and I visited Freshly, a modern British restaurant, in the centre of Brighton, Sussex. So it was the perfect opportunity to write a review for the school paper.

All of the ingredients used in Freshly come from Sussex and the surrounding area. It was also the first restaurant in the world to be serving only English wine. Since opening in 2018 Freshly has won many awards. The owner and head chef at the restaurant is only 24 years old and she has been cooking three-course meals for her family since she was nine and still at junior school. Jane did an apprenticeship at the famous Grand Hotel, in Brighton, and later also went to catering school in London. She says this was one of the hardest courses she has ever done and sometimes she was so tired that she could hardly speak. Despite this, she never felt like giving up because she knew she was following her dream.

Freshly is a small restaurant with a view over the back streets of Brighton where you can watch the world walk by. The staff are always welcoming. The head waiter is very informative about the food and how it is cooked and also from where all the ingredients have come from. The chefs are not scared to experiment, so the menu changes regularly. The chefs are lucky enough to be a team of good friends, and they try to eat out at different restaurants as often as they can. They take a lot of inspiration from their favourite chefs to make the Freshly experience as perfect as possible.

One thing to remember, however, is that you are limited to what they have that day on the menu. Freshly, however, will always cater for people with special food needs and vegetarians. The food is beautifully prepared and comes in small tasty portions. Wonderful homemade bread, too. Very nice - but expensive. Four set menus with an extra cheeseboard, two bottles of water and 2 coffees will cost around £150 without a tip. So yes, fine dining; but at a price.

11. The food at Freshly

- A. is grown by the staff.
- B. comes from places in or close to Brighton.
- C. comes from all over the world.
- D. comes all over Britain.

12. Where did the owner start to train as a chef?

- A. at junior school
- B. at university
- C. at home with the help of her family
- D. in a hotel

13. How did Jane feel while she was training to be a chef?

- A. She was really tired but felt positive about the experience.
- B. She wanted to give up because of the pressure.
- C. She wasn't sure if she would be successful.
- D. She found it quite easy to finish the training.

14. What is said about Freshly restaurant?

- A. The head waiter is in charge of the menu.
- B. The staff often change jobs because they like to do different things.
- C. It is a big and fancy restaurant with a great view.
- D. The staff have a very good relationship with each other.

15. What would Peter say about Freshly restaurant?

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| A. Freshly restaurant may serve tasty food but it is extremely pricey - not worth it.       | B. A great effort from a successful young chef who supports local products.            |
| C. A famous chef that tried rather unsuccessfully to set up a different kind of restaurant. | D. The cheerful staff and nice location are the only things that are worth mentioning. |

PART 4 Questions 16-20

Five sentences have been removed from the text below. For each question, choose the correct answer. There are three extra sentences which you do not need to use.

Learning a language

Whatever your reason for learning a new language, you can probably agree it'd be ideal to learn it fast. 16  You'll have to learn a new grammar, memorise vocabulary words, practise speaking, etc. But learning a new language does not need to be a slow or boring process if you follow the right strategy.

The first step to learning a new language fast is to set goals. When you think about it, this makes a lot of sense.

17  When faced with the idea of learning a new language, most of us feel nervous. Setting goals helps you to focus.

Languages are made up of a shocking number of words. English, for example, has between 600,000 and 1 million words. 18  Consider this: the top 100 words make up about 50 percent of English language texts, and the top 1,000 words make up about 90 percent! By focusing on learning these words first, you can increase the amount of information you understand very quickly.

One of the best ways to learn vocabulary words is to use flashcards. Flashcards allow you to test yourself, which helps you memorise new information. Try out electronic flash cards. 19  You can easily carry large amounts of words on your smartphone or tablet, and you can take advantage of flash cards that other people have created and made public.

When you're learning a new language, it can be hard to practise words in context because you haven't mastered yet enough vocabulary to make complex sentences. 20  For example, if you're learning the Spanish word casa (house), you could say, "I'm going to go to my casa now." You can also make up a sentence with the new word you're learning, the meaning of the word and a word in your own language that sounds similar.

- A. Paper flashcards work just as well but electronic flash card programmes provide some great benefits.
- B. But in reality, having goals doesn't help you achieve much.
- C. If you don't set goals, how can you know what you want to achieve?
- D. At this time, there is no point even trying to remember the word.
- E. Luckily, you don't need to learn anywhere near that many words to be good at a language.
- F. You should aim to learn about 5,000 words in a couple of weeks.
- G. To get around this, simply use the word in a sentence in your native language.
- H. Yet the idea of learning a language seems anything but fast.

PART 6 Questions 27-32

For each question, write the correct answer. Write ONE word for each gap.

How shopping has changed

I guess most teenagers have completely given (27)..... going to the shops to buy things and instead we are using the internet to shop online.

(28)..... are many reasons for this. Firstly, we have so much to do that there is very (29)..... time to walk around the shops

(30)..... for what we want. Also when the shops are open, we are usually at school so we can't get to them except during our school holidays. These days we also use credit cards (31)..... than we use cash, so it is very easy to pay for whatever we want to buy over the internet. But my mum says that these changes in our shopping habits have caused many shops on our high streets to close down.

These days you can see empty shops everywhere, while in the (32)..... most shops were busy and successful.

The Real Junk Food Project

by Sandra Manville

As I was looking for environmentally-friendly projects for the school paper, I found out about The Real Junk Food Project whose aim is to reduce the UK's huge amount of food waste, which is the highest in Europe. The UK, despite not having the largest population of a European country, throws away almost two million tonnes worth of food every year, more than even Germany, which comes in second despite having a larger population. Every year, 1.3 billion tonnes of food are thrown away while some 800 million people across the planet are dying from lack of food. This is terrible.

The Real Junk Food Project is against the waste of food that has gone past its sell-by date. Just because food has reached the end of life on the supermarket shelf, it does not mean that it cannot be eaten, as supermarkets put dates that run out days before the food becomes dangerous to eat. But supermarkets are only interested in making money and keeping fresh food coming to their shelves, not unnecessary waste.

The organisation, which collects the food from supermarkets, serves it as tasty meals to people in their cafes. Customers, in return, can pay as much as they want for it, or even nothing at all. Diners can then even volunteer in return for a meal. In this way, the organisation can provide for those who are poor or live on the street; a great social service.

There are now many more cafes than the original one which started in Leeds: one hundred and twenty seven to be exact, and growing fast, in seven countries all over the world. The Leeds one alone, provides 35,000 people with meals every week. Along with the cafes, supermarket-style shops have opened, where you also pay or not, according to your ability.

For the main supermarkets this has nothing but advantages. They have to pay anyway to get rid of food waste, so the Junk Food Project is in fact doing them a favour, while at the same time, promoting them as more environmentally friendly by giving their waste food away.

11. What is The Real Junk Food hoping to achieve?

- A. make the UK produce less pollution than Germany
- B. make Europe produce less food than the UK
- C. stop the UK from throwing away so much food
- D. reduce the amount of food the UK produces

12. What does Sandra get most upset about?

- A. the fact that The Real Junk Food Project is not well-known
- B. the amount of waste in Germany
- C. the amount of food wasted in Europe
- D. the fact that some people don't have food

13. What does Sandra say about supermarkets?

- A. They don't care about poor people.
- B. They don't like wasting food.
- C. They sometimes sell out-of-date food.
- D. They do not avoid food waste.

14. What does Sandra say about the cafes?

- A. They are run by volunteers wanting to help the poor.
- B. They are doing something valuable.
- C. They should only feed those who can't pay.
- D. The food does not taste as good as fresh products.

15. What would Sandra text a friend about The Real Junk Food Project?

A. I found out about a really cool way to eat for free when we go out.

B. We could arrange to volunteer in a cafe whenever we have some free time to help.

C. I tried eating at one of the The Real Junk Food project's cafes but I wouldn't recommend it.

D. It's a great idea but, unfortunately, it is not supported by many people.

Running a Marathon

by Sam Johnson

I have recently decided that I want to train in order to run a full marathon when I finish school. I think what made me want this so much is the fact that it is not just a test of the body but a test of the mind too. That's why, I think most people can get a lot out of running marathons, even if it's not the full 42.195 kilometres. I truly believe we are all natural athletes. 16 ☐ There are no more races and games to be won and no more prizes to feel that it is worth making the effort. So I guess that some people would lose their interest in competing, which is so sad, as they are missing out on a wonderful experience. Anyway, that won't be the case for me.

Actually, it has not always been my ambition to run, believe it or not. 17 ☐ It all started with wanting to run faster and longer than two fifty-year-old ladies. Last year, my mum called me on a Monday afternoon to tell me that she and her running friend were going to run a half-marathon. 18 ☐ Yes, you guessed it! I immediately volunteered myself for the run without even knowing what the length of a half-marathon was! But I thought that if my mum thought she could do it, then for me it would be easy! I was fourteen at the time, so how hard could it be? As you understand, I had no idea how much effort I would have to put into it.

19 ☐ However, it was not as I imagined. I was exhausted! By the time I got to the finish line, I promised myself that it was my first and last marathon. I hated every kilometre of it! 20 ☐ And now I don't think I could live without the focus, the challenge and that awesome feeling of finally crossing the finish line. What changed my mind? I still don't know but I am now more ambitious than ever.

- A. How was I to know that it was the beginning of a way of life?
- B. I didn't grow up dreaming of the challenge of long distance running.
- C. A marathon is a race which started in Ancient Greece.
- D. Luckily, I did manage it.
- E. However, after school we are no longer made to do sport.
- F. When I was a kid, I would run everywhere, at top speed!
- G. I was too tired to finish, and my legs and feet hurt so much!
- H. At that point, I must have had a moment of madness.

TALKS

A. Food that is out of this world

Have you ever wondered how you cook food in outer space? Learn the secrets of cooking in space using only basic equipment and find out how a limited diet can be made more interesting. You can also try out recipes cooked for you live by our science experts on stage. You can even try making space food, yourself!

B. Medicine and the modern world

We think that printers are just for printing out information. But they are already used to print body parts and may one day print human hearts! In addition, pills will become a thing of the past soon, as we become better at finding ways to help the body recover from illness by itself. Find out how modern medicine is changing.

C. The natural environment and us

Rainforests are fast disappearing but do we ever think about what this means to us? When we destroy plants and trees, it causes climate change. In addition, we lose plants that could be used for medicine and to cure illnesses. In this talk today, you will learn how you can help before it is too late for future generations!

D. Science in our world

In this family-friendly talk for all ages, learn how we use science and technology in our everyday lives. The talk will be followed by a 'make and take' session, where children will learn the science of flight, then make kites to take home with them. Booking in advance is essential for this very popular, free event.

E. Fashion in the future

Fashion is always changing and so are the materials used to create it. In the future, we will use technology to copy animals and plants to make materials that last longer and which can keep in the warm, or keep out the cold! After the talk, you can speak to the experts and have a free drink!

F. Understanding the weather

Developments in computer programmes have made weather forecasts more accurate, but there is still a lot of work to be done. We will bring you the latest in technologies for creating weather forecasts and also describe how these have developed from past technologies. After the talk, historical weather equipment will be on display. You will also be able to watch old recordings from TV and news programmes.

G. Technology and toys

You can never start too young, learning about science. Young minds need to explore new ideas and become creative in finding solutions if we are to produce great scientists. Come and find out about creative play and technology and learn how you can encourage your children to become the scientists of the future. Who knows... your child may be the next Einstein!

H. Comedy and Science

Come along and enjoy a laughter-filled talk on scientific topics. Learn how scientists first discovered medicines and technologies in very unusual ways. You can then enter a fun quiz at the end of the talk to win a chemistry set or a family day out at the Science Museum, with free entry to all displays and talks!

PART 3 Questions 11-15

For each question, choose the correct answer.

Kids for Climate

by Liz Meyers

I read at school that scientists studying the effects of climate change have warned that we need to make huge changes to the way that we live our lives in order to deal with global warming. The goal was to stop the world's temperature from rising more than 1.5 degrees Celsius. However, we are nowhere near to doing this, and on top of that, scientists suggest that we are moving towards a 3-degree increase.

Since governments have done very little to deal with the problem, the younger generation, who are the ones who will have to deal with the results in the future, have decided to take the lead. Inspired by a 16-year-old Swedish girl, Greta Thunberg, who refused to go to school to draw attention to climate change, students from all around the world walk out of school to make world leaders pay attention and get public support. Now school walkouts for the climate are happening everywhere.

It had to happen. Extreme weather is increasing. Floods and forest fires are normal headline news nowadays. Extreme heat is becoming more common in countries that once had completely different climates. The argument of these young people missing their lessons is that global warming cannot be ignored any longer. This is the biggest crisis we have ever faced. It is time to take responsibility.

Scientists have given the figures, now the young generation are taking those figures and telling their governments to take action. They argue that there is no point in going to school because there is no future.

If the world continues as if nothing is happening and governments do not set targets that will make the difference, it will be the young generation who will live through their failure. Those who are under 20 now could be around to see 2080, and be living in a world that has warmed by up to 4 degrees Celsius. Rivers would flood, storms would destroy towns and cities by the sea, melting ice would cause sea levels to rise. Thousands of scientists from around the world support the children saying that if we take action now, and that means all of us, we might be able to stop the rise in temperature.

11. What are scientists saying about climate change?
  - A. It's not really happening as fast as we feared.
  - B. Temperatures will only rise by 1.5 degrees.
  - C. Original predictions were wrong.
  - D. We have reached a rise of 3 degrees already.
12. The first thing Greta Thunberg did was to
  - A. miss lessons to get a reaction.
  - B. become the leader of the young generation.
  - C. ask other children to help her.
  - D. ask the local government for support.
13. What does Liz think about the reaction to climate change?
  - A. There is no longer any other solution.
  - B. Everybody is finally taking responsibility.
  - C. The children should not be missing school.
  - D. The younger generation cannot achieve much.
14. What will happen in the future if we continue to ignore the problem?
  - A. The planet will have become 4°C warmer in less than 20 years.
  - B. The effects of global warming will be even worse.
  - C. All cities will be destroyed by bad weather.
  - D. Governments will lose interest in global warming.
15. How would Liz describe the movement started by Greta Thunberg?

A. Everybody is stopping work to discuss climate change.	B. Everyone is accepting that temperatures will reach no more than 3°C higher.
C. Younger people are no longer waiting for governments to act on climate change.	D. Young people are not attending school anymore because there is no reason to.

PART 4 Questions 16-20

Five sentences have been removed from the text below. For each question, choose the correct answer.
There are three extra sentences which you do not need to use.

A change in attitude

by Scott Peterson

It's difficult to remember exactly when I started playing computer games. Even from an early age, I was always looking at a computer screen. Sometimes I was playing games, and other times I was spending time on the internet. My mum used to joke that I spent more time on the computer than speaking to her! 16

At first, my parents were keen for me to develop my computer skills. 17  You use them at school for projects and at work when you're an adult. So my parents thought the earlier I started using them, the better.

Soon they began to think differently, however. What first started as a hobby or interest soon began to become much more than that. I started to spend more and more time playing games and less time communicating with my parents and friends. And if that wasn't bad enough, it wasn't long before I began to miss lessons just to play on my computer.

18  My health began to suffer. Because I was indoors all day, I wasn't exercising. 19  Quite often I would get colds and feel unwell most of the time. My parents noticed this and decided to do something about it. They told me that if I didn't stop spending so much time on my computer, they would take it away from me!

I was really upset at first. 20  I listened to them and slowly began to spend less time on my computer and more time socialising with friends. As a result, I became much happier and now regret spending so much time in the past playing on my computer! I hope that more teenagers will be able to understand how bad this is for them and decide to take up a sport or go out with friends instead.

- A. Then, things got much worse.
- B. I'm really pleased that he bought me a new computer.
- C. They did their best to try and persuade me.
- D. Then, I began to realise my parents were right.
- E. I joined a gym immediately.
- F. After all, computers are essential for everyday life.
- G. And I suppose that was true at the time.
- H. This lack of exercise meant that I began to get ill.

My ..... is ..... than me and

Phase 2 General questions

A. Things you do

When you talk about how often you do something, you can use the adverbs 'always', 'usually', 'normally', 'generally',
'sometimes', 'often' and 'never'.

Look at the sentences below. Rewrite them, using the example to help you, with a suitable adverb.

e.g. I play basketball twice a week.
I sometimes go swimming in the local pool.

1. I take the bus to school every day.

I ..... walk to school.

I ..... use my smart phone.

NOTE: Adverbs that tell someone how often you do something usually go before the main verb, except when it is the verb 'be' e.g. I am always late for lessons. I always go home on foot.

B. Talking about someone you like

When you are asked who your favourite teacher, friend, family member is, you need to think why you like them. The first thing you can do is think of words that describe their character.
Secondly, you might want to say what you do together, or how they help or influence you in a positive way.

Useful Vocabulary

friendly, helpful, amusing, pleasant, brave, confident, generous, gentle, intelligent, reliable, kind, honest

Now complete the sentences using a suitable word from the adjectives

Part 2

Describing a photo: playing sport / practising a skill

1 Talking about a person / what someone looks like

Photo 1A

When you are not sure about something, you can use words like 'maybe' 'possibly' 'could/might be' to describe someone or something. You can then say why you guessed some information about the person.

eg. I can see people playing a ball game. Maybe they are a family. It might possibly be the first time that the young boy has played this game. The parents might be teaching the young boy how to play with the ball.

Note: Use 'maybe', 'possibly' at the beginning of a sentence and 'could', 'might', and 'may' after a pronoun/noun.

e.g. The man might be the child's father. / Possibly the man is the child's father.

Complete the sentences below, using words like 'maybe', 'possibly', 'could/might be' to show you are not sure.

I can see a man and a woman and two children. .... the man is quite young but not middle-aged; he also looks slim and fit. The young child is ..... between 4 and 5 years old. .... it is the first time he has tried to play this game. They are both wearing shorts and a T-shirt. .... the man is the child's father as they look like a family having a fun time together. The boy in the background ..... the boy's brother.

Photo 1B

In this photo you have to guess the age of the person in the photo, as you cannot see their face.

Complete the sentences below, using words like 'maybe', 'possibly', 'could/might be' to show you are not sure.

The person playing the piano is ..... a teenager or a young woman. She ..... having a lesson or just practising on her own. .... she is playing to an audience that we can't see in the picture.

2 Talking about a place/things you can see

3 Other

Describe what the person/people is/are wearing/holding, what you think they are doing and why you think this. Describe the weather.

Photo 1A

clothes: colourful shorts and T-shirts & trainers, woman wearing sunglasses activity: playing a ball game on a special piece of ground, could be sand or grass basketball/playing a sport, rock climbing, dancing, walking the dog, can be more sociable for people to do together swimming, cooking, going to the gym are not really activities that you can enjoy doing with a group of friends although you could do

Making a suggestion

Use the phrases below and say why an activity is suitable/unsuitable.

They could try ..... because .....
I think they should try ..... as .....
I don't think ..... is a good idea because .....

Reaching a final decision

At the end, you need to say why one idea is the best. Think of reasons why some of the activities which are suitable may not be the best.

Why some activities are not so good

rock climbing: dangerous, only a few places you can do it, harder to do in a big group, some people might not be fit enough, need good weather swimming: might be a bit boring in a pool, not really a group activity

Now, using the same word order of adjectives in the table, rewrite the sentence pairs below, so they are correct.

.....

- b. She is a/an young / short / attractive girl.

.....

2. a. She has black / straight / long hair.

.....

- b. She has healthy / nice / long hair.

.....

Note C: English sounds better when you do not use 'he/she', 'it' is again and again. It is better to use these pronouns once, followed by different adjectives.

Do not use more than three adjectives together, as this will not sound natural.

2 Talking about a place/things you can see*Photo 1A

indoors: classroom, big table, art equipment, pictures on wall, lots of people, students, teacher, bookcase

Giving more details: They might be + activity that's why ...

TEST 2

Part 2*Describing a photo: Getting ready for a show / Learning how to do something*1 Talking about a person / what someone looks like*Photo 1A - 1B

You need to describe what the people look like (face, body, hair) and any other details (e.g. condition, age, origin).

Look at pictures 1A and 1B. Circle the correct word in each word group, so that it describes the people you see.

Note A: The adjective 'beautiful' is mostly used to describe a woman/girl/child and 'handsome' is usually used to describe a man or boy. However, 'attractive' can be used to describe anyone, of any age. Also, the verb 'be' is used before all adjectives in the table below. It is not used for adjectives to describe hair length and type.

e.g. She is young and has shoulder-length, straight hair.

However, 'fair' and 'dark' can have 'be' or the verb 'have' before them. e.g. She has fair hair. / She is fair.

Now look at the table and circle the correct word in each group that describes the people in photo 1A and then do the same for photo 1B.

opinion	size	condition	age	origin beautiful	tall	healthy	young	European attractive	short	fit	teenage	American handsome	fat		middle-aged	African thin		elderly	Asian slim

Note B: We can use words like 'a bit', 'quite' and 'very' before some adjectives to make them stronger ('very') or not so strong ('a bit', 'quite').

'quite' can be used before all the adjectives in the table above, except for 'middle-aged' & 'teenage' and for adjectives that describe nationality/origin.

'a bit' is used before adjectives such as the following: fat/thin, short/long e.g. He is a bit short.

If we want to say politely that something isn't true, we can use 'not very' instead of 'quite'. e.g. He isn't very attractive.
